Red Hostage Trick Kills GI

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — U. S. troops using tear gas, high explosives and flame throwers today cleared out a massive granite cave fortress where North Vietnamese soldiers had held women and children hostages and murdered an American officer when he tried to save the civilians.

The cave-clearing operation took place in the Bong Son area in the Central Highlands.

When soldiers first ran onto the huge cave complex, they heard voices of women and children inside one of the dark, dank tunnel mouths.

The commander of one of the infantry companies went up to the mouth of the cave and tried to talk the civilians into coming out.

First Lt. Jerry Orenstein, 23, of New York City, said a North Vietnamese soldier pushed a woman and child out of the tunnel, using them as a shield. The commander, a captain, lowered his gun—and the North Vietnamese shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

The cave was blown up with explosives.

One GI estimated that more than 100 Communists had been sealed up in the cave.

The troops have been using tear gas as much as possible to clean out the caves. But its effectiveness is limited because the gas seeps out of holes and cracks in the complex.

One of the men who does this is S-Sgt. Harry Dixson, 27, of Fort Worth, Tex. He said in one instance the men were forced to use a flame thrower, after being fired upon.

U. S. Marines engaged an estimated battalion of Viet Cong — perhaps 500 men — in daylong skirmishing in the Ky Lam River Valley southwest of Da Nang today and reported killing 57, while suffering moderate casualties.

U.S. B-52 bombers struck 32 miles north of Saigon in the Iron Triangle campaign and, in two other raids, pounded Communist positions on the central coast of South Vietnam.

Bad weather again curtailed air strikes at North Vietnam.

The U.S. Command said 123 Americans were killed and 716 were wounded last week compared with 144 killed and 1,004 wounded during the previous week. Vietnamese headquarters reported 340 government soldiers killed last week, 143 more than the 197 reported killed the week before.

Off the North Vietnamese Coast, three U. S. destroyers and a Navy Skyraider plane destroyed or damaged 25 Communist cargo boats.

Senator Protests Hamstringing Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., protested today that U.S. airpower in the Vietnam war is being crippled and downgraded by questionable target restrictions.

"Most people do not understand why the application of this arm of our over-all military strength is subjected to fluctuating political decisions to a point never known in military history," Symington said in a Senate speech.

The address came on the heels of word from informed sources that the Johnson administration has barred American pilots from flying within five miles of the center of Hanoi, but Symington did not discuss that particular development.

U.S. pilots are prohibited from attacking enemy airfields and ships loaded with military supplies, Symington said, and then directed to bomb targets in the jungles.

The senator said the enemy has introduced sophisticated ground and air defenses that are taking an increasing toll of U.S. pilots and aircraft.

Symington quoted one pilot as saying:

"I am a regular officer and therefore expect to risk my life as part of my job. But why should I do it several times a week on long missions, in a multimillion-dollar airplane so as to knock out an empty barracks or an empty bus, or a buffalo pulling an irrigation wheel in a rice paddy." This pilot was later killed on his 77th mission over North Vietnam while attacking one truck.

Informants said yesterday the new restrictions apparently were issued in response to the widely published reports of civilian bombing casualties stemming from U.S. attacks in North Vietnam.

Under the new restrictions, sources said, pilots will be permitted to fly within five miles of the city only if the overflight occurs during air-to-air combat with enemy fighters.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the war in Vietnam is nearing a significant turning point: The Viet Cong apparently are running out of volunteers in South Vietnam and may be forced to rely more on the North for future fighting men.

McNamara said the allied war efforts were so successful last year that "during the last half of 1966, the Viet Cong appear to have lost about as many men as they were able to infiltrate from North Vietnam and recruit in South Vietnam."

This emerged as a highlight of a lengthy position paper McNamara gave congressmen Monday shortly before he began three days of testimony on the administration's request for a $12.3-billion supplemental appropriation to help finance the war through June.

Ky Returns To Crisis On Aide Ouster

SAIGON (UPI) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky flew home today from his goodwill tour of Australia and New Zealand to cope with the threat of another government crisis over his reported ouster of Deputy Premier Nguyen Huu Co.

Ky skirted questions about Co on his arrival but pledged a "continuing effort" to eliminate corruption in his government.

Co, while touring Formosa, was ordered not to return to Vietnam. He flew to Hong Kong yesterday and went into seclusion at a hotel.

Reliable sources said Ky, with the approval of the ruling military directorate, warned Co that if he tried to return he would be taken before a military tribunal on corruption charges.

Co denied he was guilty of corruption. He said he stopped over in Hong Kong on the way back to Saigon from Taipei because he was "sick" and needed a rest. Later, he said he was "waiting orders from Saigon."

But what happens to Co—third ranking man in the government—apparently has not yet been decided.

But Ky left little doubt that Co would not be returning, at

Market Jumps As Interest Cut By Nation's Second Largest Bank

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chase Manhattan Bank said today it is cutting its prime rate on business loans to 5.5 per cent from 6 per cent, effective tomorrow. This is the rate charged to borrowers of the highest credit standing.

Chase, the nation's second largest bank, is the first major bank to reduce the rate.

Generally, such an action by a bank of Chase's size spreads throughout the banking community.

The rate went up three times last year as credit tightened. It reached 6 per cent in August.

Chase Chairman George Champion and President David Rockefeller said that "last September, we said that Chase would be especially alert to the possibility of downward adjustments in its lending rates as promptly as competitive and market conditions permitted.

"While loan demand is still strong, it is less so than it was a year ago. In view of present money market conditions, we believe that a reduction in our basic lending charge is appropriate."

Prices on the stock market rose immediately with the announcement.

In London, Britain cut interest rates. The Bank of England's lending rate dropped from 7 to 6.5 percent.

Three other smaller eastern and midwest U.S. banks preceded Chase in slicing the rate.

Some other major banks in the key New York money market said they were studying the Chase announcement.

Trial Nears Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony has concluded in Bobby Baker's trial and the federal court jury was scheduled to start deliberating the fate of the former Senate aide this weekend.

Mrs. Rockefeller Has Second Child

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, wife of the governor of New York, gave birth today to a six-pound, two-ounce baby boy at Lying-In Hospital. Both Mrs. Rockefeller and son were reported doing well.

The child, not yet named, is the couple's second son. Their first, Nelson Jr., was born May 30, 1964.

Pilot, Cadet Die In Hamilton Jet

Witness To Crash Sought

An Air Force major and a student were killed about 2:15 p.m. yesterday when a Hamilton Air Force Base T-33 trainer plane crashed into San Pablo Bay near the mouth of the Petaluma River.

Their bodies were recovered from the bay by a Coast Guard helicopter.

Victims were Maj. Kenneth W. Winter, 35, of San Francisco, the pilot and a professor in the Air Force Reserve training program at San Francisco State College, and Carl J. Skaug, 22, a San Francisco State College Air Force ROTC cadet of Rio Linda, Sacramento County.

STORIES CONFLICT

Their bodies were taken to Travis Air Force Base for autopsy.

There were some discrepancies in the accounts from Hamilton Air Force Base and the Coast Guard about the sequence of events.

Safety officials at Hamilton asked that any eye witness to the crash communicate with them.

The last message from the plane received at Hamilton was at 2:08 p.m. asking for landing instructions, according to base officials. The craft, belonging to the 78th Fighter Wing, had taken off at 1:32 p.m. on a routine training mission.

CRASH REPORTED

At 2:20 p.m., Bernard de Repentigny of 185 Los Ranchitos Road, Los Ranchitos, who was flying a Beachcraft single-engine plane, radioed that he saw a plane go into the water. This signal was heard both by the tower at Hamilton and a Coast Guard helicopter which was on the Hamilton runway.

The Coast Guard reported that the pilot of a San Francisco-Oakland helicopter heard the pilot of the T-33 report he was going into the water above five miles east of the runway at Hamilton. This message was relayed by the Coast Guard at 2:24 p.m.

The Coast Guard 'copter took off from Hamilton with A/1C Michael Donegan and A/1C Laverne Kellerman, pararescue men of the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron, aboard. They recovered the bodies, both thrown clear of the wreckage.

INQUIRY SET

Hamilton officials said inquiry into the cause of the crash will begin as soon as the wreckage is recovered.

Winters, a native of Tyler, Tex., was assistant professor of aerospace studies in the San Francisco State College ROTC program. He had been in the service since 1952, and logged 3,350 hours of flying time.

He was married and the father of two daughters.

Another Fatality In Novato Area

A 44-year-old El Cerrito man was killed on Highway 101 yesterday, the third traffic fatality this month on the freeway in the Novato area.

Killed was Ralph Clifford Vaughan, a clerk for Western Pacific Railroad and father of three children.

Vaughan was struck, according to County Coroner Donovan O. Cooke, when he stepped from a stopped car into the path of another southbound car. The accident happened about 6:15 p. m. across from the Novato Lodge entrance road.

The California Highway Patrol said Vaughan was riding in a car driven by Donald Gordon Hull, 47, of Richmond, which collided with one driven by Richard Bruce Clark, 32, of Palo Alto. Hull's car landed on the center divider, the patrol said, and Hull got out to exchange information with Clark.

Vaughan also got out. He was struck by a car driven by Pauline Elizabeth Van Nostrand, 63, of Oakmont, a retirement community near Santa Rosa. The patrol said Mrs. Van Nostrand estimated her speed at about 55 miles per hour.

A witness, identified by the patrol only as Mr. Langgons of Ukiah, told officers he saw a man silhouetted in the lights of the Van Nostrand car, then saw the car fishtail as if breaking to avoid the man.

Vaughan was dead on arrival at Novato General Hospital.

He was the seventh traffic fatality in the county this year, compared to two by the same date last year.

His death was similar to that of Larry Vern Buckingham, 27-year-old Novato father of three, killed Jan. 13 when he stepped into the path of a car while trying to flag down a Greyhound bus north of the Black Point cutoff.

The other fatality on the Novato area stretch of freeway occurred Jan. 23, when a car driven by Cynthia Sue Bailey, 19, of San Angelo, Tex., ran off the highway and hit a tree a mile south of the Marin-Sonoma County line. Her three-week-old son survived the crash.

Vaughn, whose body was taken to the Redwood Chapel in Novato, is survived by his wife, Julie Mary Vaughn; two daughters, Mrs. Gween Steegen and Deborah, 18, and a son, Kirk, 10.

It's Raining Again And More Forecast

The rain which began falling on Marin County this morning will continue through tomorrow, the United States Weather Bureau predicted.

In San Rafael, .4 of an inch of rain had fallen by noon today.

Mill Valley, a crisis was reported developing at the end of Fairway Drive, where a $50,000 house was threatened by a slide which began encroaching on the street Friday. The slide was coming from the hill across the street from the Frank J. Levy home at 81 Fairway.

In Fairfax, Mrs. Welden P. Harris reported that her six-member family and nine other families are still cut off by a slide which washed out Upper Cypress Drive on Saturday.

The road is completely gone and their cars are grounded at home. Food and other supplies to be carried in afoot, she said.

Fairfax City Administrator David J. Sumbardo said $18,800 in public damage and $20,000 in private home damage has been reported in his city as result of the storm, and as-yet-unreported private damage could bring the total to $60,000.

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, who estimated damage in unincorporated areas could run between $350,000 and $500,000, said county firemen

Pro-Mao Troops Reported Controling Key Provinces

HONG KONG (UPI)—Radio reports from Red China today said supporters of Mao Tse-tung seized control of two important provinces and used army troops to help keep power in the heart of Manchuria.

The broadcasts monitored in Hong Kong, if true, indicated the strife between supporters and opponents of the Communist Party chairman had spread further through the country.

Radio Peking, which is controlled by Mao, said he had called out the 3-million man army to back his purge. But other radio reports and sources said there was political dissension in the army as well as among peasants and workers.

A broadcast from Kiangsi Radio said pro-Mao forces seized control of the party apparatus and the provincial government in Kiangsi in east central China. The broadcast said the Maoists took control at 4 p.m. (3 a.m. EST).

The broadcast said "all

County Loses Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles County must pay an estimated $250,000 in fringe benefits withheld from social workers after they went on strike last summer in a salary dispute.

Superior Court Judge Bernard S. Jefferson, in ruling yesterday that the benefits must be paid, rejected the county's argument that it is illegal for public employees to strike in absence of authorization by the legislature.

The decision was a victory for AFL-CIO Social Workers Local 535. But the local lost its argument on special bonuses.

About 1,980 social workers went on strike last June 2 when the Board of Supervisors rescinded an 11 per cent salary increase approved by the supervisors a week earlier. The strike lasted about two weeks.

Peking Complains

MOSCOW (AP)—The Chinese Embassy has delivered "a sharp and decisive protest" to the Soviet Foreign Ministry accusing Soviet police of beating Chinese students in Red Square yesterday, a Chinese spokesman said today.

The Chinese news agency reported that Soviet police attacked the students as they sought to leave a wreath at Stalin's grave and sing the Internationale.

The Soviet foreign ministry said the Chinese assertions were "unpardonable lies."

Hoffa Appeals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has asked the Supreme Court to review his fraud and conspiracy conviction.

Attorneys claim Hoffa did not get a fair trial in Chicago in 1964 because the jury was able to see what they called prejudicial newspaper and magazine publicity.

Painting Recovered

CHICAGO (AP) — A $350,000-painting by Italian Renaissance artist Giovanni Bellini was recovered by FBI agents yesterday, more than a year after it was stolen from St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind. Joseph A. Riso, 28, of River Grove, Ill., was charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods.

A REWARD FOR HER SUBWAY RESCUE

Isabella Mauri, a 21-year-old blind secretary, kisses New York Police Capt. Paul Glaser, after he and two other men rescued her after she fell to the subway tracks during today's morning rush hour. Sierra Club Attacks Redwood Site Logging

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sierra Club officers say they are taking a last ditch stand against the cutting of redwood trees in Humboldt and Del Norte counties.

Dr. Edgar Wayburn, club vice president, said yesterday that cutting "is proceeding daily, even within areas that have been proposed for national park status."

The conservationists' club took a full page advertisement in several California papers in which it pleaded for the preservation of 90,000 acres of the giant trees in the two counties.

Wayburn said the proposed park consists of a 22-mile long belt of virgin redwoods in the Redwood Creek-Prairie Creek areas near the lumbering seacoast town of Orick.

The ad contained letters to Gov. Ronald Reagan, Arcata Redwood Co. and the Georgia-Pacific Corp. and to Wayburn himself. The ad asked that conservationists clip letters from the papers and mail them to addressees.

Wayburn said the two lumbering firms own "most of the virgin redwood forests within the proposed park areas."

Another ad published last year caused the Internal Revenue Service to rule that contributions to the club are no longer tax exempt. The IRS said the club was lobbying against legislation for proposed dams in the Grand Canyon.

The club is appealing the IRS ruling.

Smog Counter With Memory Is Developed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Smokestacks illegally polluting the air at night will now have to contend with a smog "geiger counter."

Two engineers have developed a technique which can identify and detect air pollutants at night, at long distances, said California Institute of Technology Professor J. J. Morgan, yesterday.

The sensing instrument can also uncover previously unsuspected sources of pollution. It is called an infrared interference spectrometer and is mounted on an 8-inch reflecting telescope. It scans the atmosphere and registers information into a built-in computer. Thus the instrument has a memory and can compare a given area with previous readings.

Comedian's Son To Be Married

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Lewis, oldest son of comedian Jerry Lewis, will be married to a Filipino girl, his mother said last night.

Gary, 21, was drafted into the Army early this month. He has headed a musical unit called Gary and the Playboys.

Reports from Manila said the wedding will take place March 5 in Los Angeles. The bride-to-be is Sara Jane (Jinky) Suzara, whose father is captain of the port of Manila.

Teachers Union Against Tuition

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Unalterable opposition to tuition at the state's public colleges and universities has been expressed by the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO.

Thomas L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer, said yesterday in an open letter to University of California regents that tuition "would hit families earning less than $10,000 a year hardest."

20-Year-Old Will Receive The Navy Cross

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Cpl. Claude LeBas, a Canadian citizen who joined the U.S. Marine Corps "to find out what war is about," will receive the nation's second highest medal for heroism in Vietnam combat, it was announced yesterday at Camp Pendleton.

LeBas, 20, of Long Beach, will be presented the Navy Cross for action during "Operation Orange" near Da Nang last April.

LeBas, half his platoon wiped out by Viet Cong fire, grabbed a rocket launcher and knocked out two enemy mortars. Then he recovered a machine gun to set up a base of fire.

"We were outnumbered six to one," he said. "We held them off for two days before reinforcements arrived."

Rasnick Trial Ends With A Hung Jury

CAMP PENDLETON, Jurors disagreed yesterday and a mistrial was declared in the case of Ben Rasnick, charged with slaying San Francisco AFL-CIO Painters Union leader Dow Wilson.

The jury was ruled hopelessly deadlocked a few hours after a grand jury in Oakland indicted Rasnick and two others in the killing of another Painters Union official.

The nine-women, three-men jury trying Rasnick for the April 5 shotgun assassination of Wilson here reported to Superior Court Judge Robert J. Drewes at 9:45 p.m. that it could not reach a verdict.

Judge Drewes declared a mistrial and set Feb. 23rd for scheduling a new trial.

Jurors stood seven to five for acquittal. They had been deliberating since 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Rasnick, a Painters Union International official in Oakland, was accused of murder in the May 7 shotgun death of Lloyd Green of Hayward in the Alameda County Grand Jury indictment returned earlier in the day.

Named with Rasnick in the indictment were Sacramento painting contractors Norman Call and Max Ward. Both men have been convicted of murder in Wilson's death.

Call turned state's witness after his conviction and figured in the conviction of Ward and in both murder indictments against Rasnick.

Poverty War Fund Freed For Salaries

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Federal War on Poverty money in Marin, long restricted, has been freed for payment for study center workers for salaries for the past two months, and the non-profit Economic Opportunity Council appears to have clearance to take over the war on poverty from the county.

Donald Sanford, administrative assistant in the county Social Services Department who serves as coordinator for war on poverty, reported there were no problems in the transfer from county to council operation slated for Wednesday.

Lack of federal clearance for forced the county to continue administration through this month.

Sanford reported that the regional office of economic opportunity freed $6,000 to pay the 11-member staff of the study center for December and January. In addition, the regional office said that $30,000 unspent could be applied to the new budget year which starts Wednesday.

Directors of the council, meeting last night, struggled with the budget for the coming fiscal year, seeking ways to cut 12 per cet from the proposed $134,000 application. War on poverty program throughout the nation are being reduced by 12 per cent.

Directors agreed to keep the proposed $12,000 annual salary for the executive director and $8,400 for the area director, but ordered consolidation of receptionist and bookkeeper positions into one.

The finance committee was asked to study areas where further cuts could be made and report Feb. 8.

Sanford said there is a chance the federal government will require 20 rather than 10 per cent local support starting July 1. But with the change, the government would allow consideration of volunteer work in lieu of local money, he said.

The radio in Hupei Province in the Wuhan district of central China said the provincial and municipal governments had been taken over by Maoists.

The radio, coming out full-blast for Mao, accused former "powerholders" of plotting to set up an independent kingdom in the area.

Radio broadcasts reported turmoil in Heilungkiang, the northernmost province which is a part of Manchuria.

A "crisis" was declared.

A broadcast from Radio Peking's central broadcast network said pro-Mao forces in Heilungkiang issued a 10-point proclamation. There were no specifics.

But there were hints from the radio that Mao's opponents were trying to breakup agricultural collective farms in the province.

Army troops had been called out in Harbin, the major food processing city of Manchuria and Heilunokiang's capital, to put down a demonstration by an anti-Mao organization called "the Dragon Army." This disclosure came from Mao-controlled radios.

Radio Peking said the 73-year-old Mao was determined to force a showdown. By its own admission, as in the reports from Harbin, there was strong and determined opposition. But the radio stressed the army was being used by Mao—an indication it was loyal to him.

School Paper Banning Came From Class

High Times, county-wide high school paper, was banned at Novato High School at the request of the school's journalism class, Principal Robert Wisgerhof claimed today.

However, Wisgerhof indicated he would have banned campus distribution of the paper anyway, "because it is not our policy to distribute outside throwaways on our campus."

"I discussed it with the editor of our school paper and he discussed it with the journalism class and we all decided we did not wish to participate because we felt it would compete with our own school paper," Wisgerhof said.

The principal said High Times was distributed twice on campus before he ordered it stopped. He said he read first issues of the paper carefully and found "nothing objectionable when I was reading it."

Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant in the Tamalpais High School District, said the first three issues of the paper were under his editorial direction. Thereafter students were given free reign, he said, with two student editors in charge of each issue.

Wisgerhof called it "inconceivable that a representative of Chester Carlisle in the Tamalpais High School District would walk away and simply turn it over to the youngsters."

The paper has also been banned at Marin Catholic High School, where Very Rev. Edward M. Dullea, school principal, called it a "sounding board for discontents."

Anita C. Strom, member of the San Rafael Board of Education, attacked the paper Tuesday night, saying it "fans the flames of rabble rousing." She asked that it be banned or brought under district control. Neumeier called this "an attempt at censorship" and said the articles are "a true reflection of the thinking of kids today."

He said that when the paper started, all high schools in the county, with the exception of 3-R School, were contacted and that Tamalpais, Novato, San Rafael Districts and Marin Catholic, Katharine Branson and San Domenico schools agreed to participate.

To date, Marin Catholic and Novato high schools are the only drop-outs.

The paper is printed and distributed by the Pacific Sun, a weekly newspaper in San Rafael, which receives the advertising revenue from it.

Rosenblad Is The Winner Of Election

Charles Rosenblad has been declared elected San Rafael High School student body president for the spring semester.

The issue became involved after a run-off was held Monday between Rosenblad and David Brown. Neither got a majority in the election last week because of votes cast for a write-in candidate, Patti Rubenstein.

The school then held up announcement of the run-off winner because a student, Don Markey, lodged a complaint with the student court charging Miss Rubenstein with illegal campaigning.

If the complaint had been allowed, the run-off would have been voided. Since the school has a policy against announcing vote tallies, scarcely anyone knew who got the highest vote in the initial election, so students were speculating as to who had won election.

However, the student court ruled the charge of illegal campaigning against Miss Rubenstein was without foundation. Angelo Colombo, assistant dean of students, reported today. This let the run-off stand, and finally a winner was announced: Rosenblad.

In San Rafael Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles reported more slides developing in various parts of the city.

San Anselmo Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell said he does not think continued rain on the Red Hill slide area, where four apratment houses were demolished Saturday, poses a threat unless the rain is heavy enough to saturate the slide debris, causing a mud flow.

Plans to cover the area with plastic have been abandoned because the entire hill would have to be covered to keep out the water, he said.

Leitzell blamed a man-made dam of wooden planks and sheet metal in Sleepy Hollow Creek for most of the flooding in the Morningside Court area of San Anselmo.

At one point, Ky said:

Poverty War Fund Freed For Salaries

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Federal War on Poverty money in Marin, long restricted, has been freed for payment for study center workers for salaries for the past two months, and the non-profit Economic Opportunity Council appears to have clearance to take over the war on poverty from the county.

least for some time. There were reports the cabinet was considering allowing Co to return to Saigon for a few days —long enough to clear up a few personal matters before leaving for another post such as an ambassadorship.

At one point, Ky said:

"We ourselves are determined to accept sacrifices. Let us leave our pettiness in order that we can clean up our ranks, both militarily and in the administration. If we indulge in corruption, then our friends will leave us."

American officials were reported to have been informed in advance of the plan to oust Co. They were said to have stressed that if the generals went ahead, they had better be sure there would be no repercussoins.

Still fresh in their minds was the bloody Buddhist rioting that grew out of the overthrow last March of Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi as 1st Corps Commander.

If serious trouble should erupt over Co's ouster, it will probably be on a regional basis, sources said. Co is a Southerner. Ky is Northern-born as are most of his cabinet and the military junta. With Co out, there is no Southerner in a position of real power in the government.

FOOD for THOUGHT

We all know that India, Indonesia and Pakistan are famous for curry. However, there is no curry powder used in the dish called "Curry." Curry powder, as we know it, is a collection of ground spices made by pounding and mixing the fresh ingredients.

We are delighted to welcome two fine new stores to the Montecito Shopping Center. Variety Fair, next to THE KETTLE, and Jolie Madame Coiffures, just a few steps away . . . excellent assets to our growing community of stores.

Week in, year out, it seems the entire family likes to boss the Peugeot around. Dad, for business. Mom, for shopping. And the kids, for whatever they feel like doing at the time.
It's enough to make an old wagon weary. But at 100,000 miles Peugeot is as strong as ever. How come? Because Peugeots are totally engineered.

For example, Peugeot wagons are built on their own custom chassis, not just a modified sedan chassis.
And Peugeot is built to take it. Even filled to its big 66 cubic foot capacity, Peugeot never sags. The weight is always distributed. Which, in turn, means Peugeot rides and handles better, safer.

New School Superintendent Aware Of The Situation

By PAT PERRY

Stepping into the top post of the San Rafael schools, new Supt. John F. Plank is, indubitably, stepping into an atmosphere redolent of former feuds and hostilities and controversy.

He's aware of the stiuation. "I hope I can be of help in reducing anxieties and tensions and help develop a unity among all the segments," he said.

Is he on anyone's side?

"Yes, I certainly am — the kids! In the last analysis, if we can, with some objectivity look at whatever issue is at stake and say is this good for the children in the classroom, then we have at least a good perspective in which to make some valid judgments about the issue."

JOHN F. PLANK
He's on the kids' side

LOCAL CONTROL

Plank, 49, describes himself as "a local control enthusiast."

"In spite of trends towards greater centralization, if we accept the philosophy that the schools belong to the people, we have to learn to work effectively with parents' groups. I welcome their support," he said.

How about their opposition? "That's a good question. I am a professional and believe I know a lot more about education than parents and should be able to render a professional judgment that is, perhaps, of greater value than just sheer numbers of parents."

TASK AHEAD

Prime task ahead of the new superintendent is setting goals and directions for the district, he considers. During the next month he will visit all the schools in the San Rafael elementary and high school districts and begin working with with staff, students and parents to identify goals.

"Obviously unless we know where we're going it's difficult to get there," said Plank.

Some considerations will include financing, unification and structural projects. Plank declined to say he'll definitely advocate unification for San Rafael. "However, I think unification has great advantage for a shcool system in many ways. You get more for your dollar — not more money, but greater flexibility within the budget," he said. He came to San Rafael from the Alvord Unified School District in Riverside County, where the enrollment, 8,500 students, is about the same as San Rafael's. Until his last day on the job he was working on an $11 million school bond issue slated for Feb. 14 "Have a Heart, Vote Yes" and confidently expects it to pass.

His wife, Evelyn, remained in Southern California with their elementary school children until he locates a home in Marin. Christina is in kindergarten, George in sixth grade. Teenagers James and Karen are students at Humboldt State College, and his oldest son, John, is on active duty with the Navy Reserve in Vietnam waters.

Joseph W. Royer was re-elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Club Tuesday.

Others elected were: Dr. Kay Blacker, vice president; Mrs. Marilyn Cleland, secretary, and Richard S. Calendar, treasurer.

Mervin D. Field and Alan W. Cundall were elected to the board of directors.

Appointed to committees were: Lowell A. Airola, house; Thomas S. Price, construction and maintenance; Arthur Gensler Jr., planning; Richard S. Calendar, finance; Field and Mrs. Joy Keller, membership; Cundall and Mrs. Roberta Brunstetter, activities; Charles E. Durrie, tennis; Rupert L. Jerniga, swimming. Dr. Blacker and Calendar will temporarily be co-chairmen of a new junior activities committee.

Thieves Enter Three Autos

Thieves entered three cars belonging to residents of an apartment house at 108 Professional Center Parkway, San Rafael, Sunday night, taking $110 worth of miscellaneous items. All cars were parked outside the dwelling.

A $45 camera and a $40 jacket were taken from the auto of Harvey I. Aronoff, Apt. 101. Michael J. Dray told police an umbrella and cigar lighter were among the items missing from his car, while a pair of sun glasses and a flashlight were reported stolen from a ca belonging to Richard J. Bennett.

Auto Hits Pole; Youths Injured

Two young Marinites were injured Tuesday when the car in which they were riding knocked down a light pole on the center divider of Highway 101 at the Black Point Cutoff.

Kristofer Sweger, 18, of 10 Claire Way, Tiburon passenger, was in good condition today with head injuries at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco, where he was transferred after emergency treatment at Novato General Hospital. Douglas Mettalia, 18, of 65 Fairfax Street, San Rafael, the driver, was treated at the Novato hospital for head and eye cuts.

The 4 p.m. crash knocked the light pole across the inner lane of the highway, blocking it temporarily, the California Highway Patrol reported.

FLOODS RAKE RIO

Car Safety Boss Hints Delays On Deadlines

DETROIT (AP) — William Haddon Jr., U. S. traffic safety administrator, reportedly has given American and foreign car makers a broad hint that he will go slow on his proposed 23 auto-safety standards.

Dr. Haddon held separate, closed-door sessions yesterday with the foreign and domestic car makers in Washington just a few days before the scheduled Jan. 31 announcement of binding standards for 1968 model cars.

The federal government disclosed no details of the sessions but various industry sources provided bits of information about Haddon's first head-to-head confrontation with auto companies which had been critical of the content and timing of some of the proposals.

State Department representatives reportedly sat in on the two-hour foreign car session at which Haddon pledged that he had no intention of trying to drive imports out of the U. S. market.

Several foreign companies had made representations through their governments that the proposed standards were discriminatory against their particular cars.

Tire company representatives also attended the import session and reportedly heard Dr. Haddon say he would give the import cars additional time to meet his test requirements for the vehicles and tires.

Representatives of Detroit's four major auto firms were less willing to discuss specifics of their meeting with Haddon, but they, too, hinted they had obtained some concessions — particularly in time.

All U.S. manufacturers had notified Haddon previously that they could not meet the terms of his original proposals, issued early in December, and that they had urged him to tone them down at least for a year or two in his final version next Tuesday.

Haddon had no comment on the meeting.

Four Trustees To Run Again

Four incumbent trustees filed petitions yesterday for re-election to the Novato Unified School District board.

Mrs. Jean A. Ansley, of 1294 Cambridge Avenue, Novato, was elected to the San Jose District board in 1959; then, to the Novato district in 1964. Dan H. Barber, 400 Fairway Drive, Novato, was appointed to the San Jose District board in 1957, where he served until 1964 when he became a Novato trustee.

Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty, 2211 Center Road, Novato, was elected to the Novato School District board in 1959 and re-elected in 1963. William H. Vandergriff, 242 Alameda De La Loma, Novato, was elected to the San Jose District board in 1959 and to the Novato board in 1964.

Chemical Schizophrenia Proof Claimed By Tulane

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Tulane researchers say they have solid evidence that the psychotic behavior of schizophrenia is due to a substance in the blood which affects th brain.

The significance of the announcement today was that Tulane researchers recreated the substance, which Dr. Robert C. Heath calls taraxein.

Since taraxein can be created in a laboratory, it raises the possibility that a specific treatment for schizophrenia — which incapacitates a quarter million Americans annually — can be developed.

Dr. Heath, professor of psychiatry and neurology at Tulane University's school of medicine, said a cure or control is the next phase of the work.

The theory that schizophrenia is a chemically caused ailment was advanced by Dr. Heath 10 years ago. His theory touched off a scholarly tempest in psychiatric circles, where the accepted theory was that schizophrenia was a strictly psychological disease stemming from childhood disturbances.

$750 Awarded For Injuries

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday awarded Paul Jerome Keller, 57, of 8 Barn Road, Bel Aire, $750 in his $30,000 suit against the County of Marin for injuries in a two-car accident involving a deputy sheriff.

The jury also awarded $1,064 damages to American President Lines, San Francisco, as owners of the car driven by Keeler. Keeler alleged negligent driving while on duty by Deputy Raymond Harold Tschirgi, 32, caused the Jan. 25, 1964, accident on Tiburon Boulevard.

Keeler suffered neck, spine and face injuries, according to his suit. Trial before Judge Thomas F. Keating started Tuesday.

Trustees Hear Good Things About Reading

Dixie School District trustees last night heard reports that the district's reading specialist project is paying off.

Under the program a team of primary reading specialists work with pupils who are having reading problems.

Victor Piltch, resource teacher, said the specialists work with groups of two to nine pupils, and in some cases pupils get individual attention.

IMPROVEMENTS

Pupils have regained confidence, become less tense, and shown improvement, he said.

Barbara Hanlon, second grade teacher at Santa Margarita School, told how the program had aided her, and Robert P. Scheirbeck, principal of Dixie School said he would like to see it expanded.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said "the work of specialists is of great value to all teachers."

After a long discussion, trustees adopted a policy which puts the principals salary schedule 37.5 per cent higher than the teacher salary schedule, with a maximum allowable differential of $4,500.

Willis pointed out that the principals in the Dixie district work 11 months a year, longer than teachers, besides having more responsibility than teachers.

PAY POLICY

Willis said the policy reflects approximately what principals are now being paid. The policy will become effective in July, and if teachers are granted a five per cent pay increase, as proposed by the citizen finance committee, the principals' salaries also will increase.

Dixie School District Board also:

1. Increased the application for a state loan for construction for first phase construction of Oak View School from $315,000 to $330,000 after receiving a new estimate that the job would cost $324,756.
2. Authorized architects Rockwell and Banwell to develop preliminary plans for additions to Vallecito, Miller Creek and Oak View Schools, the scope of which are as yet undetermined, but slated to meet enrollment demands for three years.
3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Patricia McCauley, receptionist-stenographer in the district office, and hired Dorothy A. Christo as her successor at $379 a month.
4. Accepted gifts of educational records, study prints, books and file-cabinets for the library, valued at $303, from the Bernard Hoffman School Teacher-Parent Group; and a podium, public address system and globe from the Don Timoteo School Parent-Teacher Assn., valued at $273.
5. Adjourned until Feb. 8, scheduling a closed session at the close of that meeting to discuss "potential dismissals," and changed its scheduled Feb. 22 meeting to Feb. 23.

Youth Is Cited For Fighting

A 17-year-old San Anselmo boy, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School, was given juvenile citation by San Anselmo police Tuesday, charging assault and battery against another student at the high school last Wednesday.

The case was referred to the juvenile probation department.

His victim, Jeff Lambert, 16, of 39 Manor View, Fairfax, was hospitalized at Marin General Hospital with a concussion, but has since been released.

Election Pamphlet Costs Criticized

By FRANK FARRARA

A candidate for the Marin Junior College District Board might have to pay as much as $1,500 to have his statement of qualifications printed in the voters' pamphlet, if he were the only candidate.

A candidate is not required to have a statement printed, but is permitted to do so if he desires.

The possible charges were disclosed last night when Dixie School District trustees voted against paying to have the statements printed and distributed with sample ballots.

4-1 VOTE

Supt. Dennie B. Willis reproted it was his understanding of the law that the district could pay or require that the candidate pay.

Trustees opposed having the district pay by 4-1 vote, with Thomas Neal McNamara dissenting.

McNamara said "it's a sorry statute" that gives the candidate who can afford the charge an advantage over one who cannot. He said he felt there should not be "any undue cost" on a candidate for a school board, a non-paying post.

"I don't think the district should pay the campaign expenses of any candidate," said Trustee Earl Koehler.

BEST POLICY

McNamara said having a statement mailed out with the ballot "is the most effective political advertising. In a close election, the fact that one candidate could afford and the other couldn't could be determinative."

A memorandum from Robert Stannard, assistant county superintendent of schools, to trustee candidates said the charges would vary depending upon the number of candidates who wanted statements printed.

Trustee Dorothy Brown said' "I'm against the concept . . . they (trustees) get no pay and it's a volunteer job for the community."

Stannard said in his memorandum, "upon the advice of John Musser, assistant county clerk for elections, the estimated costs for having the candidate's statements of qualifications printed would be as follows":

College of Marin — assuming five candidates, approximately $210 each, "with a maximum (assuming only one candidate) perhaps $1,500."

San Rafael Schools — Minimum of $46; Novato School District, minimum of $30; Mill Valley, San Anselmo and comparable size districts, minimum $25; smaller districts, minimum $20.

THE MINIMUMS

Tamalpais High School District, minimum of $110; Marin County Board of Education, minimum approximately $30 to $40, "with the maximum dependent upon the number of other canddiates for all trustee vacancies wishing to have statements printed, perhaps as high as $200."

Dixie trustees passed a resolution calling for consolidation of the district's $1.5 million bond issue election with the trustee election April 18, and set the election hours for both elections as 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on April 18.

Tam Students Elect Their New Officers

Henry (Skipper) Lacaze was elected Tamalpais High School student body president last week.

Also elected were Kris Dilcher, vice president; Charlene Reece, secretary, and Deborah McKeighan, treasurer.

The freshman class elected Hunter Starbird, president; Mark Conlan, vice president; Roseanna Perry, secretary, and Candy Kreiger, treasurer.

Sophomore officers elected were Randy Harris, president; Gwen Wittenmeier, vice president; Sue Schmiedel, secretary, and Sandy Michel, treasurer.

Seniors elected Wayne Telford, president; Terri Bergstrom, vice president; Chris Bayliss, secretary, and Sandy Brown, treasurer. Juniors elect their officers next week.

San Pedro Hearings Notice Protested

R. M. Lee, president of the Country Club Area Assn., has asked county supervisors and the San Rafael City Council to re-open their joint hearing on alignment of the second phase of San Pedro Road widening.

Lee contended there was inadequate notice for the hearing earlier this month when the two bodies recommended adoption of the central alignment for the road widening.

Long Pledges Alabama Help Over Welfare

WASH[illegible]N (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee has promised to help all he can in Alabama's fight against a threatened cutoff of federal welfare funds.

"I think you have made a strong case on behalf of Alabama," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., told former Gov. George C. Wallace yesterday after Wallace testified before Long's committee.

Wallace said the cutoff order by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner is illegal and "just the beginning" of an arbitrary grab for power. Gardner has ruled that Alabama will get no federal funds after Feb. 28 for its public assistance and child welfare programs unless it gives assurance in writing that the programs are being administered without racial discrimination.

Wallace appeared before the Finance Committee as a special assistant to the present governor, his wife Lurleen.

Organizational Theory Course At Hamilton

Trustees Hear Good Things About Reading

Dixie School District trustees last night heard reports that the district's reading specialist project is paying off.

Under the program a team of primary reading specialists work with pupils who are having reading problems.

Victor Piltch, resource teacher, said the specialists work with groups of two to nine pupils, and in some cases pupils get individual attention.

IMPROVEMENTS

Pupils have regained confidence, become less tense, and shown improvement, he said.

Barbara Hanlon, second grade teacher at Santa Margarita School, told how the program had aided her, and Robert P. Scheirbeck, principal of Dixie School said he would like to see it expanded.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said "the work of specialists is of great value to all teachers."

After a long discussion, trustees adopted a policy which puts the principals salary schedule 37.5 per cent higher than the teacher salary schedule, with a maximum allowable differential of $4,500.

Willis pointed out that the principals in the Dixie district work 11 months a year, longer than teachers, besides having more responsibility than teachers.

PAY POLICY

Willis said the policy reflects approximately what principals are now being paid. The policy will become effective in July, and if teachers are granted a five per cent pay increase, as proposed by the citizen finance committee, the principals' salaries also will increase.

Dixie School District Board also:

1. Increased the application for a state loan for construction for first phase construction of Oak View School from $315,000 to $330,000 after receiving a new estimate that the job would cost $324,756.
2. Authorized architects Rockwell and Banwell to develop preliminary plans for additions to Vallecito, Miller Creek and Oak View Schools, the scope of which are as yet undetermined, but slated to meet enrollment demands for three years.
3. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Patricia McCauley, receptionist-stenographer in the district office, and hired Dorothy A. Christo as her successor at $379 a month.
4. Accepted gifts of educational records, study prints, books and file-cabinets for the library, valued at $303, from the Bernard Hoffman School Teacher-Parent Group; and a podium, public address system and globe from the Don Timoteo School Parent-Teacher Assn., valued at $273.
5. Adjourned until Feb. 8, scheduling a closed session at the close of that meeting to discuss "potential dismissals," and changed its scheduled Feb. 22 meeting to Feb. 23.

Youth Is Cited For Fighting

A 17-year-old San Anselmo boy, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School, was given juvenile citation by San Anselmo police Tuesday, charging assault and battery against another student at the high school last Wednesday.

The case was referred to the juvenile probation department.

His victim, Jeff Lambert, 16, of 39 Manor View, Fairfax, was hospitalized at Marin General Hospital with a concussion, but has since been released.

Election Pamphlet Costs Criticized

By FRANK FARRARA

A candidate for the Marin Junior College District Board might have to pay as much as $1,500 to have his statement of qualifications printed in the voters' pamphlet, if he were the only candidate.

A candidate is not required to have a statement printed, but is permitted to do so if he desires.

The possible charges were disclosed last night when Dixie School District trustees voted against paying to have the statements printed and distributed with sample ballots.

4-1 VOTE

Supt. Dennie B. Willis reproted it was his understanding of the law that the district could pay or require that the candidate pay.

Trustees opposed having the district pay by 4-1 vote, with Thomas Neal McNamara dissenting.

McNamara said "it's a sorry statute" that gives the candidate who can afford the charge an advantage over one who cannot. He said he felt there should not be "any undue cost" on a candidate for a school board, a non-paying post.

"I don't think the district should pay the campaign expenses of any candidate," said Trustee Earl Koehler.

BEST POLICY

McNamara said having a statement mailed out with the ballot "is the most effective political advertising. In a close election, the fact that one candidate could afford and the other couldn't could be determinative."

A memorandum from Robert Stannard, assistant county superintendent of schools, to trustee candidates said the charges would vary depending upon the number of candidates who wanted statements printed.

Trustee Dorothy Brown said "I'm against the concept . . . they (trustees) get no pay and it's a volunteer job for the community."

Stannard said in his memorandum, "upon the advice of John Musser, assistant county clerk for elections, the estimated costs for having the candidate's statements of qualifications printed would be as follows":

College of Marin — assuming five candidates, approximately $210 each, "with a maximum (assuming only one candidate) perhaps $1.500."

San Rafael Schools — Minimum of $46; Novato School District, minimum of $30; Mill Valley, San Anselmo and comparable size districts, minimum $25; smaller districts, minimum $20.

THE MINIMUMS

Tamalpais High School District, minimum of $110; Marin County Board of Education, minimum approximately $30 to $40, "with the maximum dependent upon the number of other canddiates for all trustee vacancies wishing to have statements printed, perhaps as high as $200."

Dixie trustees passed a resolution calling for consolidation of the district's $1.5 million bond issue election with the trustee election April 18, and set the election hours for both elections as 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on April 18.

Tam Students Elect Their New Officers

Henry (Skipper) Lacaze was elected Tamalpais High School student body president last week.

Also elected were Kris Dilcher, vice president; Charlene Reece, secretary, and Deborah McKeighan, treasurer.

The freshman class elected Hunter Starbird, president; Mark Conlan, vice president; Roseanna Perry, secretary, and Candy Kreiger, treasurer.

Sophomore officers elected were Randy Harris, president; Gwen Wittenmeier, vice president; Sue Schmiedel, secretary, and Sandy Michel, treasurer.

Seniors elected Wayne Telford, president; Terri Bergstrom, vice president; Chris Bayliss, secretary, and Sandy Brown, treasurer. Juniors elect their officers next week.

San Pedro Hearings Notice Protested

R. M. Lee, president of the Country Club Area Assn., has asked county supervisors and the San Rafael City Council to re-open their joint hearing on alignment of the second phase of San Pedro Road widening.

Lee contended there was inadequate notice for the hearing earlier this month when the two bodies recommended adoption of the central alignment for the road widening.

Long Pledges Alabama Help Over Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee has promised to help all he can in Alabama's fight against a threatened cutoff of federal welfare funds.

"I think you have made a strong case on behalf of Alabama," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., told former Gov. George C. Wallace yesterday after Wallace testified before Long's committee.

Wallace said the cutoff order by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner is illegal and "just the beginning" of an arbitrary grab for power. Gardner has ruled that Alabama will get no federal funds after Feb. 28 for its public assistance and child welfare programs unless it gives assurance in writing that the programs are being administered without racial discrimination.

Wallace appeared before the Finance Committee as a special assistant to the present governor, his wife Lurleen.

NOVEL PROPOSAL

Stock Financing For Courthouse

A novel plan has been proposed by a retired Kentfield accountant for preserving the San Rafael courthouse and square as they stand and at the same time:

1. Meet the county's need for money to help cover construction of the new Hall of Justice wing at Civic Center.

2. Cost the City of San Rafael nothing.

3. Return a guaranteed 6 per cent annual interest to investors in the property.

STOCK PLAN

The suggestion was made to Supervisor John F. McInnis in a letter form Roy W. Fletcher of 35 Twin Oaks Drive.

Fletcher would create a corporation to purchase the property and sell preferred stock—at a par value equal to the purchase price—to the public with a guaranteed 6 per cent return.

The corporation would be required by its charter to rent the property at an annual rental of 6 per cent of the purchase price plus actual operating and maintenance costs and taxes, if the corporation could not qualify for tax-free status.

Allowing for fluctuating purchase estimates from $750,000 to $1 million, Fletcher's proposal would call for a basic annual rental ranging from $45,000 to $60,000 a year.

This, Fletcher told the Independent-Journal yesterday, would be a reasonable rental to anticipate in view of the $108,000 developer Harry Heifetz expected when he made his $900,000 offer—since withdrawn.

At the same time, Heifitz told the board of supervisors he would charge the county one per cent of the purchase price, or $9,000 a month for the two years the county offices would have to remain at the courthouse during Hall of Justice construction. No objection was made by supervisors to this rent.

Should the purchase price not be raised by sale of preferred stock in time to meet county needs for cash, Fletcher said the corporation could be empowered to sell bonds bearing 6 per cent interest, these to be retired as stock was sold.

Fletcher said he believed the stock by virtue of its high yield would be extremely attractive to investors and would thus sell fast enough to make a bond sale unnecessary.

TAX STATUS

He said he felt confident in the ability of the property as it stands to produce the necessary rental income and that he believed the corporation would qualify for tax-exempt status, making it unnecessary to pass these costs on to the renters.

In addition to the preferred stock, Fletcher would turn over to the city of San Rafael all common stock of the corporation, which would produce no revenue, but establish the city as nominal owner of the property.

"To keep the courthouse out of politics," Fletcher said, trustees would be the chief local officers of the Bank of America, Bank of Marin, Wells Fargo Bank and Crocker-Citizens National Bank, with the mayor of San Rafael as ex-officio trustee.

Fletcher said his sole concern was to preserve the exterior of the courthouse and its setting, but that the interior, including the annex, could be remodeled in any fashion to facilitate renting.

Plea Of Guilty To Grand Theft

Guilty plea to grand theft from the County of Marin was entered in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday by Patricia Nunn, 25-year-old mother of three.

The plea came during a preliminary hearing before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. He certified the case to Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Nunn, of 134 Front Street, San Rafael, drew $1,235 in aid for dependent children from the county from April through August, but did not report she also was paid $1,285 as a Fairchild Semiconductor employee in San Rafael for the same period, officers said.

Grand Jurors Still Working On Report

Marin County Grand Jury held its scheduled last meeting yesterday, but the foreman said more work in "finalizing" its annual report is necessary. The panel will meet again at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

Foreman James S. Goodale said today the report is written, but the additional time is needed for improving and correcting the wording.

Goodale said Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court attended yesterday's session in an hour-long discussion on the grand jury's experiences over the past year.

"We simply told of our experiences so he would have some more background to work on in empaneling the future juries," Goodale said. He said no specific matters were discussed with the judge, that the discussion gave jurors "a chance to express themselves and their ideas."

Goodale said all Marin superior court judges were invited, but the others were unable to attend.

Election Tonight

Annual election of officers is slated by Bolinas Harbor District directors at 8 p. m. today in Stinson Beach Center The directors also plan further discussion of the proposed master plan for Bolinas Lagoon, reported Gene W. McDaniel, board president.

Mill Valley Offered Reservoir For Park

Marin Municipal Water District directors yesterday voted to offer the City of Mill Valley an unused reservoir for a public park.

There are a few strings to the offer, as proposed by Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger of the water district and approved by the board; the city would be required to design, construct and maintain a park on the property as well as landscape adjoining property where the water district has one tank and plans to install another.

The property is known as the old Belvedere Dam, on Panoramic Highway.

Trustees Leo L. Stanley at first was reluctant to let go of a "valuable piece of Marin County property" but agreed to go along with the offer.

The reservoir is no longer in use, and the district has been ordered by the state to dispose of it or fill it. Under the park offer, presumably it would be filled by Mill Valley.

Farm Employment Shows Increases

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Employment on California farms gained 5,000 between mid-December and mid-January but was 660 less than a year ago, the Department of Employment has reported.

The total farm employment on Jan. 14 was 267,100. This included 87,700 farmers and unpaid family, down 1600 from a year ago; 88,600 hired regular, down 400; 77,200 hired local domestics, up 1400; 9100 intrastate domestics, down 5,000; 4500 interstate domestics, down 800; and no contract workers, as compared to 200 a year ago.

Money Allocated For Landscaping

The State Division of Highways plans to spend $83,000 landscaping the Highway 101 Corte Madera interchange, the Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Department learned last night.

The division sent maps showing landscaping plans to replace the earlier unsuccessful landscaping with Redwood trees, most of which have died.

The commission gave the Corte Madera Little League permission to place two steel bleachers, to seat 180 people, in the Town Park.

Three new commissioners appointed by the Corte Madera Town Council Jan. 3, Mrs. Lois Eiscus, J. H. Sutherland and Henry Fox, attended their first meeting of the commission last night.

Beautification Cash Granted To Town

Corte Madera received notice yesterday of a $15,250 grant from the federal department of Housing and Urban Development for beautification projects, announced town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher.

Usher said many of the programs the grant will pay for have already been completed, and would have been paid for from sales tax funds had the grant not been approved.

Projects already completed include landscaping og the civic center site, medians on Paradise Drive, and the Paradise Drive fire sub-station. and a drainage system in the town park.

A water main extension now being installed in the park is part of the project, he said, and projects that will be completed this spring include a parking lot. 1,500 feet of access road and walkways in the park, and installation of two handball courts.

Dairy Meeting

Base and pooling legislation for the state's dairymen will be discussed by W. J. Kuhrt, former state deputy director of agriculture at Associated Dairymen's meeting Feb. 2 at Sonoma Joe's, Petaluma, at 7 p.m.

Unrest In Nicaragua Spills More Blood

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Another Nicaraguan was killed and two were wounded last night as National Guardsmen and police cleared crowds from the streets of Managua and arrested more opponents of the Somoza machine.

Among those arrested were Jorge Cardenas, general manager of La Prensa, an opposition newspaper closed by the government. Congress last night passed a censorship law to curb what it called political agitation by news media prior to next month's presidential election.

Women seeking news of persons missing since the outbreak of violence Sunday and Monday stood in a line a block long during the day outside El Hormiguero (The Ant Hole) prison.

The government said 32 persons were killed and 79 wounded in the fighting Sunday and Monday between troops and opponents of Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., presidential candidate of the official party and chief of the National Guard. Fernando Aguero, the Conservative party candidate, said between 300 and 400 were killed. Impartial sources said the number of dead might be more than 60.

Guilty plea to grand theft from the County of Marin was entered in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday by Patricia Nunn, 25-year-old mother of three.

The plea came during a preliminary hearing before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. He certified the case to Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Nunn, of 134 Front Street, San Rafael, drew $1,235 in aid for dependent children from the county from April through August, but did not report she also was paid $1,285 as a Fairchild Semiconductor employee in San Rafael for the same period, officers said.

Grand Jurors Still Working On Report

Marin County Grand Jury held its scheduled last meeting yesterday, but the foreman said more work in "finalizing" its annual report is necessary. The panel will meet again at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

Foreman James S. Goodale said today the report is written, but the additional time is needed for improving and correcting the wording.

Goodale said Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court attended yesterday's session in an hour-long discussion on the grand jury's experiences over the past year.

"We simply told of our experiences so he would have some more background to work on in empaneling the future juries," Goodale said. He said no specific matters were discussed with the judge, that the discussion gave jurors "a chance to express themselves and their ideas."

Goodale said all Marin superior court judges were invited, but the others were unable to attend.

Election Tonight

Annual election of officers is slated by Bolinas Harbor District directors at 8 p. m. today in Stinson Beach Center The directors also plan further discussion of the proposed master plan for Bolinas Lagoon, reported Gene W. McDaniel, board president.

Mill Valley Offered Reservoir For Park

Marin Municipal Water District directors yesterday voted to offer the City of Mill Valley an unused reservoir for a public park.

There are a few strings to the offer, as proposed by Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger of the water district and approved by the board; the city would be required to design, construct and maintain a park on the property as well as landscape adjoining property where the water district has one tank and plans to install another.

The property is known as the old Belvedere Dam, on Panoramic Highway.

Trustees Leo L. Stanley at first was reluctant to let go of a "valuable piece of Marin County property" but agreed to go along with the offer.

The reservoir is no longer in use, and the district has been ordered by the state to dispose of it or fill it. Under the park offer, presumably it would be filled by Mill Valley.

Farm Employment Shows Increases

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Employment on California farms gained 5,000 between mid-December and mid-January but was 660 less than a year ago, the Department of Employment has reported.

The total farm employment on Jan. 14 was 267,100. This included 87,700 farmers and unpaid family, down 1600 from a year ago; 88,600 hired regular, down 400; 77,200 hired local domestics, up 1400; 9100 intrastate domestics, down 5,000; 4500 interstate domestics, down 800; and no contract workers, as compared to 200 a year ago.

Money Allocated For Landscaping

The State Division of Highways plans to spend $83,000 landscaping the Highway 101 Corte Madera interchange, the Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Department learned last night.

The division sent maps showing landscaping plans to replace the earlier unsuccessful landscaping with Redwood trees, most of which have died.

The commission gave the Corte Madera Little League permission to place two steel bleachers, to seat 180 people, in the Town Park.

Three new commissioners appointed by the Corte Madera Town Council Jan. 3, Mrs. Lois Eiscus, J. H. Sutherland and Henry Fox, attended their first meeting of the commission last night.

Beautification Cash Granted To Town

Corte Madera received notice yesterday of a $15,250 grant from the federal department of Housing and Urban Development for beautification projects, announced town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher.

Usher said many of the programs the grant will pay for have already been completed, and would have been paid for from sales tax funds had the grant not been approved.

Projects already completed include landscaping og the civic center site, medians on Paradise Drive, and the Paradise Drive fire sub-station. and a drainage system in the town park.

A water main extension now being installed in the park is part of the project, he said, and projects that will be completed this spring include a parking lot. 1,500 feet of access road and walkways in the park, and installation of two handball courts.

Dairy Meeting

Base and pooling legislation for the state's dairymen will be discussed by W. J. Kuhrt, former state deputy director of agriculture at Associated Dairymen's meeting Feb. 2 at Sonoma Joe's, Petaluma, at 7 p.m.

Unrest In Nicaragua Spills More Blood

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Another Nicaraguan was killed and two were wounded last night as National Guardsmen and police cleared crowds from the streets of Managua and arrested more opponents of the Somoza machine.

Among those arrested were Jorge Cardenas, general manager of La Prensa, an opposition newspaper closed by the government. Congress last night passed a censorship law to curb what it called political agitation by news media prior to next month's presidential election.

Women seeking news of persons missing since the outbreak of violence Sunday and Monday stood in a line a block long during the day outside El Hormiguero (The Ant Hole) prison.

The government said 32 persons were killed and 79 wounded in the fighting Sunday and Monday between troops and opponents of Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., presidential candidate of the official party and chief of the National Guard. Fernando Aguero, the Conservative party candidate, said between 300 and 400 were killed. Impartial sources said the number of dead might be more than 60.

Doctor Opens Office

Dr. Daniel C. Beittel, Dixie School District consulting psychiatrist and adult group psychiatrist with the Marin Community Mental Health Services, has opened an office at 600 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, for the practice of psychiatry.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Would You Believe? Hyampom For The Name Of A School

The naming of schools never ceases to fascinate. We have had some daisies in Marin lately—Bahia Vista, Granada, Vallecito. We were narrowly (and mercifully) spared Licatuit High School a few years back.

School boards up and down the state seem to have the same trouble. A list of California schools discloses such outlandish monickers as Hyampom, Nagelee, Navelencia and Olancha; Temecula, Laguna Salada, and (this just must be the nadir!) Nuview.

NO DOUBT THE namers of these schools were striving hard for originality, perhaps seeking to avoid such very down-to-earth names as North Cow Creek, Indian Diggings and Outside Creek — which are also names of California schools. Alas! they strove too hard.

No school district seems to have arrived at any pattern for naming its schools. San Rafael has been named for subdivisions (Terra Linda, Glenwood, Short), for geographical location (West End), for former superintendents (James B. Davidson, Oliver Hartzell). Across the bay in Castro Valley is a school that was named for a superintendent while he was in office — George B. Morris.

Novato and Mill Valley have named schools for former teachers (Lu Sutton, Edna Maguire). Dixie District named two for school trustees (Bernard Hoffman, Mary E. Silveira).

PERHAPS THE ODDEST choice for a school name in California is Murieta School — though it may not have been named for the legendary outlaw.

The practice in many places has been to name schools for presidents, but here again, there seems a blotchy pattern. There are plenty of Washington and Lincoln schools, but also a surprisingly large number of McKinley Schools.

Just why McKinley should have been so widely honored, my desultory study of history has not disclosed. Maybe they just built a lot of schools soon after he was assassinated.

Marin districts have eschewed naming schools for presidents. Tamalpais High School District trustees refused to name even a new library for the martyred John F. Kennedy.

THOUGH SCHOOL trustees, superintendents and teachers have been immortalized in the naming of Marin's schools, few of the county's pioneers have been so honored. John Reed's name has been preserved on a school on the Tiburon Peninsula, once part of his Rancho Corte de Madera del Presidio. Vigilante leader William Tell Coleman's name lives in San Rafael's Coleman School — but perhaps it was named for the subdivision. James Ross's name survives for school and town. Dixie District trustees used only the first two of Don Timoteo Murphy's names for a school in the Rancho San Pedro, Santa y Margarita las Gallinas which was once his domain. That about completes the list.

On the other hand, school boards (perhaps in desperation) have named schools for the streets on which they are located — Olive and Marion in Novato, the former B and E Street Schools in San Rafael. (In a way, Bahia Vista was named for a street. The board of education got the city council to change Napa Street to Bayview to avoid calling it the Napa Street School, then decided there were too many Bayviews so "Hispanized" it to Bahia Vista.)

PERHAPS WHAT is needed is a name bank for future schools. Someone might look up a list of presidents and other national leaders who have done something for education and make a list of them for school boards who like such names. Another list might include prominent pioneers — of whom there were plenty besides Reed, Coleman and Murphy.

Still another list might be used for the schools serving larger areas—presumably high schools—with old Spanish grant names. Two bits of Murphy's grant already are enshrined in elementary schools: Gallinas School in the San Rafael district, Santa Margarita in Dixie. Rancho Canada de Herrera High School would seem too much of a mouthful, but the name of its owner — Sais — would have much closer local application than that of Sir Francis Drake for a school in San Anselmo on what was once part of Domingo Sais's rancho.

ANOTHER LIST might preserve old family names that are fast vanishing from Marin but are entwined in its history: Shafter Wilkins, Cushing, etc.

Still another list might help to preserve often-forgotten geographical names from the old maps. (One wonders why there is a Loma Verde School to immortalize a subdivider's advertising, but no Ignacio to preserve the historic name.)

It probably wouldn't work. Politics, personal prejudices and a lot of things would get in the way. But maybe it would be worth a try. The Marin County Historical Society might be made the name depository.

Kalman Given VFW Plaque

Dr. Manuel Kalman of Ross Tuesday was presented with a Veterans of Foreign Wars plaque for "outstanding service to veterans and humanitarian activities" in his work as Veterans Administration hospitalization officer for the Bay Area.

The presentation was by Robert J. Johnson, California department commander of the VFW, in a ceremony at Fort Miley Veterans Hospital in San Francisco, which Dr. Kalman serves as a staff member. Johnson said it was only the second such plaque presented by the VFW in California.

Dr. Kalman, his wife and two children, David and Susan, reside at 37 Allen Avenue, Ross.

SHIPWRECK IGNORED

Sea-Loving Marinites In Brief Homecoming

By DAVID DIETZ

Salty and fit, Dr. Robert L. Griffith and his family have returned to Marin County after spending much of the last three years lapping the world in a yacht.

Now in Woodacre at the home of a relative, Griffith, 50, a former Inverness veterinarian; his wife, Nancy, and son, Reid, 11, have stirring tales to tell — of shipwreck, a record voyage, calls in exotic ports, and of the rescue of Mrs. Griffith from a turbulent ocean.

The family is committed to life at sea, disdaining a fixed existence. All are tanned, and Griffith, husky and bearded, wears dungarees held up with a rope belt.

"We think it's a lot of fun — if we can get away with it," said Mrs. Griffith, laughing. "We'll sail as long as we enjoy it."

This summer, the Griffiths finished a record voyage in which they sailed eastward around the world, south of the continents. Trouble followed them.

In January, 1964, Griffith's boat, the Awahnee, crunched into a reef on a small atoll while en route to Eiao (Ay-Ha-Oh), a small island about 500 miles south of Tahiti, to try to identify wreckage as that of a missing yacht.

Waves battered the Awahnee into small pieces "in a matter of hours," Griffith said, pointing to pictures of the calamity in a tattered scrapbook.

Unhurt, the family salvaged some provisions and moved ashore. With two copra workers, they were virtually stranded for two months until the French evacuated them to Tahiti because of pending atomic tests on a nearby island.

In Tahiti, Griffith leased a boat and sailed to Auckland, New Zealand. There, he built the Awahnee II, a 53-footer, of cement.

Despite its odd construction—the spars and hand and rub rails are the sole wood components—the Awahnee II is swift, agile and convenient to live on, Griffith says.

From Auckland, the family continued the journey. While crossing the Indian Ocean, Mrs. Griffith tumbled overboard in seas blown angry by monsoon winds. She was quickly rescued.

"It's a terrible feeling for me when someone goes overboard," said Griffith, who has rescued three others who have fallen from his boats. "Sharks are not usually dangerous, but there is always the hungry one."

He said the recovery of floating debris gave him experience in rescue technique.

Griffith first took his family to sea in 1959, completing two Pacific cruises before setting out around the world in 1963. He estimates he has sailed 100,000 miles.

Relaxing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Eldred of 81 Oak Grove Avenue, Woodacre, Griffith said his decision to go to sea stemmed from a false sense of security in his veterinary practice.

"Nothing is so insecure as security as we know it today," he observed. "Instead of being freed by security, most people are trapped by it."

A desire to "see people and know them around the world" also prompted his decision to travel, Griffith said.

The family does not plan to stay in Marin long.

"We plan to leave for Hawaii the first week in March," Griffith said. Then, his face brightening, he added:

"And I'm eager to get going again."

Citizens Ignoring Charter Revision?

San Rafael's 54-year-old city charter is so obsolete it provides for a $3 a day wage scale, police cart and poundmaster, yet an appointed committee that's been working on revising it since last April has made its recommendations in almost comlpete isolation.

"The public didn't take any interest at all," complained member Leon Sigard. "We've had one representative from the library board attend a hearing, and one from the board of education, League of Women Voters and fire commission."

JENSEN CRITICAL

Speaking on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today, City Councilman Fred E. Jensen said he considered the charter revision committee's recommendations would make "the city manager all-powerful. If a taxpayer called a councilman to complain about a problem, the councilman would have to refer him to the city manager. The council would be nothing but a policy making board."

The city manager's position will be placed int the charter in revisions approved for ballot by the city council for the April 10 municipal election, but Jensen said his duties and responsibilities will be set by ordinance, "which is easier to change if needed."

COUNCIL RAISES

The committee also recommended pay raises for councilmen and mayor. If voters approve councilmen will get a monthly pay raise from $50 to $150, with the mayor's pay going from the current $100 a month to $150.

This raise would represent a half cent on the tax rate, said Jensen, "and remember San Rafael has the lowest tax rate in the county." Jensen said he considered it an honor to serve on the council and was not in favor of any increase in salary."

John D. La Noue committee secretary said the question of appointing replacements to school board vacancies by the city council "was a matter of some local controversy," but the committee felt "it should be left as presently in the charter."

Roy M. Michael, committee chairman, said the committee recommended that the city's police chief ,city attorney, city clerk and city treasurer be appointed rather than elected "because practically every other community we studied in California appointed all officials instead of electing them. In discussing this with past officiasl and council members, the opinion was unanimous in favor of making them appointive."

"All it is now is a popularity contest," commented Jensen.

Baptists Open Religion Study

A two-day conference on religious education opened at noon today at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry.

The conference followed a church music workshop attended by ministers of music from Baptist churches in California and other western states.

Dr. Ernest J. Loessner, professor of religious education at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., gave the conference keynote address. Loessner, on sabbatical leave, is a visiting professor of education at Golden Gate.

Two Members Due Election In November

Two members of the Novato Fire District board will come up for election this November instead of one in April of this year and one in April of next year.

That was the information given the board last night in a letter from Thomas G. Hendricks, deputy county counsel, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The fire district election in the past have been held in April, with one commissioner elected each year for a three-year term.

Under the new state law, those whose terms expire in April this year and next, will be up for election this November.

That adds seven months to the term of Henry Alvernaz and subtracts five months from that of Joseph Silveira. Terms hereafter will be four years.

SHIPWRECK IGNORED

Sea-Loving Marinites In Brief Homecoming

By DAVID DIETZ

Salty and fit, Dr. Robert L. Griffith and his family have returned to Marin County after spending much of the last three years lapping the world in a yacht.

Now in Woodacre at the home of a relative, Griffith, 50, a former Inverness veterinarian; his wife, Nancy, and son, Reid, 11, have stirring tales to tell — of shipwreck, a record voyage, calls in exotic ports, and of the rescue of Mrs. Griffith from a turbulent ocean.

The family is committed to life at sea, disdaining a fixed existence. All are tanned, and Griffith, husky and bearded, wears dungarees held up with a rope belt.

"We think it's a lot of fun — if we can get away with it," said Mrs. Griffith, laughing. "We'll sail as long as we enjoy it."

This summer, the Griffiths finished a record voyage in which they sailed eastward around the world, south of the continents. Trouble followed them.

In January, 1964, Griffith's boat, the Awahnee, crunched into a reef on a small atoll while en route to Eiao (Ay-Ha-Oh), a small island about 500 miles south of Tahiti, to try to identify wreckage as that of a missing yacht.

Waves battered the Awahnee into small pieces "in a matter of hours," Griffith said, pointing to pictures of the calamity in a tattered scrapbook.

Unhurt, the family salvaged some provisions and moved ashore. With two copra workers, they were virtually stranded for two months until the French evacuated them to Tahiti because of pending atomic tests on a nearby island.

In Tahiti, Griffith leased a boat and sailed to Auckland, New Zealand. There, he built the Awahnee II, a 53-footer, of cement.

Despite its odd construction—the spars and hand and rub rails are the sole wood components—the Awahnee II is swift, agile and convenient to live on, Griffith says.

From Auckland, the family continued the journey. While crossing the Indian Ocean, Mrs. Griffith tumbled overboard in seas blown angry by monsoon winds. She was quickly rescued.

"It's a terrible feeling for me when someone goes overboard," said Griffith, who has rescued three others who have fallen from his boats. "Sharks are not usually dangerous, but there is always the hungry one."

He said the recovery of floating debris gave him experience in rescue technique.

"Nothing is so insecure as security as we know it today," he observed. "Instead of being freed by security, most people are trapped by it."

A desire to "see people and know them around the world" also prompted his decision to travel, Griffith said.

The family does not plan to stay in Marin long.

"We plan to leave for Hawaii the first week in March," Griffith said. Then, his face brightening, he added:

"And I'm eager to get going again."

COUNCIL RAISES

The committee also recommended pay raises for councilmen and mayor. If voters approve councilmen will get a monthly pay raise from $50 to $150, with the mayor's pay going from the current $100 a month to $150.

This raise would represent a half cent on the tax rate, said Jensen, "and remember San Rafael has the lowest tax rate in the county." Jensen said he considered it an honor to serve on the council and was not in favor of any increase in salary."

The conference followed a church music workshop attended by ministers of music from Baptist churches in California and other western states.

Dr. Ernest J. Loessner, professor of religious education at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., gave the conference keynote address. Loessner, on sabbatical leave, is a visiting professor of education at Golden Gate.

Powell Aide Tells News Conference Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell's office said today the Harlem Democrat will hold a news conference Saturday on Bimini Island in the Bahams.

Powell will make "several important announcements" about his legal troubles and his fight to be seated in Congress, his aides announced.

Auto Makers Slow Down Production

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry faced up again today to the fact that the tempo of new car sales has slowed down. Production cuts were ordered.

General Motors and Chrysler reshuffled production schedules to slow down the number of new cars flowing into an already abundantly stocked market.

G.M. announced indefinite layoffs for 1,900 Chevrolet workers. It previously had given similar notices to 2,800 other G.M. workers.

Chrysler said three of its seven assembly plants would be closed for a week in February. A fourth will be idled for two weeks.

American Motors, whose assembly lines resumed operation last Monday after a two-week shutdown, was building 1,100 cars a day in contrast to the 1,600 it averaged before the shutdown.

Ford Motor Co. effected its production cutbacks by eliminating some planned overtime.

Drunken Driving

Robert James Buol, 48, of 165 Alpine Street, San Rafael, was fined $146 and placed on six months probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving. California Highway Patrol arrested him Dec. 30 on Highway 101.

SURGEON GENERAL PREDICTS

New Law To Promote Family Planning

SAN MATEO (UPI)—Surgeon General William H. Stewart predicted yesterday that newly enacted legislation will result in more widespread family planning throughout the nation.

Dr. Stewart, speaking before the regional conference on family planning, said a new approach was possible through passage by the 89th Congress of the comprehensive Health Planning and Public Health Services Act.

"I believe that this newly opened door will result in much greater emphasis on family planning information and service programs across the nation," the Public Health Service head said.

The new law, he said, gives those states and communities that give high priority to family planning a much more responsive system of federal support to draw upon.

"It also places responsibility squarely upon them," he said. "We have high hopes that this new kind of relationship among the levels of government will help to cure some of the ills of fragmentation and diffused impact that have plagued us in the past."

Stewart outlined some of the research activities now carried out primarily through the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development of the PHS.

"They include," he said, "both short-term and long-term effects of various contraceptive practices on the health of the mother and her children... About $23 million was spent by the institute in support of research on human reproduction in 1966."

He said the Food and Drug Administration was working closely with the PHS on studies to determine the safety and effectiveness of oral contraceptives.

"We are, in fact, committed to a research program that is stronger in emphasis and broader in scope than anything that has been done to date," he said.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Most Students Seem To Favor Wearing Uniforms To School

DEAR HELEN:

You predicted all the kids would be against school uniforms. You're wrong! We've had them in our Jackson Public High School, California, for 20 years and most of us students like them.

These uniforms consist of shoes, socks (no nylons) a black or dark blue skirt, (which can't be above the top of the knee cap), and a tailored white blouse. To dress them up, we can wear sweaters, shells, vests, jackets and panchos.

In a neighboring school girls wear $20 and $30 suits to school, and their nylon bill is ridiculous. We think we're lucky—we can save our money for really nice date clothes, and still come out ahead.

As a break from the uniforms we have a mufti day once each month, and on the last week of school we can wear whatever we please.

The boys have no uniform, but they must tuck their shirttails in and otherwise be neat. — FOR SCHOOL UNIFORMS

DEAR HELEN:

Please, please, no school uniforms! Adults are always yelling about teens being conformists, and then one of them suggests the ultimate in conforming. Ug!

If a girl knows how to shop wisely and mix and match she doesn't have to spend a fortune on clothes.

Please, too, adults — don't suggest we go back to babyish bobby sox. Nylons aren't so expensive if you wash them out every night and take care of them. — AGAINST UNIFORMS

DEAR HELEN:

I went to parochial school and then public school. I liked the uniforms best. And I hate nylons for everyday wear! — JENNELLE

DEAR READERS:

Surprise! Surprise! I figured not one teen in 50 would go for school uniforms, and whaddayaknow — the vote is running 60 per cent in favor! This mostly from girls who do not presently wear uniforms, resent the expense and bother of "keeping up with Miss Jones." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About nylons: If you'll spray them with a new spray that guards against snags, you'll save more than twice your hosiery bill. It's called "Run Stop." — DISCOVERER

DEAR HELEN:

This fella is real cool but he dates another girl. We have the lead in the school play and we parctice every night.

He tells me he is very backward about learning lines. He always goofs them up on one scene — just after we kiss. So we have to go back and kiss again, maybe six or seven times.

What would you call this "backward" boy? — INTERESTED

DEAR IN:

. . . Forward! . . . And hopeful Happy dating! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I got three "B's" and two "C's" on my report card, and for this I'm grounded six weeks, or until I get all "A's." Helen, I can never make straight "A" grades. My Dad won't help because he doesn't want to argue with my mother who makes the rules. Isn't she unfair? — IGNORAMUS

DEAR IG:

She certainly is! And so is your Dad if he doesn't set her straight.

All grounding and no play doesn't produce straight "A's" . . . which aren't that important anyway. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Lunch, Style Showing Will Be Given By St. Anselm's

"How Does Your Garden Grow?" will be the theme of the annual salad bowl luncheon and fashion show sponsored on Feb. 7 by the St. Anselm's Parent-Teacher's Guild.

The affair, with the eighth grade girls modeling, will be held at noon in the school auditorium, San Anselmo.

Committee chairmen are Mesdames Robert Mellin and Harry Howard, general chairmen; Mario Brenta and Charles McNamera, arrangements; Allen Conroy, awards; Walter Carter, clean-up; John Erlwein, decorations; Sherman Little, fashions; James Knox, commentator; Ira Johnson and Victor Bonfilio, salads; John Rippe and Hollis Locke, dessert and coffee; Bruce Holman, posters and programs; George Stempel Jr., publicity; Robert Sisler and W. G. Thompson, reservations; and John McNaboe, waitresses.

Smart Look

Customers who get their hair dyed and spend hours in the beauty salon soon will have a smarter than ordinary outfit to wear while getting the treatment. Instead of the conventional baggy, wrap-around smock many beauty shops are planning to wrap milady in style, according to one manufacturer of uniforms. The firm, Work-Wear, has just designed a muu-muu wrap for ILA's beauty salon in New York. The wrap has full and easy sleeves, a rounded neckline, and a hem that stops above the knees.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Most Students Seem To Favor Wearing Uniforms To School

DEAR HELEN:

You predicted all the kids would be against school uniforms. You're wrong! We've had them in our Jackson Public High School, California, for 20 years and most of us students like them.

These uniforms consist of shoes, socks (no nylons) a black or dark blue skirt, (which can't be above the top of the knee cap), and a tailored white blouse. To dress them up, we can wear sweaters, shells, vests, jackets and panchos.

In a neighboring school girls wear $20 and $30 suits to school, and their nylon bill is ridiculous. We think we're lucky—we can save our money for really nice date clothes, and still come out ahead.

As a break from the uniforms we have a mufti day once each month, and on the last week of school we can wear whatever we please.

The boys have no uniform, but they must tuck their shirttails in and otherwise be neat. — FOR SCHOOL UNIFORMS

DEAR HELEN:

Please, please, no school uniforms! Adults are always yelling about teens being conformists, and then one of them suggests the ultimate in conforming. Ug!

If a girl knows how to shop wisely and mix and match she doesn't have to spend a fortune on clothes.

Please, too, adults — don't suggest we go back to babyish bobby sox. Nylons aren't so expensive if you wash them out every night and take care of them. — AGAINST UNIFORMS

DEAR HELEN:

I went to parochial school and then public school. I liked the uniforms best. And I hate nylons for everyday wear! — JENNELLE

DEAR READERS:

Surprise! Surprise! I figured not one teen in 50 would go for school uniforms, and whaddayaknow — the vote is running 60 per cent in favor! This mostly from girls who do not presently wear uniforms, resent the expense and bother of "keeping up with Miss Jones." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About nylons: If you'll spray them with a new spray that guards against snags, you'll save more than twice your hosiery bill. It's called "Run Stop." — DISCOVERER

DEAR HELEN:

This fella is real cool but he dates another girl. We have the lead in the school play and we parctice every night.

He tells me he is very backward about learning lines. He always goofs them up on one scene — just after we kiss. So we have to go back and kiss again, maybe six or seven times.

What would you call this "backward" boy? — INTERESTED

DEAR IN:

. . . Forward! . . . And hopeful Happy dating! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I got three "B's" and two "C's" on my report card, and for this I'm grounded six weeks, or until I get all "A's." Helen, I can never make straight "A" grades. My Dad won't help because he doesn't want to argue with my mother who makes the rules. Isn't she unfair? — IGNORAMUS

DEAR IG:

She certainly is! And so is your Dad if he doesn't set her straight.

All grounding and no play doesn't produce straight "A's" . . . which aren't that important anyway. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Lunch, Style Showing Will Be Given By St. Anselm's

"How Does Your Garden Grow?" will be the theme of the annual salad bowl luncheon and fashion show sponsored on Feb. 7 by the St. Anselm's Parent-Teacher's Guild.

The affair, with the eighth grade girls modeling, will be held at noon in the school auditorium, San Anselmo.

Committee chairmen are Mesdames Robert Mellin and Harry Howard, general chairmen; Mario Brenta and Charles McNamara, arrangements; Allen Conroy, awards; Walter Carter, clean-up; John Erlwein, decorations; Sherman Little, fashions; James Knox, commentator; Ira Johnson and Victor Bonfilio, salads; John Rippe and Hollis Locke, dessert and coffee; Bruce Holman, posters and programs; George Stempel Jr., publicity; Robert Sisler and W. G. Thompson, reservations; and John McNaboe, waitresses.

Smart Look

Customers who get their hair dyed and spend hours in the beauty salon soon will have a smarter than ordinary outfit to wear while getting the treatment. Instead of the conventional baggy, wrap-around smock many beauty shops are planning to wrap milady in style, according to one manufacturer of uniforms. The firm, Work-Wear, has just designed a muu-muu wrap for ILA's beauty salon in New York. The wrap has full and easy sleeves, a rounded neckline, and a hem that stops above the knees.

Markets Report Good Supply Of Fruits And Vegetables

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Offerings in the meat, fruit, and vegetable counters will be uneven this weekend. In some areas, markets report a good supply of fruits and vegetables but a slow-down in the supply of meats. A few areas, however, report enough meats, but a slight decrease in produce items, probably reflecting diffimany areas during the past few months.

Shoppers should not have difficulty obtaining weekend steaks, especially the chuck cut. Otherwise rib and chuck roasts are available in good quantity.

Chops and ham lead off the pork list, with loin roasts, and smoked picnics following.

Lamb is mentioned by quite a few areas queried by the consumer and marketing service reporters. Leg cut roasts seem to be the best in supply.

Eggs are noted as reasonable buys for this weekend too.

Vegetables in good supply for weekend shopping are carrots, celery, lettuce, potatoes, and tomatoes.

Fruits in plentiful supply are avocados, bananas, grapefruit and oranges.

Nationally, canned salmon is a plentiful fish.

In the West: Food shoppers will find eggs 1 to 2 cents a dozen lower in most West Coast markets, except San Francisco where they are unchanged.

A downward trend was also noted on ready-to-cook turkeys which declined 1 to 3 cents in most markets. Fryer chickens advanced 2 cents in the northwest, however.

Among choice steer beef cuts, ribs declined from 1 to 3 cents all along the coast, while rounds and chucks are slightly higher in some markets. Pork prices are uneven with loins generally 1 to 3 cents higher. Sliced bacon up 2 to 3 cents and boston butts up 2 cents in the Northwest and as much as 3 cents lower in San Francisco.

An abundance of fruits and vegetables is still in best supply on the West Coast including apples, avocados, grapefruit, grapes, oranges, pears, carrots, celery, lettuce and potatoes.

Available in the West are: canned salmon, halibut steaks, crab and crab meat, and fish sticks and portions.

Regional Meeting Planned For Toastmistress Clubs

Council 3, Sierra Nevada Region of the International Toastmistress Club, will meet at the Lodge in Novato on Saturday with Novato as the host group.

Mrs. Lawrence Coleman of the Novato club will officiate. Mrs. Carrie T. Smith, instructor of the Napa Junior College will be the speaker and review a book, "The Ill Spoken Word" by Leonard A. Stevens.

Regional coordinator, Mrs. Al Yokota of Sacramento will be assisted by Mrs. Utako Kimura. Mrs. Paul Satur of Sausalito will conduct a workshop on speech contests.

Clubs participating are Marin Club, San Rafael Club, Napa and Santa Rosa Clubs and Novato.

Also on the program which will start at 9:30 a.m. will be Mrs. Pearl Brklacich of Napa, Mrs. John Haines of Novato and Mrs. Charlotte Dehl of San Rafael.

The closing thought will be given by Betty Higgins of San Rafael.

Close Before Washing

Shopping in the Village with Carol King and Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

Going, going, almost gone . . . don't miss this final week of the Village-wide, semi-annual clearance sales. Wonderful bargains are waiting for you at most Village shops. Window shoppers welcome at STRAWBERRY!

HAPPY HOUSE

No reason the kitchen shouldn't enjoy a touch of springtime, so sayeth HAPPY HOUSE. They are featuring a "think pink sale" now on those wonderful Guild brand canisters, in pink enamel on steel. Savings are a full 50% . . . canisters now $6.50 . . . stackaways, $5.00 . . . cookie jar, $4.25 . . . and the tidbit size stackable, $3.25. These pink canisters from HAPPY HOUSE would make a pretty (and useful) Valentine gift.

Let's consider the dinner party . . . (wait a minute, dear, we mean the type of dinner party when the hostess enjoys herself). We have found we can toss a perfectly elegant, and delicious, dinner party for "a few" or "a gang" . . . planned ahead or impromptu. Our secret is not really magic . . . just a bit of "kitchen wizardry" from Louis Reimers, Master Chef at L'ENTREE. Louis will cater an intime dinner au deux, or a big bash for hundreds, with equal ease and e'lan. Louis does the cooking and the compliments are all yours.

A bowl of spring flowers is a sure-fire room-brightener. (Does wonders for a mid-winter, gloomy mood, too.) ALBERTA OF MARIN has new arrivals of imported spring flowers now . . . so take in your favorite container and ALBERTA will fill it with "instant springtime." Be sure to inquire about ALBERTA'S classes and learn the "how to" of these artfully artificial arrangements.

Yes, we agree taxes are inevitable . . . now we've found a book to explain just what we're complaining about. CAPRICORN BOOKS offers J. K. Lasser's "Your Income Tax." This tax tome has all the latest up-to-date information, so even if your complaints fall upon deaf ears, at least you can be sure your complaining is current. If that thought doesn't do anything for you, CAPRICORN BOOKS assures us this book is tax deductible (so we'll just have to read it to find out why).

The Fleischman label has been a favorite with us for years, so we were happy to see that the traditional early group of Fleischman denims has arrived at THE LITTLE DAISY (one of the few Bay Area shops chosen to carry this much-looked-for early denim collection). This year, colors are light blue with pink in nicely coordinated sportswear . . . blouses, bermudas, skirts, jackets, shifts et al. If you are not familiar with the Fleischman fashions at THE LITTLE DAISY, you may be interested to know they always maintain their flattering and classic (but not dull) woman's cut . . . no matter where Carnaby Street has placed (or misplaced?) hems and waistlines.

Always an excellent choice of styles and fabrics at EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP, selected especially for Bay Area suburban-city living. The spring line at this shop, including new shipments of dresses and capri pants, features marvelous "hot" colors that are fair competition for bright spring sunshine. Wonderful waiting wear!

Learned the other day that the postmen aren't the only ones to forge through rain, wind, etc. Devoted customers at The HICK'RY PIT show up regularly, no matter what the weather, to enjoy those great barbecued spareribs. These rightfully famous ribs are available to take out also at $1.90 per meaty pound. Complete barbecue dinners "to go" at The HICK'RY PIT too, from their reasonably priced menu of family favorites.

Town & Country Village
Shopping Center for Marin

Highway 101 at Belvedere-Tiburon Turnoff, Mill Valley, phone 388-4523

Valentines galore at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP . . . from cute to kookie . . . romantic to risque'. Be sure to see the newest entries in the cupid department . . . "Burlaffs" and "Loverlies." All sorts of Valentine party goods at ROJEAN'S, too.

"Dear MUTTS OF MARIN, Son of a gun, for one panicky minute there, I thought this man's best friend had lost her best friend. With my trusty schnoz to the ground and each sensitive sense aquiver, I tracked you down, you rascals, you. There you were under that good old sign that says MUTTS OF MARIN to most people (but to me it says "Mother," "Santa Claus," "steak" and "tax return"). I found your new Village address is #620, and your more-than-double-size new pet emporium faces Reed Blvd. Thought there was something fishy about this new spot and I was right . . . good grief, Fido, they've got aquariums and fish now . . . to say nothing of bird cages, bird feeders and even the birds themselves. And hey, you old MUTTS OF MARIN, you . . . that air-conditioned grooming salon is "too much" . . . like it's "the most" . . . why I felt like I should take a bath before even setting foot in the place. But I really know you love me like I am (dirty) . . . and I love you too, dear MUTTS OF MARIN. As ever, Lisa."

If you too have had trouble coinciding school hours with an optometrist's office hours . . . you'll be interested in this news. DR. JOSEPH POMPURA, OPTOMETRIST, is in his Village office from 10 to 6, Mon. through Sat. (except Wed. is by appointment only).

Let's not monkey around, girls . . . just go ahead and clip this item and plant it smack in front of Friend Husband (or some equally appropriate male line-of-sight). MONKEY BUSINESS has some of the prettiest, most feminine, frankly frilly outrageously romantic Valentine remembrances to please a lady. Besides their Valentine hankies, they offer daintily old-fashioned Valentine sachets . . . like a red satin heart edged with delicate lace. And MONKEY BUSINESS has some great new jewelry to blow away winter doldrums . . . many shapes in necklaces, earrings, bracelets etc. . . . all in WOW colors!

Only Glenn Miller could have expressed a string of pearls better than those beauties at deBEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. These opera length strands of shell pearls are offered at the very special price of $35.00.

Discovered a new line of bras by Charm-Fit at THE HOUR GLASS. Prices range from $4.00 to $11.00 . . . colors are white, black and nude . . . fabrics, nylon lace or a combination of cotton, dacron (polyester fiber) and nylon. Pretty! More news from THE HOUR GLASS . . . a new corselette by Lily of France, designed with an under-wired bra, especially for the fuller figure. (No comment . . . people who live in glass houses, etc.)

Decided the other day that those ancient emperors had a darn good deal going . . . if KUBLAI KHAN is any indication of their mode of life. This beautiful restaurant is quietly elegant in decor and the table appointments are lovely. KUBLAI KHAN menu is fit for an emperor, too . . . marvelous Chinese, Polynesian and American cuisine, to be enjoyed in a tranquil, unhurried atmosphere. We have found this restaurant equally nice for luncheon and dinner and feel certain you will agree.

Shopping in the Village with Carol King and Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

Going, going, almost gone . . . don't miss this final week of the Village-wide, semi-annual clearance sales. Wonderful bargains are waiting for you at most Village shops. Window shoppers welcome at STRAWBERRY!

HAPPY HOUSE

No reason the kitchen shouldn't enjoy a touch of springtime, so sayeth HAPPY HOUSE. They are featuring a "think pink sale" now on those wonderful Guild brand canisters, in pink enamel on steel. Savings are a full 50% . . . canisters now $6.50 . . . stackaways, $5.00 . . . cookie jar, $4.25 . . . and the tidbit size stackable, $3.25. These pink canisters from HAPPY HOUSE would make a pretty (and useful) Valentine gift.

Let's consider the dinner party . . . (wait a minute, dear, we mean the type of dinner party when the hostess enjoys herself). We have found we can toss a perfectly elegant, and delicious, dinner party for "a few" or "a gang" . . . planned ahead or impromptu. Our secret is not really magic . . . just a bit of "kitchen wizardry" from Louis Reimers, Master Chef at L'ENTREE. Louis will cater an intime dinner au deux, or a big bash for hundreds, with equal ease and e'lan. Louis does the cooking and the compliments are all yours.

A bowl of spring flowers is a sure-fire room-brightener. (Does wonders for a mid-winter, gloomy mood, too.) ALBERTA OF MARIN has new arrivals of imported spring flowers now . . . so take in your favorite container and ALBERTA will fill it with "instant springtime." Be sure to inquire about ALBERTA'S classes and learn the "how to" of these artfully artificial arrangements.

Yes, we agree taxes are inevitable . . . now we've found a book to explain just what we're complaining about. CAPRICORN BOOKS offers J. K. Lasser's "Your Income Tax." This tax tome has all the latest up-to-date information, so even if your complaints fall upon deaf ears, at least you can be sure your complaining is current. If that thought doesn't do anything for you, CAPRICORN BOOKS assures us this book is tax deductible (so we'll just have to read it to find out why).

The Fleischman label has been a favorite with us for years, so we were happy to see that the traditional early group of Fleischman denims has arrived at THE LITTLE DAISY (one of the few Bay Area shops chosen to carry this much-looked-for early denim collection). This year, colors are light blue with pink in nicely coordinated sportswear . . . blouses, bermudas, skirts, jackets, shifts et al. If you are not familiar with the Fleischman fashions at THE LITTLE DAISY, you may be interested to know they always maintain their flattering and classic (but not dull) woman's cut . . . no matter where Carnaby Street has placed (or misplaced?) hems and waistlines.

Always an excellent choice of styles and fabrics at EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP, selected especially for Bay Area suburban-city living. The spring line at this shop, including new shipments of dresses and capri pants, features marvelous "hot" colors that are fair competition for bright spring sunshine. Wonderful waiting wear!

THIS LITTLE PIGGY HAS LOTS OF FRIENDS!

Learned the other day that the postmen aren't the only ones to forge through rain, wind, etc. Devoted customers at The HICK'RY PIT show up regularly, no matter what the weather, to enjoy those great barbecued spareribs. These rightfully famous ribs are available to take out also at $1.90 per meaty pound. Complete barbecue dinners "to go" at The HICK'RY PIT too, from their reasonably priced menu of family favorites.

Valentines galore at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP . . . from cute to kookie . . . romantic to risque'. Be sure to see the newest entries in the cupid department . . . "Burlaffs" and "Loverlies." All sorts of Valentine party goods at ROJEAN'S, too.

"Dear MUTTS OF MARIN, Son of a gun, for one panicky minute there, I thought this man's best friend had lost her best friend. With my trusty schnoz to the ground and each sensitive sense aquiver, I tracked you down, you rascals, you. There you were under that good old sign that says MUTTS OF MARIN to most people (but to me it says "Mother," "Santa Claus," "steak" and "tax return"). I found your new Village address is #620, and your more-than-double-size new pet emporium faces Reed Blvd. Thought there was something fishy about this new spot and I was right . . . good grief, Fido, they've got aquariums and fish now . . . to say nothing of bird cages, bird feeders and even the birds themselves. And hey, you old MUTTS OF MARIN, you . . . that air-conditioned grooming salon is "too much" . . . like it's "the most" . . . why I felt like I should take a bath before even setting foot in the place. But I really know you love me like I am (dirty) . . . and I love you too, dear MUTTS OF MARIN. As ever, Lisa."

If you too have had trouble coinciding school hours with an optometrist's office hours . . . you'll be interested in this news. DR. JOSEPH POMPURA, OPTOMETRIST, is in his Village office from 10 to 6, Mon. through Sat. (except Wed. is by appointment only).

Let's not monkey around, girls . . . just go ahead and clip this item and plant it smack in front of Friend Husband (or some equally appropriate male line-of-sight). MONKEY BUSINESS has some of the prettiest, most feminine, frankly frilly outrageously romantic Valentine remembrances to please a lady. Besides their Valentine hankies, they offer daintily old-fashioned Valentine sachets . . . like a red satin heart edged with delicate lace. And MONKEY BUSINESS has some great new jewelry to blow away winter doldrums . . . many shapes in necklaces, earrings, bracelets etc. . . . all in WOW colors!

Only Glenn Miller could have expressed a string of pearls better than those beauties at deBEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. These opera length strands of shell pearls are offered at the very special price of $35.00.

Discovered a new line of bras by Charm-Fit at THE HOUR GLASS. Prices range from $4.00 to $11.00 . . . colors are white, black and nude . . . fabrics, nylon lace or a combination of cotton, dacron (polyester fiber) and nylon. Pretty! More news from THE HOUR GLASS . . . a new corselette by Lily of France, designed with an under-wired bra, especially for the fuller figure. (No comment . . . people who live in glass houses, etc.)

Decided the other day that those ancient emperors had a darn good deal going . . . if KUBLAI KHAN is any indication of their mode of life. This beautiful restaurant is quietly elegant in decor and the table appointments are lovely. KUBLAI KHAN menu is fit for an emperor, too . . . marvelous Chinese, Polynesian and American cuisine, to be enjoyed in a tranquil, unhurried atmosphere. We have found this restaurant equally nice for luncheon and dinner and feel certain you will agree.

Base Commander's Wife Named 'Volunteer Of Year'

Mrs. Robert L. Murdy, wife of Major Murdy, commander of the 1809th Support Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been awarded the Air Defense Command's Volunteer of the Year award at the semiannual family services award luncheon at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mrs. Murdy, a Hamilton family services vounteer worker, was presented an engraved plaque by Col. Charles L. Praul, base commander. Col. Praul also awarded her the 1,000 hour guard saying it was for her outstanding service with the family service program and for devoting so much of her time to assisting those persons who indeed needed assistance.

Mrs. Donald Bryant, family services coordinator said that the family services center would have had to close several times except for her untiring efforts.

Mrs. Amy Alvis, wife of S/Sgt. Alvis, was also the recipient of the 1,000 hour guard.

Others receiving awards were Mesdames Vicki Prater, Erika Tollozyk, Marilyn Weatherford, Afton Stark and Rita Culpepper, family service pins; Mrs. James E. Waymire and Mrs. John R. Duree, first year stripes; Mrs. Melvin J. Pasta, two year stripe and 250 hours guard. Colonel Praul also presented the Air Force times certificates to Mrs. Murdy and Mrs. Alvis.

The Hamilton family service volunteers, with 40 active members, was established to provide services to Air Force families.

The families are aided with problems, many of which arise in the absence of the military sponsor or temporary tours of duty or during more extended period of family separation. Wives are told of benefits, services and facilities which are available to them, and families are advised on programs of personal, local and national interest in the community in which they live. Active duty and retired Air Force personnel and their dependents are also aided.

'THE MAGIC FLUTE'

Krips Will Take His Mozart Magic To The New York Met

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The man who revived Vienna's musical life in the grim days just after World War II is about to bring his magic to New York.

Josef Krips, now conductor and musical director of the San Francisco Symphony, leaves Friday for New York to prepare for 10 productions of Mozart's "The Magic Flute" at the Metropolitan Opera.

ENGLISH OUT

As far as Krips is concerned, he is having none of this "opera in English" business. Although the Met customarily presents the "Flute" in English, it will be sung in German as long as Krips is in the pit. In fact, the Metis billing it as "Zauberflote."

"In English, it would be the flute without the magic," Krips said.

But there are other unusual features about the production. First, it will be Krips's debut at the Met. The opera will be given with two alternate all-star casts. Marc Chagall, whose murals adorn the foyer of the new opera house, has designed the scenery and the costumes, his first for the operatic stage. The entire production is being staged by Guenther Rennert.

The first performance will be given on Feb. 19. One of the others, a Saturday matinee on March 4, will be broadcast. And the chances are a lot of people across the nation will be listening to a performance conducted by a man acclaimed as one of the foremost Mozart interpreters of our time.

"Four years ago, I was asked to conduct the "Magic Flute" in English, but I refused," Krips said. "It can be done in no other language but German. Otherwise its charm would be lost."

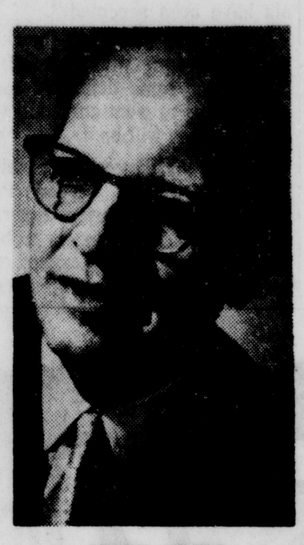
Krips emphasized he has nothing against English as such. He objects on purely musical lines to singing a work in any but the original tongue.

ORIGINAL BEST

"Translation changes the vocal line," he said. "It is simply not the same."

To demonstrate, Krips sang the "Toreador" song from "Carmen" in German, marching around his dressing room at San Francisco's War Memorial Opera House as he did so.

Krips first conducted the "Flute" 41 years ago at Karlsruhe, Germany, and he estimated he has conducted it 70 or 80 times in his career. He is now 64. Does he ever get tried of it?



JOSEF KRIPS
A master of Mozart

"Absolutely not!" he said emphatically. "It is a work which has all kinds of music—a Bach-like chorale, street songs, Italian arias, great choral finales, operetta pieces. Every one of these must be brought out.

NEW BEAUTIES

"Every time I conduct the 'Flute', I discover new beauties. If I did not, it would be a routine performance—and that I hate. Human life is too short to know one masterwork to perfection."

Krips is a big, portly man who has mild-looking Dresden blue eyes and a cherubic face. But appearances are deceiving. He knows what he wants in music-perfection. He will settle for nothing less.

In four years, Krips has transformed the San Francisco Symphony into one of the finest orchestras in the nation.

NAZI BAN

Banned by the Nazis, Krips worked during the war as a laborer in a food-processing factory. After Vienna was liberated in April, 1945, Krips was charged with the task of rebuilding the Austrian capital's musical institutions. One month later, he presented Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," the first in a long series of postwar musical triumphs.

Krips is no stranger to New York, having conducted the New York Philharmonic and the Buffalo Philharmonic. He joined the San Francisco orchestra in 1963 and now divides his time between San Francisco and Vienna.

Coeds Rescued From Risky Voyage Without A Paddle

Two 18-year-old College of Marin girls, both residents of San Rafael, went to sea in a eight-foot boat yesterday, armed with only a scrawny stick for a paddle.

Three men of the Marin County Sheriff's Patrol were credited with saving their lives.

Lynne D. Thornhill of 169 Novato Street and Deborah R. Pfeffer of 129 Park Street were drifting idly on Las Gallinas Creek in a friend's small, fiberglass boat, when the tide started pulling them to sea, accordig to Vic Muzio of the marine patrol.

Mrs. Hazel Eddings of Buck's Landing at the mouth of the creek heard screaming and at 2:35 p. m. and looked out the window to see the frantic girls drifting into the bay. She called the marine patrol.

Bowen Bridges, Charles W. Yancey and William Muggenthaler Sr. took them aboard their 30-foot patrol boat near Red Island, an hour later. They were soggy but safe.

"It could have been a real tragedy," said Muzio. "They didn't have life preservers and the boat didn't even have built-in flotation."

Bagley Gets Committee Leadership

Bagley is also in line for a post on the State Judicial Council, because traditionally the chairman of judiciary is named to that post by the speaker.

Assemblyman Bagley was also named to the government organization and revenue and taxation committees.

Immediately after the appointment, Bagley announced that James Reed of San Rafael, who is affiliated with Bagley's San Rafael law office, will become a fulltime staff consultant to the judiciary committee in Sacramento.

Mother Is Booked After Child's Plea

After San Anselmo police arrested a woman whose 10-year-old daughter had been trying to get her out of a San Anselmo bar, sheriff's deputies at Marin County jail found a marijuana-like substance in the woman's purse, according to police.

Someone called police at 9:45 p.m. reporting that a girl was trying to get her mother out of Jean's Bit O'Bohemia at 609 San Anselmo Avenue.

Police found Linda Kay MacDonald, 10, sitting in front of the bar, and arrested Martha Jean MacDonald, 32, of Alta Road, Lagunitas, for being publicly drunk when she came out of the bar.

As she was being booked at the county jail, deputies found a vial containing a substance resembling marijuana in her purse, and confiscated it.

The daughter was taken to a receiving home. Mrs. MacDonald was released on $29 bail.

Theft Of Cameras

Two shotguns, a 22 caliber rifle and an automatic pistol were taken from the home of Raymond A. Dahlman, 419 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, last night, according to Corte Madera police.

Water District Asks For Marincello Land

Marin Municipal Water District will petition the Local Agency Formation Commission to annex 1,692 acres of Marincello, directors decided yesterday.

The district will charge Frouge Corp. $51,989 annexation fee, to be paid in $10,000 annual installments with five per cent interest on the unpaid balance, and $15,000 additional for water and sewer reports which are being prepared.

Marin County fire cheifs have requested the water district to allow various fire districts and departments to borrow funds from each other out of the $61,000 credit balance that has accrued through their payments of hydrant rentals. The loans would be used for 50-50 fireline extension agreements with the district.

Board members agree this would be beneficial to the district as it would help to improve firelines all over the county. But they felt the fire districts should be responsible to set up and administer the program. The board passed a resolution approving the program in principle.

The board authorized an application to the wildlife conservation board for a grant to construct recreational facilities a Phoenix Lake. Under the proposal, the state would lease the land and the county would operate it for recreation. The Town of Ross plans to use part of this area for picnic grounds.

The Marin Municipal Water District Board also:

1. Approved a fiscal amendment to permit installation of a 24-inch extension line in the Puerto Suello area at a cost of $16,000.

2. Extended for 60 days a rehabilitation contract with Soilad Co. of San Rafael because of a work delay caused by storms.

3. Decided to rehire a former employee, Jerry D. Brunner Jr. as senior engineering aide at $729 monthly.

Fire Equipment Is Approved

The Kentfield Fire Commission last night approved purchase of $555 in protective equipment.

This includes seven turnout coats at $35 each, and two voice masks, which contain breathing apparatus and voice amplifiers for $120 each.

The commission discussed purchase of a portable fire pump, but made no decision.

School Design Architect Is Appointed

Bolinas-Stinson School District trustees last night appointed San Francisco architect William M. Gillis to design a building program for the district.

Gillis was among 18 architects who applied for the job, reported trustee Arthur E. Carpenter. Trustees set a special meeting with Gillis Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Bolinas School to begin the planning.

A $275,000 bond election will be held March 21 to finance district needs for the next 10 years.

Trustees accepted resignations, effective June 30, of Mildred Sadler, third and fourth grade teacher at Stinson Beach School, and Louise Airey, second and third grade teacher at Stinson Beach. Mrs. Sadler has been with the district 41 years, and Mrs. Airey for 25 years.

Trustees adopted a retirement policy to permit one-year contracts for teachers after age 65 if recommended by the principal.

'THE MAGIC FLUTE'

Krips Will Take His Mozart Magic To The New York Met

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The man who revived Vienna's musical life in the grim days just after World War II is about to bring his magic to New York.

Josef Krips, now conductor and musical director of the San Francisco Symphony, leaves Friday for New York to prepare for 10 productions of Mozart's "The Magic Flute" at the Metropolitan Opera.

Reagan Stands Ground On Campus Strategy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Reagan is standing his ground today in the face of attacks on his education policies and the firing of Clark Kerr president of the University of California.

A proposed march on the capitol at Sacramento—called for by members of the California Federation of Teachers — brought this comment yesterday from Reagan:

"You mean they're really going to walk all that way? Some of them can't walk across the campus!"

The new Republican governor was speaking in an interview as student leaders from eight University of California campuses announced they were uniting to oppose him.

After denouncing last Friday's ouster of Kerr, student leaders said they also oppose the imposition of tuition fees and a cut in university budgets—both proposed by Reagan.

Faculty groups on three campuses added their voices to criticism of Kerr's firing, for which Reagan voted as a member of the board of regents.

"The excellence of higher education is in jeopardy," the UCLA Academic Senate declared in a resolution adopted yesterday.

"We are profoundly disturbed at the dismissal of President Clark Kerr," echoed the Academic Senate of UC's Santa Cruz campus.

"It was contrary to the fundamental interests of the university," said the university's San Diego faculty.

Student body officers say they want to see students consulted in picking a successor to Kerr and a student named to the Board of Regents as an ex-officio member.

Said Dan McIntosh, president of the Associated Students on the Berkeley campus: "Politics is the art of the possible, and we're interested in getting results."

"We're going to play the same political game as the governor," added Bob Michaels, UCLA student body president.

Student leaders also from the Davis, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Irvine, San Francisco and Riverside campuses took part in yesterday's meeting in Los Angeles. Only the newest of the nine campuses—at Santa Cruz—was not represented because it has no organized student body, McIntosh said.

State College Faculties Prod Trustees To React

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California state college trustees faced prodding by faculty members today to take action against Gov. Reagan's proposed higher education budget cuts and tuition.

Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke said yesterday he planned no changes in his freeze on new student admissions and cutbacks in faculty hiring until he sees the governor's budget next week.

But the Assn. of State College Professors, representing about half the faculty, said the chancellor's actions "have indicated a kind of behind-the-scene negotiation which suggests that the basic premises of the Reagan administration about the fiscal problems in California have been accepted."

Dumke said he'd been "working very closely with state officials about some definitive assurances as to what our budgetary problems will be."

Earlier, the trustees met with Finance Director Gordon P. Smith in a closed session, apparently to discuss budget problems. Ross Y. Koen, executive secretary of the professors group, said the closed meeting violated a law.

Dumke said he had absolute assurance from the trustees' lawyer that the meeting was legal.

The trustees' faculty and staff affairs committee approved a report from Dumke's office saying morale of college professors was low because of the budget controversy.

The report called for repairing the damage with greatest speed and said an 18.5 per cent pay raise would be necessary to make the colleges competive with other instutitions.

The colleges are asking $213 million in the 1967-68 budget, but Dumke says Reagan's proposal would cut the budget to $168.4 million.

Minor Parties Given Boost

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Greenback, Prohibitionist and other minor political parties would have new life in California presidential ballots under a proposed Senate bill.

Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, introduced yesterday a measure to allow minor parties to nominate presidential candidates and electors at a pre - primary convention of at least 300 delegates.

The Prohibitionists, last minor party on the California ballot, failed in 1964 to meet requirements that party registration equal one - fifteenth of one per cent total voter registration.

Building Study

The Marin Junior College District board will have a study session on plans for a new science building with architects of Falk and Booth Co., San Francisco, and science faculty Monday at 7:30 p. m. in room G3 of the physical education building.

Education Board Vacancy Application Deadline Set

Candidates for appointment to the San Rafael Board of Education should submit statements of candidacy to City Clerk W. C. Cornwell before Feb. 1, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen announced today.

The appointment will be to fill out the term of Walter B. Castro Jr., which expires in April, 1969. Castro submitted his resignation, because of delicate health, at Tuesday night's board meeting.

Four members of the city council, at a Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen dinner last night, said they hope to make the appointment at the Feb. 6 council meeting. Mayor C. Paul Betttini did not attend the dinner as he is out of town.

City Clerk Cornwell said today he has not yet received any application for the appointment. However, two names were already being mentioned for the post.

The two are John D. LaNoue, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. who served on the city charter revision committee and is a member of the city personnel board, and Fred. C. Robbins Jr., attorney who is chairman of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

LaNoue reportedly is being backed by former board member Rex T. Silvernale and others who backed the winning candidates for the board in the election two years ago: Castro and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. LaNoue said he would not seek the appointment, but would accept it if it were offered.

Bermuda is 677 miles southeast of New York.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1967 — 21

SEARCHES RUINS — Mrs. Paula Anderson searched through scorched dresser for her jewelry on returning from work yesterday to find her home at 1901 Benton Lane, Novato, had been swept by fire. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mayors Spurn Local Agency Takeover Plan

The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen last night voted against turning the county-city services committee's role over to the County Local Agency Formation Commission, and applauded a supervisor's plea for cities-county cooperation in planning.

A committee of Councilmen Douglas M. Merrill of Novato and Michael Wornum of Mill Valley recommended against a proposal that the city-county services committee merge with the LAFC.

Declared their report:

"The purpose of the committee, to search for and study existing tax inequities which result from cities being taxed by the county for services not received, is a special subject which is not directly related to the broader problem of LAFCO responsibility — namely, governmental organization.

STAFFING CITED

"The present committee has city staff assigned to insure that thorough research is made and that the points of view of cities are properly represented. LAFCO, on the other hand, has county staff only. . . .

"The original purpose for establishing the committee was sound, . . . its original assignments are not yet completed , and the committee should therefore continue to function until it has accomplished its objectives."

All cities were represented at the dinner meeting at San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere, and all voted for the committee report, although Councilman Louis H. Baar of San Rafael objected that he felt it should not be acted on without time for study.

The plea for planning cooperation was made by Supervisor John F. McInnis, who as mayor of San Rafael was one of the organizers of the Marin Council of Mayors.

McInnis recalled that "two and a half or three years ago, this organization recommended planning of the county and its cities be coordinated but conducted by separate entities."

Since then, he said, there have been several proposals for planning on a unified basis, "but the connotation seems to have been each time that the planning would be conducted by the county."

"These proposals have met little sympathy" from most of the cities, he commented. He said the result has been that "relationships have been strained at best; many city people have had little faith in the county as coordinator of planning."

STORER 'IN ACCORD'

He then promised a new approach, "beginning now," seeking planning coordination "with each entity being equal to the other" and recognition that "each city has within itself the authority to plan its own future."

He said Supervisor Chairman Thomas T. Storer, who attended the dinner but left before McInnis spoke, was "in full accord with this approach."

The Council of Mayors watched a film by Robert Van Blaricom of Tiburon on "The Cruise of the Armorel," with Van Blaricom narrating. It showed a journey he and his wife made from England to the Mediterranean and then across the Atlantic and Caribbean, through the Gulf and up the Pacific Coast to Sausalito aboard a sailing boat.

Next meeting of the council will be Feb. 15 at Bob's in Marin, with Corte Madera as host city.

Kaiser Health Payments Up

Monthly prepayment charges for members of the Kaiser Foundation Health Plan in Northern California will be increased by an average of 15.8 per cent on April 1.

Frank C. Jones, health plan manager, attributed the increase to higher salaries of hospital personnel and increased equipment and supplies costs.

Individual plan increase will be $1.35 for a single member, $2.50 for a couple, and $3.30 for a family.

Television Set Theft Reported

A television set was stolen from the home of Thomas W. Peryam, 18 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo Monday, according to San Anselmo police.

Police said the thief entered the home by forcing a window, and took only the set.

State Team Plans Flood Damage Tour

Eight engineers from the State Disaster Office are due in Marin County next Tuesday to inspect flood damage from last weekend's violent storm, James V. Burdick, county civil defense coordinator, announced today.

The state inspection is being made in response to the Marin County Board of Supervisors' request that the county be declared a disaster area to qualify for state and federal relief.

Burdick urged all private property owners, who had losses during flooding between Friday and Monday, to call his office at Civic Center, giving some estimate of value.

Burdick said he needs all the information he can get prior to 5 p.m. Monday in order to make a comprehensive report to the visiting state investigators. The information collected will also be forwarded to the county assessor's office, Burdick said.

The state inspection team, Burdick said, will estimate flood losses and try to balance that against available public resources for repairs.

Meanwhile, Burdick is waiting on information from the regional office of the U. S. Small Business Administration on whether Marin homeowners qualify for long term, three per cent federal loans to cover repair costs.

Theft From Car

Dale A. Woodall of 108 Professional Center Parkway, Apt. 210, San Rafael told police yesterday someone stole a $50 sewing machine from her car.

Two Girls Hurt In Bus Mishap

Two children were injured yesterday when one of them ran in front of a San Rafael school bus, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Nancy Denise Thompson, 6, of 113 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on her foot. Eve E. Peugh, 7, of Bret Harte Lane, San Rafael, a passenger on the bus, suffered a cut lip.

The bus driver, Claudia A. Sanford, 50, of 49 Blossom Drive, San Rafael, said she was eastbound at about 15 miles an hour on Woodland Avenue about 2:37 p.m. when Nancy ran into the street. She braked, and Nancy was hit by the side of the bus, the left rear wheel passing over her foot. Eve suffered the lip cut when thrown forward by the sudden braking, she reported.

Floor Furnace Blamed For Novato Home Fire

A floor furnace was blamed for a house fire which burned unchecked for more than an hour yesterday in Novato before it was discovered doing between $20,000 and $25,000 damage to the house and contents.

The house at 1901 Benton Lane was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson, but they were away at work. It is owned by J. H. Parr of 38 Washington Street, Novato.

Smoke from the fire was seen by Novato firemen from both the main station and San Marin fire stations. However the house is partially hidden from view at the end of Benton Lane and firemen thought the smoke was from bruning trash or rubbish until they reached the scene.

The fire gutted the stairway to the basement, living room, one bedroom and the adjoining hallway before being controlled. There was considerable smoke damage throughtout the eight-room house. The firemen had to use 1,200 feet of hose to get to the blaze from the nearest fire hydrant.

Arraignment On Petty Theft

Arthur Ray Frazier, 40, was arraigned on a petty theft charge in Marin Municipal Court yesterday and is to enter plea at 2 p.m. next Wednesday.

Frazier, of 515 Eldridge Avenue, Novato, originally was charged with felony theft last June 28 of a 22-foot boat trailer owned by Keith Waddell Smith of 240 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court ruled during a preliminary hearing Monday, however, that value of the trailer was less than $200, making the theft a misdemeanor.

Publisher's Assault Trial Postponed

Assault trial of Marin Guide publisher Harry Johnson, scheduled for today, has been continued in Marin Municipal Court to 9:30 a.m. March 27.

Johnson allegedly drove his car at two San Francisco men picketing the Marin Guide office at 200 Shoreline Highway, Tamalais Valley, on Oct. 7. No one was injured.

Bolinas Plan Session Set By Opposition

Opposition to Bolinas Harbor District plans for development of Bolinas Lagoon will be outlined Saturday at a meeting sponsored by the Bolinas-Stinson Beach unit of the Marin Conservation League.

The meeting, to begin at 2 p.m. at the Bolinas Community Center, will concentrate on adverse findings on the harbor district plan by the Marin County Planning Department, which recently issued a report closely paralleling a conservation league report.

Albert Solnit and Darryl Coneybeare of the county planning staff will speak on "The Community-wide Impact of an Urbanized Lagoon." Coneybeare will exhibit his sketches of the lagoon as visualized before and after development.

David J. Tirrell, acting chairman of the league's Bolinas-Stinson Beach unit, will preside at the meeting. Adm. Harold E. Bramston-Cook, head of the league's study group, will present his views on the proposed harbor plan.

Teen-Ager Missing

Barbara Ann Coons of 15 De Anza Way, San Rafael, reported her son, Michael J. Coons, 18, missing from home yesterday. He had not returned today. She told police she believed he left the house in a car accompanied by a male friend.

Juvenile Hall Cook Killed On Highway 37

George Toy Yee, 67, a cook at Marin County Juvenile Hall, was killed when his car plunged off Highway 37 west of Vallejo Monday.

The California Highway Patrol reported Yee was driving east about 12:10 p. m. when he apparently over corrected the steering after negotiating a curve. The road was wet with rain.

The car hit the soft shoulder of the road, flipped over and Yee was thrown out. He suffered multiple injuries from which he died two hours later in Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Vallejo.

He had been employed as a cook at the juvenile hall for about nine years. Earlier, he was chief cook at the old Marin County Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Lew Fee Toy of Hong Kong and a brother, Wing Kong Toy of Oakland.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Twin Chapels Funeral Home in Vallejo.

Doctors Did Not Give Crash Idea

It was California Highway Patrol officers and not doctors at Novato General Hospital who theorized an epileptic seizure may have caused a car accident in which Mrs. Cynthia S. Bailey of Texas was killed Monday.

Patrol oddicer Teodore E. Maguire said today that officers Frank Furnish of Sonoma and Arthur S. Olson of Marin believed Mrs. Bailey had a seizure prior to driving off Highway 101 north of Novato and hitting a tree.

Tuesday's report in the Independent-Journal said Highway Patrol officers quoted doctors at the hospital.

Pandora Restaurant Allowed To Reopen

The Pandora Restaurant at 112 Spaulding Avenue, San Anselmo, has been allowed to reopen, it was reported by the City of San Anselmo engineering department today.

The restaurant was evacuated and closed last Saturday night after a serious slide on Red Hill blocked part of Spaulding Avenue and imperiled the building. The street has been cleared and both entrances from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard were open today.

Library Bond Meeting Tonight

The citizens committee for the library bond issue in Sausalito will meet today at 8 p. m. in City Hall to review plans to promote passage of the $250,000 bond measure March 7.

A model of the library is on display in the front window of City Hall.

More Sign Ups For Novato Little League

The Novato Little League will hold another sign-up for players Saturday between 1 and 3 p.m. at 1548 Buchanan Street, Novato.

Eligible boys must have birthdates between Aug. 1, 1954, and July 31, 1958, and must be accompanied by a parent or guardian at the sign-ups. There is a $12 fee per family.

Juvenile Hall Cook Killed On Highway 37

George Toy Yee, 67, a cook at Marin County Juvenile Hall, was killed when his car plunged off Highway 37 west of Vallejo Monday.

The California Highway Patrol reported Yee was driving east about 12:10 p. m. when he apparently over corrected the steering after negotiating a curve. The road was wet with rain.

The car hit the soft shoulder of the road, flipped over and Yee was thrown out. He suffered multiple injuries from which he died two hours later in Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Vallejo.

He had been employed as a cook at the juvenile hall for about nine years. Earlier, he was chief cook at the old Marin County Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Lew Fee Toy of Hong Kong and a brother, Wing Kong Toy of Oakland.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Twin Chapels Funeral Home in Vallejo.

Doctors Did Not Give Crash Idea

It was California Highway Patrol officers and not doctors at Novato General Hospital who theorized an epileptic seizure may have caused a car accident in which Mrs. Cynthia S. Bailey of Texas was killed Monday.

Patrol oddicer Teodore E. Maguire said today that officers Frank Furnish of Sonoma and Arthur S. Olson of Marin believed Mrs. Bailey had a seizure prior to driving off Highway 101 north of Novato and hitting a tree.

Tuesday's report in the Independent-Journal said Highway Patrol officers quoted doctors at the hospital.

Pandora Restaurant Allowed To Reopen

The Pandora Restaurant at 112 Spaulding Avenue, San Anselmo, has been allowed to reopen, it was reported by the City of San Anselmo engineering department today.

The restaurant was evacuated and closed last Saturday night after a serious slide on Red Hill blocked part of Spaulding Avenue and imperiled the building. The street has been cleared and both entrances from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard were open today.

Library Bond Meeting Tonight

The citizens committee for the library bond issue in Sausalito will meet today at 8 p. m. in City Hall to review plans to promote passage of the $250,000 bond measure March 7.

A model of the library is on display in the front window of City Hall.

Famous English Women Players Make Mistakes Sometimes, Too

The English won the 1966 European Women's Championship, confirming the general opinion that they outclass the rest of the field.

They're very aggressive bidders but usually find a way to make their overbids.

In today's hand, taken from their match against Norway, one of the English stars missed her way.

Dummy won the first trick with the queen of spades, and declarer took the ace of spades, ruffed a spade and then led a club, hoping the opponents would help her develop the hand.

EAST SIGNALS

West stepped up with the king of clubs and continued with the jack when East signalled with the nine of clubs.

It was then unsafe to lead another club, and West shifted to diamonds, since trumps looked dangerous.

This gave South her chance to make the contract.

She won with the queen of diamonds and needed only to pick up the qeen of trumps.

Unfortunately, declarer started with the king of hearts, and there went the contract.

COUNT THE HAND

West surely had five spades for the overcall, and the play of the clubs indicated that West had four clubs and East only three.

West's switch to a low diamond showed at least three diamonds (with K-x, West would have switched to the king rather than a low card).

In short, West surely held 12 or 13 cards outside of hearts. West held one heart at most, and East held at least three hearts.

If South worked this out (as we always advise our readers to do), she would begin the trumps by leading to dummy's ace and then return the jack of hearts for a finesse.

It was a comforting mistake. The next time you misguess the queen of trumps you can recall that champions do it, too.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs and await developments.

A jump to three hearts is doubtful because you have only 3-card heart support. A jump to 2 notrump is poor because you have no diamond stopper.

Executive Car
'66 BUICK SKYLARK CONVERT
$2995

Here's the biggest creampuff, closest-to-new Buick Skylark convertible in the Bay Area. It's the dealer's wife's car that has just over 5,000 miles on it.

Fire Engine red with white nylon top, red bucket seats, center console, power steering, automatic, power windows, w/w tires and V8 engine. All the Buick luxury extras.

Never been registered. She has driven the car to transport kids most of the time, just like the average Marin County mother. Carries the full 2-year or 24,000 mile G.M. guarantee just like a brand new '67 Buick.

The new car sticker price in the window says it sold new for $4000 but we'll sell this almost-new Skylark for only $2995 for a saving of $1000 off the new car price, yet with all the new car guarantees.

Executive Car
'66 BUICK SKYLARK CONVERT
$2995

Here's the biggest creampuff, closest-to-new Buick Skylark convertible in the Bay Area. It's the dealer's wife's car that has just over 5,000 miles on it.

Fire Engine red with white nylon top, red bucket seats, center console, power steering, automatic, power windows, w/w tires and V8 engine. All the Buick luxury extras.

Never been registered. She has driven the car to transport kids most of the time, just like the average Marin County mother. Carries the full 2-year or 24,000 mile G.M. guarantee just like a brand new '67 Buick.

The new car sticker price in the window says it sold new for $4000 but we'll sell this almost-new Skylark for only $2995 for a saving of $1000 off the new car price, yet with all the new car guarantees.

RED GUARDS TURN TO SIGN PAINTING

Communist China's militant Red Guards are reported filling every available space with so-called "Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung." Staff photographer Hideaki Mitsuishi of Tokyo's Yomiuri Shimbun, who recently visited China as an ordinary tourist, found these quotes alongside a tree-lined road in Canton in South China.

Students 'Hang' Governor Again

FRESNO (AP)—For the second time this month, Gov. Reagan has been hanged in effigy in Fresno.

Fresno State College students protesting proposed tuition and possible higher education budget cuts, hanged an effigy of the governor Jan. 8 from a college administration building.

Last night, Fresno sheriff's deputies cut an effigy of the state's chief executive from a tree in Courthouse Park, in the downtown area of Fresno. A sign with Reagan's name printed on it was pinned on the figure.

Officers said they did not know who was responsible.

Snow Hits Midwest; Funnels In Oklahoma

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The nation was a contrast in winter storms today as another major snowstorm struck the Midlands and a tornado touched down in Oklahoma.

Freezing rain made driving hazardous in a dozen states from the Southwest to the Ohio Valley and pea-soup fog blanketed four eastern states.

The new snowstorm produced up to eight inches of snow at Kirksville, Mo., six at Kansas City and St. Joseph and caused the closing of schools in Southeast Iowa.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

Schools also were closed in many parts of Kansas and Missouri as winds clocked at 35 miles an hour drifted roads closed, knocked out power lines and virtually paralyzed Columbia, Mo. with foot-deep snow.

At Kirksville, hospitals called in for emergency duty personnel who lived within walking distance. The Kansas City Power and Light Co., said its the worst storm in the area in nearly 20 years.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were posted for most of the Midwest as the storm system pushed eastward and sleet fell intermittently with the snow.

STORM WARNING

A severe thunderstorm warning was issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau for parts of Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas for today.

The center of the storm moved across the central and southern Rockies Wednesday night, dropping up to four feet of new snow and triggering avalanches. One of the heaviest snowfalls in recent years was reported in Utah where Alta ski resort measured 55 inches on the ground. Up to two feet of snow was reported in Colorado's mountains.

A tornado spawned by cold air moving across the Southwest ripped through the Owasso, Okla., area yesterday night, tearing down power lines and injuring a family of four. A twister also damaged several buildings in Sequoyah and Foyil, Okla., and caused a power failure at Claremore. High winds believed to have been a tornado also hit Clinton, Okla., and Tulsa was hit by heavy rain and hail.

ICY LANDING

A Braniff 707 jet airliner slid off an icy runway last night at the Kansas City Mid-Continent International Airport, but no injuries were reported.

Because of icy roads, hazardous driving warnings were posted in parts of Arizona, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, India, Wisconsin and Ohio.

More than four inches of snow were expected to fall from Kansas to lower Michigan with some parts of Illinois getting as much as eight inches.

The snow fell heavily in Chicago, snarling commuter traffic while cutting visibility near the downtown area to less than a city block. Officials at O'Hare International Airport, the nation's busiest airport, reported that although snowfall was heavy and visibility severely limited, traffic was normal.

FOG IN EAST

A fog that covered parts of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania yesterday caused the closing of three major airports, including Kennedy International, LaGuardia and Newark, but all three resumed normal operations at daylight today.

Following on the heels of the Midwest snowstorm is a cold air mass which plummeted temperatures to 24 below zero at Thief River Falls and 21 below at Bemidji, both in Minnesota.

In direct contrast mild weather was reported over the Gulf and Atlantic Coast with Miami Beach recording 73 degrees.

Membership Meeting Set By Civic Affairs Council

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night made plans for the annual membership meeting March 1, including a panel discussion on "How Citizens Can Take Part in Development of a County-Wide General Plan."

The session will begin at 9 p.m. at the Civic Center. Also on the agenda will be election of officers for 1967, council vice chairman Ezilda Lucheta reported.

Members of the panel will include John Hirten, executive director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Agency and Paul C. Zucker, Marin County planning director.

Council directors learned that Betty Pierce, Ann Anderson and Charles J. Hendrickson of the Citizens Advisory Committee will be willing to serve on a council subcommittee which will take over the advisory committee's duties in connection with the county's "workable program on housing," which is required as a condition of federal grants for low-income housing development.

Council directors agreed to drop the plan to review the county budget for fiscal 1968, after learning that the Marin Property Owners Assn. and the League of Women Voters had declined to join in the study, Mrs. Lucheta reported.

Pleads Guilty To Furlough Skip

Owen K. Perry, 40, of Martinez, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to failure to return to Marin County jail from work furlough on April 8, 1965.

Judge Hadden W. Roth certified the felony case to Marin Superior Court for judgment.

Perry was serving a year in jail for forgery when he departed. Contra Costa sheriff's officers arrested him on a drunk charge and returned him here Jan. 13.

Charge, Denial In ROTC Spy Order Uproar

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Army Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets were told at a secret session at the University of Washington last October to collect information on students and faculty members associated with leftist organizations on campus, a university professor said yesterday.

Prof. Gordon Griffiths, a former member of the executive board of the campus chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors, said the session employed "training kits" provided by the 6th Army headquarters.

SPYING DENIED

A 6th Army spokesman in San Francisco said military science instructors at various campuses were offered last October a list of organizations the Army felt prospective officers should be cautioned about but he denied cadets were instructed to spy.

"There is absolutely nothing to it," he said. "Definitely, ROTC cadets are never used for spying."

The spokesman said the list was offered as a warning to students to avoid groups "that might later be added to the attorney general's list" of alleged subversive organizations. Membership in such organizations "might preclude their becoming officers," he said.

A university spokesman said Dr. Charles Odegaard, president of the university, ordered the alleged practice halted after he was told of it by the American Assn. of University Professors.

An order, dated Oct. 21, 1966, was posted in ROTC headquarters on campus which says in part:

"It is the policy of this department that no cadet will be asked to collect or report any information concerning the activities, statements or plans of any individuals, group of individuals or organizations assigned or present on this campus."

SECRECY CONDEMNED

Odegaard released a statement Tuesday which said, "The classrooms of the university campus are not places for presentation of ideas which must be kept in secret and cannot be freely and openly discussed."

His statement came the same day the university daily printed an article on the subject. The article was based on one which appeared in the Sunday Ramparts, a bi-weekly published in San Francisco.

Campus Wags Offer 'Pay As You Go' Idea

Corncob, a College of Marin student group organized to install pay toilets on the Kentfield campus, has released a series of proposals to help "cut, squeeze and trim" the cost of higher education in California, according to Richard Giovannoli, associated students publicity commissioner.

Suggestions for the "pay as you go" program include:

1. Pay toilets. One free toilet will be located at the far end of the campus. Students who cannot afford the pay toilet system can use the free toilet. This will be repaid, however, as soon as the student graduate reaches a $4,000 income, at 6 per cent interest. If he dies first, his life insurance is forfeited to the state.

2. Coin-operated desks. These could, however, be supplemented by a few free desks — which would be taken by a series of "desk rushes," similar to the Oklahoma land rushes of 1862.

3. Collection plates will be passed during each class to support the new faculty the school will be unable to pay otherwise.

4. Fines for students caught out of uniform.

5. Library books will be rented, rather than taken out free.

6. Bribes to the teachers for final grades will be legalized. The state will receive a 10 per cent cut, however.

7. Toll gates will be placed at the exit of each classroom.

Further efforts to improve the quality of education in California would include transferring all suspected subversives to the Berkeley campus of University of California, whence they would be channeled to various relocation centers throughout the state. All students would be required to take the loyalty oath to qualify for entrance to the college.

One of the first courses to be cut as a result of the new budget "trim" will be the outdated "American Institutions."

A new drama course, however, will be added for political science majors.

Boyd Science Museum Has A Good Year

Louise A. Boyd Natural Museum ended 1966 in the black, it was reported at last night's annual membership meeting at Civic Center.

Jack V. Singer, treasurer for 1966, reported revenues of nearly $40,000, with over $3,000 remaining after meeting all bills and obligations.

Clifford S. Lund was re-elected president and Mrs. John Morowski, secretary. New officers chosen were Richard V. Godino, vice president, and Mrs. John D. LaNoue, treasurer.

Elected to the executive board were James Dunn, Laurie Felton, George Lawrence, Melvin Warenback, and Mrs. William Van Winkle.

Elected trustees were Mrs. Arthur Albin, James Adrain, Mrs. Peter Arrigoni Jr., Robert Bottini, Thomas R. Dahlgren, Stewart Greenberg Jr., Burton R. Kirchner, Lawrence Lindberg, Bruce McKenzie, Mrs. Curt Rupke, Jack Singer, Mrs. James M. Tasley, Edward Washburn, Harrison Wheeler, and F. G. Zelinsky.

Certificates of appreciation were given to firms and individuals who had donated time or materials during the year.

The program also included an illustrated lecture on Panama by David Cavagnaro of the California Academy of Science.

Law Courses Are Announced

Mill Valley attorney Leighton Hatch will conduct a 12-week course on "Civil, Criminal and Commercial Law" in the College of Marin's spring semester program of adult classes beginning Feb. 6.

Classes by Hatch, who has a practice in San Francisco, will be held Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Primitive Cradles Still Used By Iraqi Immigrants To Israel

VAN DELLEN

The Kurdistani cradle is a primitive wooden rocking bed that is still used by Israeli immigrants from Iraq. The infant is strapped into the cradle as soon as the mother comes home from the maternity hospital.

The origin of this fascinating practice is not known. The baby is swaddled fairly tightly with strips of cloth with the arms and legs close to his side. The child wears a long dress and movement is impossible. As he grows he is taken out of the cradle more and more for feedings. The mother plays with him and massages his back.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Aaron Bloch, writing in Clinical Pediatrics, the Kurdistani mother seems to know when baby is ready for different milestones in development. The baby usually remains in the cradle until the next infant is born or the child is able to stand or walk.

Diapers are not needed. The cotton-filled mattress has a hole in the center that takes care of the excretory functions. The opening is placed over a clay pot and an ingenious carved reed with a suitable waxed opening is placed to fit the genitalia.

THE PORTABILITY of the cradle allows the mother to take the child into the fields while she works. It is not known how long the practice will last because the younger mothers who spent their teens in Israel are beginning to change.

The public health nurse is stressing improvements in feeding, dressing, and furniture among the immigrants but many resent changes in customs and tradition.

THE PRACTICE was of interest to physicians because of the possibility that it might interfere with the development of bones and muscles. To date there is no evidence that children kept in the Kurdistani cradle develop any differently from those kept in a standard crib.

The exception is a greater tendency for the head to flatten.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EARWIG

M. F. writes: What would happen if the earwig bug crawled into a person's ear? Does death follow? A friend in Scotland saw one of these creatures; it was long and black and had many legs.

REPLY

In ancient times, this harmless bug was mistakenly believed to have caused death if it crawled into the ear. Now and then insects do get stuck in the ear canal and when this occurs they are extracted in the same way as are foreign bodies.

BLACKOUTS

P. O. writes: Could nervous exhaustion cause blackouts that last several hours? During this period, the person does not know what is happening.

REPLY

Yes. "Nervous exhaustion" is a lay term used to describe a variety of nervous disorders. There are many causes of blackout, including hysteria, epilepsy, low blood sugar, and hyperventilation.

DAILY SHAMPOO

O. F. writes: Is it harmful to wash the hair every day?

REPLY

No, but it is not necessary except in certain occupations. Too frequent shampooing removes oil from the scalp and leaves the hair dry. But even here oily ointments or lotions can be used as replacements.

FEMALE WART

B. I. writes: Is there such a thing as a female wart?

REPLY

You probably mean mother-daughter warts that appear on the feet of children. The lesions consist of one large wart (mother) and several tiny bud or seed, warts (children).

Sisters Found Dead In Freezer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two small sisters were found dead today in a neighbor's frozen food chest.

The neighbor's discovery shortly after midnight ended a search of suburban Mesquite in which more than 800 persons took part.

The children are Kim Artzt, 4, and her sister Dawn, 6.

Police said the youngsters apparently crawled inside the freezer while playing in the garage of John Stephenson, across the street from their home, and suffocated because they could not reopen the door.

RED GUARDS TURN TO SIGN PAINTING

Communist China's militant Red Guards are reported filling every available space with so-called "Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung." Staff photographer Hideaki Mitsuishi of Tokyo's Yomiuri Shimbun, who recently visited China as an ordinary tourist, found these quotes alongside a tree-lined road in Canton in South China. Students 'Hang' Governor Again

FRESNO (AP)—For the second time this month, Gov. Reagan has been hanged in effigy in Fresno.

Fresno State College students protesting proposed tuition and possible higher education budget cuts, hanged an effigy of the governor Jan. 8 from a college administration building.

Last night, Fresno sheriff's deputies cut an effigy of the state's chief executive from a tree in Courthouse Park, in the downtown area of Fresno. A sign with Reagan's name printed on it was pinned on the figure.

Officers said they did not know who was responsible.

Snow Hits Midwest; Funnels In Oklahoma

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The nation was a contrast in winter storms today as another major snowstorm struck the Midlands and a tornado touched down in Oklahoma.

Freezing rain made driving hazardous in a dozen states from the Southwest to the Ohio Valley and pea-soup fog blanketed four eastern states.

The new snowstorm produced up to eight inches of snow at Kirksville, Mo., six at Kansas City and St. Joseph and caused the closing of schools in Southeast Iowa.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

Schools also were closed in many parts of Kansas and Missouri as winds clocked at 35 miles an hour drifted roads closed, knocked out power lines and virtually paralyzed Columbia, Mo. with foot-deep snow.

At Kirksville, hospitals called in for emergency duty personnel who lived within walking distance. The Kansas City Power and Light Co., said its the worst storm in the area in nearly 20 years.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were posted for most of the Midwest as the storm system pushed eastward and sleet fell intermittently with the snow.

STORM WARNING

A severe thunderstorm warning was issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau for parts of Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas for today.

The center of the storm moved across the central and southern Rockies Wednesday night, dropping up to four feet of new snow and triggering avalanches. One of the heaviest snowfalls in recent years was reported in Utah where Alta ski resort measured 55 inches on the ground. Up to two feet of snow was reported in Colorado's mountains.

A tornado spawned by cold air moving across the Southwest ripped through the Owasso, Okla., area yesterday night, tearing down power lines and injuring a family of four. A twister also damaged several buildings in Sequoyah and Foyil, Okla., and caused a power failure at Claremore. High winds believed to have been a tornado also hit Clinton, Okla., and Tulsa was hit by heavy rain and hail.

ICY LANDING

A Braniff 707 jet airliner slid off an icy runway last night at the Kansas City Mid-Continent International Airport, but no injuries were reported.

Because of icy roads, hazardous driving warnings were posted in parts of Arizona, New Mexico, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, India, Wisconsin and Ohio.

More than four inches of snow were expected to fall from Kansas to lower Michigan with some parts of Illinois getting as much as eight inches.

The snow fell heavily in Chicago, snarling commuter traffic while cutting visibility near the downtown area to less than a city block. Officials at O'Hare International Airport, the nation's busiest airport, reported that although snowfall was heavy and visibility severely limited, traffic was normal.

FOG IN EAST

A fog that covered parts of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania yesterday caused the closing of three major airports, including Kennedy International, LaGuardia and Newark, but all three resumed normal operations at daylight today.

Following on the heels of the Midwest snowstorm is a cold air mass which plummeted temperatures to 24 below zero at Thief River Falls and 21 below at Bemidji, both in Minnesota.

In direct contrast mild weather was reported over the Gulf and Atlantic Coast with Miami Beach recording 73 degrees.

Membership Meeting Set By Civic Affairs Council

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night made plans for the annual membership meeting March 1, including a panel discussion on "How Citizens Can Take Part in Development of a County-Wide General Plan."

The session will begin at 9 p.m. at the Civic Center. Also on the agenda will be election of officers for 1967, council vice chairman Ezilda Lucheta reported.

Members of the panel will include John Hirten, executive director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Agency and Paul C. Zucker, Marin County planning director.

Council directors learned that Betty Pierce, Ann Anderson and Charles J. Hendrickson of the Citizens Advisory Committee will be willing to serve on a council subcommittee which will take over the advisory committee's duties in connection with the county's "workable program on housing," which is required as a condition of federal grants for low-income housing development.

Council directors agreed to drop the plan to review the county budget for fiscal 1968, after learning that the Marin Property Owners Assn. and the League of Women Voters had declined to join in the study, Mrs. Lucheta reported.

Pleads Guilty To Furlough Skip

Owen K. Perry, 40, of Martinez, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to failure to return to Marin County jail from work furlough on April 8, 1965.

Judge Hadden W. Roth certified the felony case to Marin Superior Court for judgment.

Perry was serving a year in jail for forgery when he departed. Contra Costa sheriff's officers arrested him on a drunk charge and returned him here Jan. 13.

Charge, Denial In ROTC Spy Order Uproar

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Army Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets were told at a secret session at the University of Washington last October to collect information on students and faculty members associated with leftist organizations on campus, a university professor said yesterday.

Prof. Gordon Griffiths, a former member of the executive board of the campus chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors, said the session employed "training kits" provided by the 6th Army headquarters.

SPYING DENIED

A 6th Army spokesman in San Francisco said military science instructors at various campuses were offered last October a list of organizations the Army felt prospective officers should be cautioned about but he denied cadets were instructed to spy.

"There is absolutely nothing to it," he said. "Definitely, ROTC cadets are never used for spying."

The spokesman said the list was offered as a warning to students to avoid groups "that might later be added to the attorney general's list" of alleged subversive organizations. Membership in such organizations "might preclude their becoming officers," he said.

A university spokesman said Dr. Charles Odegaard, president of the university, ordered the alleged practice halted after he was told of it by the American Assn. of University Professors.

An order, dated Oct. 21, 1966, was posted in ROTC headquarters on campus which says in part:

"It is the policy of this department that no cadet will be asked to collect or report any information concerning the activities, statements or plans of any individuals, group of individuals or organizations assigned or present on this campus."

SECRECY CONDEMNED

Odegaard released a statement Tuesday which said, "The classrooms of the university campus are not places for presentation of ideas which must be kept in secret and cannot be freely and openly discussed."

His statement came the same day the university daily printed an article on the subject. The article was based on one which appeared in the Sunday Ramparts, a bi-weekly published in San Francisco.

Campus Wags Offer 'Pay As You Go' Idea

Corncob, a College of Marin student group organized to install pay toilets on the Kentfield campus, has released a series of proposals to help "cut, squeeze and trim" the cost of higher education in California, according to Richard Giovannoli, associated students publicity commissioner.

Suggestions for the "pay as you go" program include:

1. Pay toilets. One free toilet will be located at the far end of the campus. Students who cannot afford the pay toilet system can use the free toilet. This will be repaid, however, as soon as the student graduate reaches a $4,000 income, at 6 per cent interest. If he dies first, his life insurance is forfeited to the state.

2. Coin-operated desks. These could, however, be supplemented by a few free desks — which would be taken by a series of "desk rushes," similar to the Oklahoma land rushes of 1862.

3. Collection plates will be passed during each class to support the new faculty the school will be unable to pay otherwise.

4. Fines for students caught out of uniform.

5. Library books will be rented, rather than taken out free.

6. Bribes to the teachers for final grades will be legalized. The state will receive a 10 per cent cut, however.

7. Toll gates will be placed at the exit of each classroom.

Further efforts to improve the quality of education in California would include transferring all suspected subversives to the Berkeley campus of University of California, whence they would be channeled to various relocation centers throughout the state. All students would be required to take the loyalty oath to qualify for entrance to the college.

One of the first courses to be cut as a result of the new budget "trim" will be the outdated "American Institutions."

A new drama course, however, will be added for political science majors.

Boyd Science Museum Has A Good Year

Louise A. Boyd Natural Museum ended 1966 in the black, it was reported at last night's annual membership meeting at Civic Center.

Jack V. Singer, treasurer for 1966, reported revenues of nearly $40,000, with over $3,000 remaining after meeting all bills and obligations.

Clifford S. Lund was re-elected president and Mrs. John Morowski, secretary. New officers chosen were Richard V. Godino, vice president, and Mrs. John D. LaNoue, treasurer.

Elected to the executive board were James Dunn, Laurie Felton, George Lawrence, Melvin Warenback, and Mrs. William Van Winkle.

Elected trustees were Mrs. Arthur Albin, James Adrain, Mrs. Peter Arrigoni Jr., Robert Bottini, Thomas R. Dahlgren, Stewart Greenberg Jr., Burton R. Kirchner, Lawrence Lindberg, Bruce McKenzie, Mrs. Curt Rupke, Jack Singer, Mrs. James M. Tasley, Edward Washburn, Harrison Wheeler, and F. G. Zelinsky.

Certificates of appreciation were given to firms and individuals who had donated time or materials during the year.

The program also included an illustrated lecture on Panama by David Cavagnaro of the California Academy of Science.

Law Courses Are Announced

Mill Valley attorney Leighton Hatch will conduct a 12-week course on "Civil, Criminal and Commercial Law" in the College of Marin's spring semester program of adult classes beginning Feb. 6.

Classes by Hatch, who has a practice in San Francisco, will be held Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Primitive Cradles Still Used By Iraqi Immigrants To Israel

VAN DELLEN

The Kurdistani cradle is a primitive wooden rocking bed that is still used by Israeli immigrants from Iraq. The infant is strapped into the cradle as soon as the mother comes home from the maternity hospital.

The origin of this fascinating practice is not known. The baby is swaddled fairly tightly with strips of cloth with the arms and legs close to his side. The child wears a long dress and movement is impossible. As he grows he is taken out of the cradle more and more for feedings. The mother plays with him and massages his back.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Aaron Bloch, writing in Clinical Pediatrics, the Kurdistani mother seems to know when baby is ready for different milestones in development. The baby usually remains in the cradle until the next infant is born or the child is able to stand or walk.

Diapers are not needed. The cotton-filled mattress has a hole in the center that takes care of the excretory functions. The opening is placed over a clay pot and an ingenious carved reed with a suitable waxed opening is placed to fit the genitalia.

THE PORTABILITY of the cradle allows the mother to take the child into the fields while she works. It is not known how long the practice will last because the younger mothers who spent their teens in Israel are beginning to change.

The public health nurse is stressing improvements in feeding, dressing, and furniture among the immigrants but many resent changes in customs and tradition.

THE PRACTICE was of interest to physicians because of the possibility that it might interfere with the development of bones and muscles. To date there is no evidence that children kept in the Kurdistani cradle develop any differently from those kept in a standard crib.

The exception is a greater tendency for the head to flatten.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EARWIG

M. F. writes: What would happen if the earwig bug crawled into a person's ear? Does death follow? A friend in Scotland saw one of these creatures; it was long and black and had many legs.

REPLY

In ancient times, this harmless bug was mistakenly believed to have caused death if it crawled into the ear. Now and then insects do get stuck in the ear canal and when this occurs they are extracted in the same way as are foreign bodies.

BLACKOUTS

P. O. writes: Could nervous exhaustion cause blackouts that last several hours? During this period, the person does not know what is happening.

REPLY

Yes. "Nervous exhaustion" is a lay term used to describe a variety of nervous disorders. There are many causes of blackout, including hysteria, epilepsy, low blood sugar, and hyperventilation.

DAILY SHAMPOO

O. F. writes: Is it harmful to wash the hair every day?

REPLY

No, but it is not necessary except in certain occupations. Too frequent shampooing removes oil from the scalp and leaves the hair dry. But even here oily ointments or lotions can be used as replacements.

FEMALE WART

B. I. writes: Is there such a thing as a female wart?

REPLY

You probably mean mother-daughter warts that appear on the feet of children. The lesions consist of one large wart (mother) and several tiny bud or seed, warts (children).

Sisters Found Dead In Freezer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two small sisters were found dead today in a neighbor's frozen food chest.

The neighbor's discovery shortly after midnight ended a search of suburban Mesquite in which more than 800 persons took part.

The children are Kim Artzt, 4, and her sister Dawn, 6.

Police said the youngsters apparently crawled inside the freezer while playing in the garage of John Stephenson, across the street from their home, and suffocated because they could not reopen the door.

Federal Land Recreation Study Started

HONOLULU (AP) — A U.S. conservationist said yesterday the federal government has begun a review of all the land it owns with the hope of turning up more land for recreation.

Mrs. Nancy E. Smith, a member of the Federal Public Land Law Review Commission, addressed the opening session of the National Assn. of County Officials Congress on Natural Beauty and recreation.

"I am confident that the commission, at the conclusion of our study, will be able to claim credit for blazing new trails in the field of conservation and natural resources research," said Mrs. Smith, a supervisor of San Bernadino County.

She said the commission will revise and update the more than 5,000 public land laws and draw up a master plan for the use of public land.

Pointing to large areas of unused federal land, especially in the West, she said the commission will "judge what constitutes the maximum benefits for the general public."

Storer Requests State Probe Of Water Company

Thomas T. Storer, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, today asked the California Public Utilities Commission to make an immediate inspection of the Point Reyes water system and take steps to remedy the poor service.

Storer wrote the commission that the community was again without water Saturday through Monday. Water was trucked by the county fire department to the private water system tank, but County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom was "nearly knocked off the ladder from the foul odor from the tank," he reported. The tank was then flushed out, and the extra pressure on lines caused some lines to rupture.

The Point Reyes Water Co. is owned by J. J. Downey of San Francisco.

Arraignment On Marijuana Is Scheduled

Catherine Margaret Ward, 19, is scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. next Wednesday on a charge of marijuana possession.

Miss Ward, David Allen Ward, 21, both of Fairfax; Robert Anton Nelson, 20, of Alto, and Robert Alexander Donohoe, 26, of San Rafael, were arrested Jan. 7 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Officers said the car was halted because it had a cracked taillight lens, but Miss Ward was seen throwing a plastic bag containing what appeared to be marijuana from the vehicle. The bag and contents were recovered and analyzed by state narcotics laboratory technicians.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony said yesterday no complaints will be issued against the other three persons because of insufficient evidence.

Arraignment On Marijuana Is Scheduled

Catherine Margaret Ward, 19, is scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. next Wednesday on a charge of marijuana possession.

Miss Ward, David Allen Ward, 21, both of Fairfax; Robert Anton Nelson, 20, of Alto, and Robert Alexander Donohoe, 26, of San Rafael, were arrested Jan. 7 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Officers said the car was halted because it had a cracked taillight lens, but Miss Ward was seen throwing a plastic bag containing what appeared to be marijuana from the vehicle. The bag and contents were recovered and analyzed by state narcotics laboratory technicians.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony said yesterday no complaints will be issued against the other three persons because of insufficient evidence.

Storer Requests State Probe Of Water Company

Thomas T. Storer, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, today asked the California Public Utilities Commission to make an immediate inspection of the Point Reyes water system and take steps to remedy the poor service.

Storer wrote the commission that the community was again without water Saturday through Monday. Water was trucked by the county fire department to the private water system tank, but County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom was "nearly knocked off the ladder from the foul odor from the tank," he reported. The tank was then flushed out, and the extra pressure on lines caused some lines to rupture.

The Point Reyes Water Co. is owned by J. J. Downey of San Francisco.

No Place To Go But Up, Claims Franks

San Francisco Giants manager Herman Franks predicted a pennant for his club this year, but he did it in such a way that you have to read the fine print.

"We have no way to go except up," Franks said at a news conference yesterday at Candlestick Park. Since the Giants finished in second place last year to the Los Angeles Dodgers, "up" could go only one step higher.

his club aside from giving an annual news conference, also told yesterday's gathering that the Pittsburgh Pirates would be among several tough contenders but probably couldn't count on having four .300 hitters again in the batting order. But non-contenders are also a Giants problem.

"I want to beat the Mets this year," said Franks about New York's ninth-place team which played the second-place Giants to a 9-9 standoff last season. "In the past, we battle the first division clubs but seem to let down against the Mets. I don't know whether it's because they are in the second division or what."

Franks also said the Giants will do a lot of work to improve their double play ability — in the field, not at bat. The Giants made only 131 twin-killings last year, next to the bottom in the 10-team National League.

This spring the Giant infielders will learn how to "cheat," following the pattern of the Pittsburgh Pirates who made 215 double plays.

"When a double play situation arose their shortstop Gene Alley and second baseman Bill Mazeroski would move in closer to the infield grass. Cheat, in otherwords," said Franks.

The Giant skipper also said he'll try to give centerfielder Willie Mays "as much rest as possible," but conceded it was one of his hardest jobs. "The fans don't like it, you fellows don't and certainly I don't." But at 35, Mays can't be expected to play every game of a 162-game schedule.

Franks said he expected a good year from Ray Sadecki, the left-hander who lost seven out of 10 games after being traded last May by the St. Louis Cardinals to the Giants for Orlando Cepeda. Herman said a lot of the "pressure" of the trade would be off Sadecki's shoulders, now that the major deal has had time to cool off.

Franks indicated Sadecki would be battling Mike McCormick, another lefthander who rejoined the Giants last year via trade with the Washington Senators, for the fourth starting pitcher spot behind the big three of Juan Marichal, Gaylord Perry and Bob Bolin.

49ER JOHN DAVID CROW OKAY AFTER OPERATION

John David Crow became the latest pro gridder today to start the long road back from knee surgery.

The San Francisco 49ers' hard-hitting halfback had some cartilage removed from his right knee yesterday at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Dr. Lloyd Milburn, the team physician who performed the operation, said afterward that Crow's chances of resuming football this year were "excellent."

Crow won the 49ers' Len Eshmont award last month as the club's most inspirational player. Shortly after his selection was announced, he sustained the injury in the final game of the season with the Baltimore Colts.

Classic Goof In L.A. Open

Pro-Amateur Play Left In Shambles

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 41st annual Los Angeles Open golf tournament, with a purse of $100,000, was ready to get under way today following a classic foul-up in the pro-amateur prelude.

Arnold Palmer was back to defend the title he earned last year and won once before, in 1963. So were U.S. Open champion Bill Casper and the Masters champion, Jack Nicklaus, neither of whom has won this one.

The Big Three — there is no Big Four since Gary Player is not on deck—dominate the scene at the 6,821-yard, par-36-35—71 Rancho golf course.

The turf is damp and soft from heavy rains earlier in the week, but Nicklaus said, "The course is not too bad. It's better than the two other times I've played it, and the grass is the best I've ever seen here."

Casper added, "It's a little damp, but it ought to dry out."

The pro-am event yesterday turned into a shambles, and scores of all the professionals were erased. It seems a greenskeeper—kindly he was not identified—moved the position of several cups after play began.

Under PGA rules this meant that some pros, in effect, played one course, and the others, another course.

So the $5,000 pro-am purse was split between the 54 pros, each receiving $92.

BUFFALO STREAKS

"That'll buy me a couple of buffalo steaks," quipped Casper, a man noted for his bizarre diets.

Most of the players were unaware of the untimely development until after they had finished the round.

Some were unhappy. Ken Venturi's team score was in the money, and Johnny Pott, with an individual 66, was also in for a good cut.

But Palmer, for one, greeted the news with disbelief and then a loud guffaw.

"That's great!" he said, adding, "I was hitting the ball reasonably well and driving very well. But I missed a few putts. Now, it doesn't make a darn bit of difference."

Palmer had a 72 and said he was doing a little experimenting.

"That's the funniest thing I ever heard of," said Casper, who had a 69.

Nicklaus, who had a 70, said he had never heard of such an incident before in a tournament.

"Suppose it happened in the fourth round in the tournament?" Nicklaus inquired.

Ashe, Misses Casals, Richey Gain Aussie Tennis Semis

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., easily gained the men's singles semifinals of the Australian Tennis Championships today but American teammate Cliff Richey of Dallas was eliminated in his quarter-final match after a valiant marathon struggle.

Ashe kept U.S. title hopes alive by overwhelming Australia's Owen Davidson 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 with a sparkling performance.

The resurgent Richey put up a tremendous fight before losing in five sets to Australian Davis Cup player Tony Roche. The scores were 108-, 7-5, 4-6, 5-7, 6-1.

In other quarter-final matches, defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia was hard pressed to outlast countryman Bill Bowrey 4-6, 6-4, 11-9, 16-14 in a 70-game marathon match that lasted 3½ hours and John Newcombe, Australia's No. 2 player, overpowered Mark Clark of Britian 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

Ashe will oppose Newcombe and Emerson will meet Roche in the semifinal round.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco and Nancy Richey, Cliff's sister, were among the survivors to reach the women's singles semifinals.

Miss Casals turned back Gail Sherriff of Australia 6-3, 6-3. Miss Richey scored a 6-3 victory in the first set over Mrs. Lorraine Robinson of Australia and then won the second set 1-0 on a forfeit.

In the other women's singles quarter-finals, Lesley Turner of Australia disposed of Francoise Durr of France 6-1, 10-8 and Kerry Melville of Australia defeated Judy Tegart of Australia 6-1, 4-6, 10-8.

In the semifinals of the men's double, Newcombe and Roche defeated Emerson and Warren Jacques of Australia 3-6, 6-3, 10-8, 6-2.

Mixed doubles play saw Bowrey and Miss Durr beat Dave Power of Bloomington, Ind., and Sandra Walsham of Australia 6-0, 6-3 and Jim McManus of Berkeley and Miss Casals down Birger Folke of Sweden and Lidy Venneboer of Holland 6-1, 7-9, 9-7.

Clay Bout To Set A TV First

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title fight in Houston, Feb. 6 will be telecast live to Europe and Asia, using both communication satellites simultaneously, it was announced yesterday.

Claiming it to be a television industry first, the producers of the telecast said the fight will be transmitted via the Early Bird Satellite to Europe and by Lani Bird II to Asia.

Michael N. Malitz, executive vice-president of Main Bout, Inc., producers of the telecast, said "this historic first was accomplished with the sale of exclusive live and delayed TV and radio rights for Japan to the Nippon Television Network of Tokyo, Japan. The audio will be done in the Japanese language direct from ringside at the Astrodome.

"The use of both satellites makes this bout by far the largest in global television coverage in the history not only of sports but in all communications.

CLOSE CIRCUIT

"We are still booking but on the basis of what we have now, nothing in the past can compare to it. We will cover the United States and Canada via closed circuit.

"Practically all of Mexico, South America and Latin America will see and hear the fight either live or delayed. Direct from ringside we will have broadcasts in English, Spanish, Japanese and possibly other languages. The interest worldwide, to my knowledge, is greater for this fight than for any other I can recall."

The British Broadcasting Company and Viewsport, Ltd., are covering most of the United Kingdom and Europe for closed circuit and delayed telecasting, said Malitz.

He said other countries already committed include Australia, Curacao, Ghana, Hong Kong, Jamaica, Kenya, Kuwait, Liberia, Malaysia, Mauritius, New Zealand, Nigeria, the Philippines, Rhodesia, Singapore, Surinam, Uganda, Venezuela, Ecuador, Costa Rica, Uruguay, Argentina and Puerto Rico.

Combination Of Factors That Led To Giants' Title Failure

HANLEY

This may surprise some critics who attributed last season's unsuccessful Giant pennant bid to a failure to make the double play. The pennant winning Dodgers trailed all National League clubs in DPs last year. The Dodgers made 128, the Giants 131. The Pirates led the league with 215 but still finished third.

WHAT DOES this prove? Well, for one thing it proved that the Dodgers and Giants had the best pitching in the league and the Pirates a weak mound staff that received spectacular support. When a Juan Marichal or Sandy Koufax is at work there aren't many base runners for DP opportunities.

Nevertheless, there is considerable merit in the contention that the Giants would have won the pennant provided they had a sharper DP aptitude, particularly in two games at Atlanta at the end of July.

ON JULY 29 Lindy McDaniel relieved Ron Herbel in the third inning and Lindy protected a 5-3 Giant lead until the seventh inning when he became the victim of a missed DP that started a three-run Brave rally.

WITH ONE away in the seventh Hank Aaron singled. Joe Torre next sent a double play grounder to Tito Fuentes. The rookie shortstop flipped the ball to Hal Lanier at second. Lanier dropped it and both Aaron and Torre were safe, scoring a moment later when Rico Carty hit a homer. The missed double play was Lanier's fault. Still Carty hit the homer off McDaniel.

THE FOLLOWING day on July 30 it was a 5-5 ball game in the 11th. There was one out and Carty aboard on a walk. Woody Woodward sent a grounder to Lanier, another DP ball. Lanier booted it. A few minutes later Denis Menke singled home Carty with the winning run.

IN RETROSPECT those two ball games became important losses instead of victories because the Dodgers finished just 1½ games in front of the second place Giants. Lanier never made another error for the remainder of the season but he never will forget his costly ones of July 29-30.

However, those lost games in Atlanta were not the only reason the Giants missed the 1966 pennant. Even the great Juan Marichal let a game get away from him five days later in New York when he had the Mets shutout 5-0 going into the seventh with a one-hitter.

AND THERE were half a dozen games in which Bob Bolin pitched superbly but still wound up a loser because his teammates couldn't get him any runs.

So it was a combination of factors that made the Giants No. 2 instead of No. 1 finishers last season, not just a failure to make vital double plays in a couple of games.

Portland Defeats Seals, 3-2

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The California Seals turned in one of their best performances yet against Portland, but the Bucks took a 3-2 decision.

The Seals, who move on to fourth-place Seattle tomorrow, still trail Vancouver by one point and are two ahead of the Totems in the frantic battle for playoff spots.

The Buckaroos put together all three goals in the first stanza of last night's Western Hockey League contest and then held on as California played well the final 40 minutes.

San Francisco trailed 2-0 when Wayne Maxner scored on a power play in the first period before Portland tallied again.

Then at 10:41 of the middle period, George Swarbrick hit a 35-footer from the right side through the legs of Portland goalie Rich Charron and it was a battle again.

The scoreless last period found the puck around the Portland nets much of the time even though the Seals managed three shots on goal.

It was the second one-goal loss on the road trip and California is now 1-5-3 against Portland. The Seals' once - proud road record has dwindled to 11-10-7.

Cliff Schmautz tricked the first Portland goal off Jack McCartan's glove and Larry Leach and Doug Messier also registered goals for the mighty Bucks.

Foss Criticizes Pro Grid Merger

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Foss says he doesn't think the American Football League and the National Football League ought to merge.

The former commissioner of the AFL said at a meeting, "I maintain the leagues should keep their separate identities — that they cannot merge.

"I think it should be just like baseball — interleague play in preseason games only and then the championship games between the two leagues."

Foss said he has been approached with a general manager's job by a professional football team "and while nothing was done, I think they'll be back after me."

"I just might be back in football," Foss said.

Budget Axe Falls On State Fish And Game

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The budget axe of Gov. Ronald Reagan is falling on the state Department of Fish and Game —even though the department doesn't operate on general tax monies.

A cutback memo from the state Department of Finance went out to Fish and Game, despite the fact that the revenue upon which the agency lives cannot be used elsewhere.

"It may be that this staff is not aware that this is not a general fund agency," observed Assemblywoman Pauline L. Davis, D-Portola, chairman of the Fish and Game Committee.

RESERVES JUDGMENT

But Mrs. Davis reserved any judgment on the Finance action until the governor's budget is made public next Tuesday and she is able to compare Fish and Game's requests with Finance's offering.

Fish and Game has historically lived off the revenue it creates from fishing and hunting licenses and fees, and on federal tax money.

The state Constitution forbids this revenue from being used for purposes other than fish and game programs.

The memo which went out to Fish and Game called for a 10 per cent cutback in the Fish and Game budget from the level adjusted upward to accommodate increases in the workload level for the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The Reagan Administration was asked to comment on the thinking behind a budget cut proposed for a special fund agency whose funds cannot be used to offset the projected general fund deficit.

"The money they spend still comes from the people in the form of fees or licenses or taxes," press secretary Lyn Nofziger replied.

HIGHER FEES

"A lack of economy in their areas inevitably will mean higher taxes or fees or licenses," he said. "We feel it is important that the people be safeguarded in these areas just as they should be in the general fund areas."

The only general fund appropriation for the current fiscal year is a $70,279 item used to finance programs under the federal Commercial Fisheries and Research Development Act. The federal government pays most of the $210,000 program.

Regardless of the reduced figure the new administration settles on for Fish and Game, the revenue for the department will continue at an independent pace — slightly above current levels to reflect increased sales of licenses.

The income will remain frozen in the Fish and Game fund and could pile up indefinitely.

Alcindor Threatens Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, UCLA's 7-foot-1¾ phenomenon, is only halfway through his first varsity season but already he is threatening firmly entrenched college basketball scoring records.

The latest figures compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau announced today, showing the New York stringbean setting the national scoring pace among major college players with an average of 29.9 points a game.

In the last decade only one other player before this year has set such a pace at this juncture in the season. That was Nick Werkman of Seton Hall, who was going at a 29.5 clip in 1963 and finally finished with a 30-plus average.

More phenomenal in Alcindor's case is the fact that he has a field goal shooting percentage of .676, with 165 shots in 244 attempts from the floor. No previous player in the major category ever had such a percentage this late in the season.

The UCLA sophomore doesn't play every minute and often, when victory is clinched, is used sparingly. Yet he has compiled a total of 419 points in 14 games.

Next to Alcindor in the individual scoring race is Jim Walker of Providence, with a 29.5 average. Bob Lloyd of Rutgers is third with 29.3, followed by Cliff Anderson of St. Joseph's, 28.3, and Gary Gray of Oklahoma City, 28.2.

Pro-Amateur Play Left In Shambles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 41st annual Los Angeles Open golf tournament, with a purse of $100,000, was ready to get under way today following a classic foul-up in the pro-amateur prelude.

Arnold Palmer was back to defend the title he earned last year and won once before, in 1963. So were U.S. Open champion Bill Casper and the Masters champion, Jack Nicklaus, neither of whom has won this one.

The Big Three — there is no Big Four since Gary Player is not on deck—dominate the scene at the 6,821-yard, par-36-35—71 Rancho golf course.

The turf is damp and soft from heavy rains earlier in the week, but Nicklaus said, "The course is not too bad. It's better than the two other times I've played it, and the grass is the best I've ever seen here."

Casper added, "It's a little damp, but it ought to dry out."

The pro-am event yesterday turned into a shambles, and scores of all the professionals were erased. It seems a greenskeeper—kindly he was not identified—moved the position of several cups after play began.

Under PGA rules this meant that some pros, in effect, played one course, and the others, another course.

So the $5,000 pro-am purse was split between the 54 pros, each receiving $92.

BUFFALO STREAKS

"That'll buy me a couple of buffalo steaks," quipped Casper, a man noted for his bizarre diets.

Most of the players were unaware of the untimely development until after they had finished the round.

Some were unhappy. Ken Venturi's team score was in the money, and Johnny Pott, with an individual 66, was also in for a good cut.

But Palmer, for one, greeted the news with disbelief and then a loud guffaw.

"That's great!" he said, adding, "I was hitting the ball reasonably well and driving very well. But I missed a few putts. Now, it doesn't make a darn bit of difference."

Palmer had a 72 and said he was doing a little experimenting.

"That's the funniest thing I ever heard of," said Casper, who had a 69.

Nicklaus, who had a 70, said he had never heard of such an incident before in a tournament.

"Suppose it happened in the fourth round in the tournament?" Nicklaus inquired.

Ashe, Misses Casals, Richey Gain Aussie Tennis Semis

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., easily gained the men's singles semifinals of the Australian Tennis Championships today but American teammate Cliff Richey of Dallas was eliminated in his quarter-final match after a valiant marathon struggle.

Ashe kept U.S. title hopes alive by overwhelming Australia's Owen Davidson 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 with a sparkling performance.

The resurgent Richey put up a tremendous fight before losing in five sets to Australian Davis Cup player Tony Roche. The scores were 10-8-, 7-5, 4-6, 5-7, 6-1.

In other quarter-final matches, defending champion Roy Emerson of Australia was hard pressed to outlast countryman Bill Bowrey 4-6, 6-4, 11-9, 16-14 in a 70-game marathon match that lasted 3½ hours and John Newcombe, Australia's No. 2 player, overpowered Mark Clark of Britian 6-3, 7-5, 6-4.

Ashe will oppose Newcombe and Emerson will meet Roche in the semifinal round.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco and Nancy Richey, Cliff's sister, were among the survivors to reach the women's singles semifinals.

Miss Casals turned back Gail Sherriff of Australia 6-3, 6-3. Miss Richey scored a 6-3 victory in the first set over Mrs. Lorraine Robinson of Australia and then won the second set 1-0 on a forfeit.

In the other women's singles quarter-finals, Lesley Turner of Australia disposed of Francoise Durr of France 6-1, 10-8 and Kerry Melville of Australia defeated Judy Tegart of Australia 6-1, 4-6, 10-8.

In the semifinals of the men's double, Newcombe and Roche defeated Emerson and Warren Jacques of Australia 3-6, 6-3, 10-8, 6-2.

Mixed doubles play saw Bowrey and Miss Durr beat Dave Power of Bloomington, Ind., and Sandra Walsham of Australia 6-0, 6-3 and Jim McManus of Berkeley and Miss Casals down Birger Folke of Sweden and Lidy Venneboer of Holland 6-1, 7-9, 9-7.

Clay Bout To Set A TV First

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title fight in Houston, Feb. 6 will be telecast live to Europe and Asia, using both communication satellites simultaneously, it was announced yesterday.

Claiming it to be a television industry first, the producers of the telecast said the fight will be transmitted via the Early Bird Satellite to Europe and by Lani Bird II to Asia.

Michael N. Malitz, executive vice-president of Main Bout, Inc., producers of the telecast, said "this historic first was accomplished with the sale of exclusive live and delayed TV and radio rights for Japan to the Nippon Television Network of Tokyo, Japan. The audio will be done in the Japanese language direct from ringside at the Astrodome.

"The use of both satellites makes this bout by far the largest in global television coverage in the history not only of sports but in all communications.

CLOSE CIRCUIT

"We are still booking but on the basis of what we have now, nothing in the past can compare to it. We will cover the United States and Canada via closed circuit.

"Practically all of Mexico, South America and Latin America will see and hear the fight either live or delayed. Direct from ringside we will have broadcasts in English, Spanish, Japanese and possibly other languages. The interest worldwide, to my knowledge, is greater for this fight than for any other I can recall."

The British Broadcasting Company and Viewsport, Ltd., are covering most of the United Kingdom and Europe for closed circuit and delayed telecasting, said Malitz.

He said other countries already committed include Australia, Curacao, Ghana, Hong Kong, Jamaica, Kenya, Kuwait, Liberia, Malaysia, Mauritius, New Zealand, Nigeria, the Philippines, Rhodesia, Singapore, Surinam, Uganda, Venezuela, Ecuador, Costa Rica, Uruguay, Argentina and Puerto Rico.

Combination Of Factors That Led To Giants' Title Failure

HANLEY

This may surprise some critics who attributed last season's unsuccessful Giant pennant bid to a failure to make the double play. The pennant winning Dodgers trailed all National League clubs in DPs last year. The Dodgers made 128, the Giants 131. The Pirates led the league with 215 but still finished third.

WHAT DOES this prove? Well, for one thing it proved that the Dodgers and Giants had the best pitching in the league and the Pirates a weak mound staff that received spectacular support. When a Juan Marichal or Sandy Koufax is at work there aren't many base runners for DP opportunities.

Nevertheless, there is considerable merit in the contention that the Giants would have won the pennant provided they had a sharper DP aptitude, particularly in two games at Atlanta at the end of July.

ON JULY 29 Lindy McDaniel relieved Ron Herbel in the third inning and Lindy protected a 5-3 Giant lead until the seventh inning when he became the victim of a missed DP that started a three-run Brave rally.

WITH ONE away in the seventh Hank Aaron singled. Joe Torre next sent a double play grounder to Tito Fuentes. The rookie shortstop flipped the ball to Hal Lanier at second. Lanier dropped it and both Aaron and Torre were safe, scoring a moment later when Rico Carty hit a homer. The missed double play was Lanier's fault. Still Carty hit the homer off McDaniel.

THE FOLLOWING day on July 30 it was a 5-5 ball game in the 11th. There was one out and Carty aboard on a walk. Woody Woodward sent a grounder to Lanier, another DP ball. Lanier booted it. A few minutes later Denis Menke singled home Carty with the winning run.

IN RETROSPECT those two ball games became important losses instead of victories because the Dodgers finished just 1½ games in front of the second place Giants. Lanier never made another error for the remainder of the season but he never will forget his costly ones of July 29-30.

However, those lost games in Atlanta were not the only reason the Giants missed the 1966 pennant. Even the great Juan Marichal let a game get away from him five days later in New York when he had the Mets shutout 5-0 going into the seventh with a one-hitter.

AND THERE were half a dozen games in which Bob Bolin pitched superbly but still wound up a loser because his teammates couldn't get him any runs.

So it was a combination of factors that made the Giants No. 2 instead of No. 1 finishers last season, not just a failure to make vital double plays in a couple of games.

Portland Defeats Seals, 3-2

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The California Seals turned in one of their best performances yet against Portland, but the Bucks took a 3-2 decision.

The Seals, who move on to fourth-place Seattle tomorrow, still trail Vancouver by one point and are two ahead of the Totems in the frantic battle for playoff spots.

The Buckaroos put together all three goals in the first stanza of last night's Western Hockey League contest and then held on as California played well the final 40 minutes.

San Francisco trailed 2-0 when Wayne Maxner scored on a power play in the first period before Portland tallied again.

Then at 10:41 of the middle period, George Swarbrick hit a 35-footer from the right side through the legs of Portland goalie Rich Charron and it was a battle again.

The scoreless last period found the puck around the Portland nets much of the time even though the Seals managed three shots on goal.

It was the second one-goal loss on the road trip and California is now 1-5-3 against Portland. The Seals' once - proud road record has dwindled to 11-10-7.

Cliff Schmautz tricked the first Portland goal off Jack McCartan's glove and Larry Leach and Doug Messier also registered goals for the mighty Bucks.

Foss Criticizes Pro Grid Merger

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Foss says he doesn't think the American Football League and the National Football League ought to merge.

The former commissioner of the AFL said at a meeting, "I maintain the leagues should keep their separate identities — that they cannot merge.

"I think it should be just like baseball — interleague play in preseason games only and then the championship games between the two leagues."

Foss said he has been approached with a general manager's job by a professional football team "and while nothing was done, I think they'll be back after me."

"I just might be back in football," Foss said.

Budget Axe Falls On State Fish And Game

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The budget axe of Gov. Ronald Reagan is falling on the state Department of Fish and Game —even though the department doesn't operate on general tax monies.

A cutback memo from the state Department of Finance went out to Fish and Game, despite the fact that the revenue upon which the agency lives cannot be used elsewhere.

"It may be that this staff is not aware that this is not a general fund agency," observed Assemblywoman Pauline L. Davis, D-Portola, chairman of the Fish and Game Committee.

RESERVES JUDGMENT

But Mrs. Davis reserved any judgment on the Finance action until the governor's budget is made public next Tuesday and she is able to compare Fish and Game's requests with Finance's offering.

Fish and Game has historically lived off the revenue it creates from fishing and hunting licenses and fees, and on federal tax money.

The state Constitution forbids this revenue from being used for purposes other than fish and game programs.

The memo which went out to Fish and Game called for a 10 per cent cutback in the Fish and Game budget from the level adjusted upward to accommodate increases in the workload level for the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The Reagan Administration was asked to comment on the thinking behind a budget cut proposed for a special fund agency whose funds cannot be used to offset the projected general fund deficit.

"The money they spend still comes from the people in the form of fees or licenses or taxes," press secretary Lyn Nofziger replied.

HIGHER FEES

"A lack of economy in their areas inevitably will mean higher taxes or fees or licenses," he said. "We feel it is important that the people be safeguarded in these areas just as they should be in the general fund areas."

The only general fund appropriation for the current fiscal year is a $70,279 item used to finance programs under the federal Commercial Fisheries and Research Development Act. The federal government pays most of the $210,000 program.

Regardless of the reduced figure the new administration settles on for Fish and Game, the revenue for the department will continue at an independent pace — slightly above current levels to reflect increased sales of licenses.

The income will remain frozen in the Fish and Game fund and could pile up indefinitely.

Alcindor Threatens Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, UCLA's 7-foot-1¾ phenomenon, is only halfway through his first varsity season but already he is threatening firmly entrenched college basketball scoring records.

The latest figures compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau announced today, showing the New York stringbean setting the national scoring pace among major college players with an average of 29.9 points a game.

In the last decade only one other player before this year has set such a pace at this juncture in the season. That was Nick Werkman of Seton Hall, who was going at a 29.5 clip in 1963 and finally finished with a 30-plus average.

More phenomenal in Alcindor's case is the fact that he has a field goal shooting percentage of .676, with 165 shots in 244 attempts from the floor. No previous player in the major category ever had such a percentage this late in the season.

The UCLA sophomore doesn't play every minute and often, when victory is clinched, is used sparingly. Yet he has compiled a total of 418 points in 14 games.

Next to Alcindor in the individual scoring race is Jim Walker of Providence, with a 29.5 average. Bob Lloyd of Rutgers is third with 29.3, followed by Cliff Anderson of St. Joseph's, 28.3, and Gary Gray of Oklahoma City, 28.2.

Let's Modernize Some Old Fairytale History

The other day, in a burst of whimsy, I likened the outcome of the Super Bowl game to a fairy tale gone mad, an ending the Brothers Grimm would never approve of.

Which set me to thinking the whole world of sports has given the nursery-story school of reporting a thorough kicking around of late. I mean, Notre Dame settling for a tie, the Yankees finishing last, players quitting at the height of their careers. Next thing you know, they'll be telling us Babe Ruth was really a guy with two pillows, Jack Johnson went around fighting his chauffeur, Goliath went in the tank, and Red Grange only carried the ball against the third string. I mean, what's next? St. Francis kicking over birdbaths? Santa Claus turning out to be a jewel thief?

I have, accordingly, undertaken to rewrite fairytale history to bring it more in conformity with actual happenings on the field of athletics. Here is what would happen if Mother Goose spent a year in the press box:

1. CINDERELLA: "Once upon a time, there was this ugly young girl who had two pretty stepsisters and a hard old stepmother, and she sat among the cinders all day long. One day, a fairy godmother came along and said, 'I have a proposition. I will make you a fairy princess up until 12 o'clock. Be sure and go home then because I have a union contract. Get a rich guy at the ball, and we'll all go to Acapulco.'

"So Cinderella did, only her glass slipper fell off just as she ran out of the hall at midnight, and a handsome young prince followed her and burst in on her just as she was emptying the fireplace. 'Is this yours?' he asked. And he knelt to try it on her tiny feet.

"JUST THEN her stepsister walked through. And the prince said, 'Wow! What was THAT?!' And Cinderella said, 'That's my horrid old stepsister,' and the prince said, 'Baby, put down that broom and introduce me, and for heaven sakes, stop leaving your shoes lying around!' And the prince married her older sister and now Cinderella is their upstairs maid."

2. ST. GEORGE AND the Dragon: "Once there was a rich and handsome young knight named St. George, and one day a pretty damsel said to him, 'Oh, kind sir, would you mind killing yon dragon for me—the one breathing fire and switching his tail?' And St. George said, 'Baby, are you OUT of your MIND?'

3. LITTLE RED Riding Hood: "Once there was a very pretty well-dressed but stupid little girl named 'Red Riding Hood,' who didn't know her grandmother from her elbow or a wolf from a hole in the ground. This led to unbelievable complications, but if you see a funny-looking wolf with a stocking-cap on and heartburn running around, don't try to pet it."

4. THE PIED PIPER of Hamelin: "In the little town of Hamelin, in the year 1284, the people were plagued with rats. One day, this funny little guy with a multi-colored suit and a flute came into town and went on 'What's My Line?' And nobody guessed, so he said, I'm a rat-mover and for one million kroner I'll move all your rats to Miami.'

"And one of the townspeople said, 'I've heard of this guy. We better pay him, or he'll march off with all our kids.' And another townspeople said, 'So what? We get rid of the rats, don't we? For nothing, yet.' So they didn't pay him, and he took all the rats and the kids, and the people said, 'The joke's on him. We really wanted to get rid of the kids in the first place.' And they all lived happily ever after—except the guy who sold rat traps and children's shoes and the guy who did Captain Kangaroo on TV."

5. GOLDILOCKS AND the Three Bears: "Once upon a time, a girl with long blonde hair known as Goldilocks broke into the home of three bears and ate their porridge and slept in their beds. So they had her arrested."

6. HANSEL AND GRETEL: "Little Hansel and Gretel's mother sent them in the woods to pick berries, only they found a wicked old witch's gingerbread house instead. And the wicked old witch asked Gretel if she would like some gingerbread which she made out of little children with an old Betty Crocker recipe, and Gretel said, 'Sure!' The witch popped Hans in the oven, and he said, 'But, sis, she's going to make gingerbread out of me!' And Gretel said 'Look! Do I tell YOU what to eat?' And when her mother came, Gretel waved a cookie at her and said, 'Look, Ma, no Hansel!' "

Coast Guard To Enforce Two New Boat Laws

Califorina boaters today were reminded that on Feb. 3 the U.S. Coast Guard will begin enforcing a new federal law affecting the rights of way of vessels operating in narrow channels.

State Harbors and Watercraft Director Lachlan M. Richards noted that the new federal statute, Public Law 764, contains two similar rules which apply to all California waters navigable either to the sea or to other states.

The first rule provides that when operating in narrow channels, power-driven vessels less than 65 feet in length shall not hamper deep-draft vessels.

The second rule adds that, while boats under sail usually have the right of way over power craft, sailboats do not have the right to hinder deep-draft vessels in narrow channels.

Richards said the new law was enacted to keep small craft a safe distance from the paths of large vessels which have difficulty maneuvering in harbor, bay and river channels.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—The disguise isn't fooling anyone. Gagging it up, Larry Asay is trying to sign up for the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. tourney, but gets a fast brush-off from Mitzie Brown (center), tourney chairman, and Sylvia Knutson, publicity chairman and treasurer of the MCWBA. Deadline Nears For Gals' Bowling Tourney

Deadline for entries in the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. seventh annual championship tournament is next Tuesday, with entry forms available at all three Marin County bowling houses.

The tournament will be held at Greenbrae Lanes on the weekends of Feb. 18-19 and Feb. 25-26. The entry blanks can be obtained at Greenbrae Lanes, Nave Lanes and Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, said tourney publicity chairman Sylvia Knutson.

The tourney is open to all Marin County women bowlers, and is a handicap event giving low handicap women an equal chance against the better bowlers. Competition will be in singles, doubles and team events. Past tourneys have drawn an average of 130 to 145 women.

Photographer Vicki McDonald will be on hand to take souvenier pictures for the contestants, said the tourney publicity head. Tournament director is Mitzie Brown.

The all-events championship trophy will go to the woman with the highest scratch total for nine games, but handicaps will be used for all other prizes.

Buckpasser Hurt Again

ARCADIA (AP)—Buckpasser, the 1966 Horse of the Year, is suffering again from a hoof injury, and unless the accompanying inflammation subsides, the famed 4-year-old will miss the $100,000-added Strub Stakes Saturday at Santa Anita.

Eddie Neloy, trainer of the Ogden Phipps-owned colt, said yesterday that Buckpasser suffered recurrence of a quarter-crack in the right forefoot. The ailment kept Buckpasser out of the Triple Crown races as a 3-year-old.

Buckpaser, with a patch on the damaged hoof, galloped yesterday and the muddy training track, and the son of Tom Fool will be entered today for the 1¼ mile Strub Stakes.

The Strub Stakes for 4-year-olds is the primary reason Buckpasser came to California. He won two warmup stakes — the Malibu Dec. 31 and the San Fernando Jan. 14 — to run his victory streak to 14.

After Saturday's race—regardless of whether he runs—Buckpasser will be shipped to Florida.

Bucs' Bob Clemente Joins Exclusive 100 Grand Club

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roberto Clemente has joined the select group of $100,000 a year major league baseball players.

The National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 signed yesterday to play again for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are expected by many to win the 1967 pennant.

Eddie Mathews, recently traded to Houston by Atlanta, signed a reported $50,000 contract with the Astros in another star signing yesterday.

Clemente, a hard-hitting outfielder with a lifetime average of .310, said he had "no problems whatsoever" in agreeing on terms with Joe L. Brown, the Pirate general manager.

Clemente said only that he got a raise, but a Pittsburgh spokesman indicated $100,000 would be about right making Clemente the highest paid player in Pirate history.

Other players in the $100,000 class include Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinal.

DiMaggio, William, Koufax and Musial are retired.

The most Babe Ruth, the famed home run slugger, ever received in one year from the Yankees was $80,000 in the pre-inflation era of more than 30 years ago.

Mathews, a veteran third baseman who hopes to reach the career plateau of 500 homers this season, became the highest paid player in the six-year history of the Astros. His reorted $50,000 compares to the previous Astro high of $42,000 to Nellie Fox in 1964.

"I feel I should break 511 this year," Mathews said at the signing. He currently is tied with Lou Gehrig for sixth place at 493 on the all-time home run list.

Celts, Royals, Hawks Post NBA Triumphs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Assn. schedule invited the Boston Celtics out twice this week, but the Celtics stuck Philadelphia and Detroit with the bill.

Playing the ungrateful guest, the Celtics first stuffed themselves with a victory at the expense of Philadelphia's 36-game home court winning streak Tuesday night.

Last night, the Celtics feasted on the Pistons 112-105, extending Detroit's losing streak at home to eight, tying a club record.

Elsewhere, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati beat the New York Knicks for the second time in two nights, 132-125, and St. Louis survived a last half collapse and edged the Chicago Bulls 103-102 in Chicago, and on the West Coast the Los Angeles Lakers whipped the Baltimore Bullets 128-115.

BIGGEST KICK

Sam Jones and John Havlicek got the biggest kick out of the evening in Detroit as the Celtics won their sixth straight. The pair scored 21 points in the final period to turn a dull evening into a sparkler for the Celtics.

Jones scored nine of his 30 points in the quarter and Havlicek 12 of his 28 as Boston overcame a seven-point deficit in the final 10 minutes.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 28 and Dave DeBusschere added 20.

Robertson, who scored 37 points to beat the Knicks in New York the night before, matched that total as the Royals lost a 74-57 halftime lead and then came from behind in the last eight minutes in Cincinnati.

The victory drew the Royals within one-half game of the third-place Knicks in the Eastern Division.

Jerry Lucas aided Robertson with 27 points while Willis Reed and Dick Barnett each had 22 for the Knicks.

St. Louis had a 53-31 lead melt into a 98-93 deficit before Zelmo Beaty and Bill Bridges tied the count at 100. Beaty then made it 102-100 and Bridges' free throw made it 103-101.

A 45-point scoring output by Jerry West triggered Los Angeles' victory over Baltimore. The Lakers, leading 105-98 early in the fourth period, broke the game open and built margins of 115-103 and 124-109.

Griffith's Next Bout Uncertain

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith's co-managers want a little time before they make any commitment for their fighter's title defense against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden, March 22.

"We haven't had much time to breathe since Emile's win over Joey Archer last Monday night," said Gil Clancy, trainer and co-manager of the middleweight champion, after a visit to the Garden yesterday.

Benvenuti, meanwhile, was hoping to get permission from the Italian Boxing Federation and European Boxing Union to delay defense of his European middleweight crown.

The EBU has named Spain's Luis Folledo as the official challenger and wants Nino to fight him in the first week of March. The EBU usually doesn't take any nonsense about title defenses. If a champion doesn't defend every six months, he's dethroned.

Harry Markson, the director of boxing for the Garden, said if the title match is made he will telephone the Italian Federation and the EBU to allow Benvenuti extra time.

If Benvenuti gets the fight and wins the world title, he would yield the European title. But if he should lose he wants to hold onto the European diadem, which is a valuable property overseas.

O's Give Bunker $2,000 Pay Hike

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wally Bunker, one of three Baltimore pitchers who shut out the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1966 World Series, has signed his 1967 contract with the Orioles.

Bunker, who was on the disabled list last August, finished with a 10-6 record and a 4.28 earned run average. But he saved his best effort for the World Series, blanking the Dodgers 1-0 in the third game on six hits.

Bunker is believed to have signed for about $15,000, up about $2,000 over last year.

Let's Modernize Some Old Fairytale History

The other day, in a burst of whimsy, I likened the outcome of the Super Bowl game to a fairy tale gone mad, an ending the Brothers Grimm would never approve of.

Which set me to thinking the whole world of sports has given the nursery-story school of reporting a thorough kicking around of late. I mean, Notre Dame settling for a tie, the Yankees finishing last, players quitting at the height of their careers. Next thing you know, they'll be telling us Babe Ruth was really a guy with two pillows, Jack Johnson went around fighting his chauffeur, Goliath went in the tank, and Red Grange only carried the ball against the third string. I mean, what's next? St. Francis kicking over birdbaths? Santa Claus turning out to be a jewel thief?

I have, accordingly, undertaken to rewrite fairytale history to bring it more in conformity with actual happenings on the field of athletics. Here is what would happen if Mother Goose spent a year in the press box:

1. CINDERELLA: "Once upon a time, there was this ugly young girl who had two pretty stepsisters and a hard old stepmother, and she sat among the cinders all day long. One day, a fairy godmother came along and said, 'I have a proposition. I will make you a fairy princess up until 12 o'clock. Be sure and go home then because I have a union contract. Get a rich guy at the ball, and we'll all go to Acapulco.'

"So Cinderella did, only her glass slipper fell off just as she ran out of the hall at midnight, and a handsome young prince followed her and burst in on her just as she was emptying the fireplace. 'Is this yours?' he asked. And he knelt to try it on her tiny feet.

"JUST THEN her stepsister walked through. And the prince said, 'Wow! What was THAT?!' And Cinderella said, 'That's my horrid old stepsister,' and the prince said, 'Baby, put down that broom and introduce me, and for heaven sakes, stop leaving your shoes lying around!' And the prince married her older sister and now Cinderella is their upstairs maid."

2. ST. GEORGE AND the Dragon: "Once there was a rich and handsome young knight named St. George, and one day a pretty damsel said to him, 'Oh, kind sir, would you mind killing yon dragon for me—the one breathing fire and switching his tail?' And St. George said, 'Baby, are you OUT of your MIND?'

3. LITTLE RED Riding Hood: "Once there was a very pretty well-dressed but stupid little girl named 'Red Riding Hood,' who didn't know her grandmother from her elbow or a wolf from a hole in the ground. This led to unbelievable complications, but if you see a funny-looking wolf with a stocking-cap on and heartburn running around, don't try to pet it."

4. THE PIED PIPER of Hamelin: "In the little town of Hamelin, in the year 1284, the people were plagued with rats. One day, this funny little guy with a multi-colored suit and a flute came into town and went on 'What's My Line?' And nobody guessed, so he said, I'm a ratmover and for one million kroner I'll move all your rats to Miami.'

"And one of the townspeople said, 'I've heard of this guy. We better pay him, or he'll march off with all our kids.' And another townspeople said, 'So what? We get rid of the rats, don't we? For nothing, yet.' So they didn't pay him, and he took all the rats and the kids, and the people said, 'The joke's on him. We really wanted to get rid of the kids in the first place.' And they all lived happily ever after—except the guy who sold rat traps and children's shoes and the guy who did Captain Kangaroo on TV."

5. GOLDILOCKS AND the Three Bears: "Once upon a time, a girl with long blonde hair known as Goldilocks broke into the home of three bears and ate their porridge and slept in their beds. So they had her arrested."

6. HANSEL AND GRETEL: "Little Hansel and Gretel's mother sent them in the woods to pick berries, only they found a wicked old witch's gingerbread house instead. And the wicked old witch asked Gretel if she would like some gingerbread which she made out of little children with an old Betty Crocker recipe, and Gretel said, 'Sure!' The witch popped Hans in the oven, and he said, 'But, sis, she's going to make gingerbread out of me!' And Gretel said 'Look! Do I tell YOU what to eat?' And when her mother came, Gretel waved a cookie at her and said, 'Look, Ma, no Hansel!' "

Coast Guard To Enforce Two New Boat Laws

Californa boaters today were reminded that on Feb. 3 the U.S. Coast Guard will begin enforcing a new federal law affecting the rights of way of vessels operating in narrow channels.

State Harbors and Watercraft Director Lachlan M. Richards noted that the new federal statute, Public Law 764, contains two similar rules which apply to all California waters navigable either to the sea or to other states.

The first rule provides that when operating in narrow channels, power-driven vessels less than 65 feet in length shall not hamper deep-draft vessels.

The second rule adds that, while boats under sail usually have the right of way over power craft, sailboats do not have the right to hinder deep-draft vessels in narrow channels.

Richards said the new law was enacted to keep small craft a safe distance from the paths of large vessels which have difficulty maneuvering in harbor, bay and river channels.

FOR WOMEN ONLY—The disguise isn't fooling anyone. Gagging it up, Larry Asay is trying to sign up for the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. tourney, but gets a fast brush-off from Mitzie Brown (center), tourney chairman, and Sylvia Knutson, publicity chairman and treasurer of the MCWBA. Lou Eastland, desk man at Country Club Bowl, looks on in amazement.

Deadline Nears For Gals' Bowling Tourney

Deadline for entries in the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. seventh annual championship tournament is next Tuesday, with entry forms available at all three Marin County bowling houses.

The tournament will be held at Greenbrae Lanes on the weekends of Feb. 18-19 and Feb. 25-26. The entry blanks can be obtained at Greenbrae Lanes, Nave Lanes and Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, said tourney publicity chairman Sylvia Knutson.

The tourney is open to all Marin County women bowlers, and is a handicap event giving low handicap women an equal chance against the better bowlers. Competition will be in singles, doubles and team events. Past tourneys have drawn an average of 130 to 145 women.

Photographer Vicki McDonald will be on hand to take souvenier pictures for the contestants, said the tourney publicity head. Tournament director is Mitzie Brown.

The all-events championship trophy will go to the woman with the highest scratch total for nine games, but handicaps will be used for all other prizes.

Buckpasser Hurt Again

ARCADIA (AP)—Buckpasser, the 1966 Horse of the Year, is suffering again from a hoof injury, and unless the accompanying inflammation subsides, the famed 4-year-old will miss the $100,000-added Strub Stakes Saturday at Santa Anita.

Eddie Neloy, trainer of the Ogden Phipps-owned colt, said yesterday that Buckpasser suffered recurrence of a quarter-crack in the right forefoot. The ailment kept Buckpasser out of the Triple Crown races as a 3-year-old.

Buckpaser, with a patch on the damaged hoof, galloped yesterday and the muddy training track, and the son of Tom Fool will be entered today for the 1¼ mile Strub Stakes.

The Strub Stakes for 4-year-olds is the primary reason Buckpasser came to California. He won two warmup stakes — the Malibu Dec. 31 and the San Fernando Jan. 14 — to run his victory streak to 14.

After Saturday's race—regardless of whether he runs—Buckpasser will be shipped to Florida.

Bucs' Bob Clemente Joins Exclusive 100 Grand Club

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roberto Clemente has joined the select group of $100,000 a year major league baseball players.

The National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 signed yesterday to play again for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are expected by many to win the 1967 pennant.

Eddie Mathews, recently traded to Houston by Atlanta, signed a reported $50,000 contract with the Astros in another star signing yesterday.

Clemente, a hard-hitting outfielder with a lifetime average of .310, said he had "no problems whatsoever" in agreeing on terms with Joe L. Brown, the Pirate general manager.

Clemente said only that he got a raise, but a Pittsburgh spokesman indicated $100,000 would be about right making Clemente the highest paid player in Pirate history.

Other players in the $100,000 class include Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinal.

DiMaggio, William, Koufax and Musial are retired.

The most Babe Ruth, the famed home run slugger, ever received in one year from the Yankees was $80,000 in the pre-inflation era of more than 30 years ago.

Mathews, a veteran third baseman who hopes to reach the career plateau of 500 homers this season, became the highest paid player in the six-year history of the Astros. His reorted $50,000 compares to the previous Astro high of $42,000 to Nellie Fox in 1964.

"I feel I should break 511 this year," Mathews said at the signing. He currently is tied with Lou Gehrig for sixth place at 493 on the all-time home run list.

Celts, Royals, Hawks Post NBA Triumphs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Basketball Assn. schedule invited the Boston Celtics out twice this week, but the Celtics stuck Philadelphia and Detroit with the bill.

Playing the ungrateful guest, the Celtics first stuffed themselves with a victory at the expense of Philadelphia's 36-game home court winning streak Tuesday night.

Last night, the Celtics feasted on the Pistons 112-105, extending Detroit's losing streak at home to eight, tying a club record.

Elsewhere, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati beat the New York Knicks for the second time in two nights, 132-125, and St. Louis survived a last half collapse and edged the Chicago Bulls 103-102 in Chicago, and on the West Coast the Los Angeles Lakers whipped the Baltimore Bullets 128-115.

BIGGEST KICK

Sam Jones and John Havlicek got the biggest kick out of the evening in Detroit as the Celtics won their sixth straight. The pair scored 21 points in the final period to turn a dull evening into a sparkler for the Celtics.

Jones scored nine of his 30 points in the quarter and Havlicek 12 of his 28 as Boston overcame a seven-point deficit in the final 10 minutes.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 28 and Dave DeBusschere added 20.

Robertson, who scored 37 points to beat the Knicks in New York the night before, matched that total as the Royals lost a 74-57 halftime lead and then came from behind in the last eight minutes in Cincinnati.

The victory drew the Royals within one-half game of the third-place Knicks in the Eastern Division.

Jerry Lucas aided Robertson with 27 points while Willis Reed and Dick Barnett each had 22 for the Knicks.

St. Louis had a 53-31 lead melt into a 98-93 deficit before Zelmo Beaty and Bill Bridges tied the count at 100. Beaty then made it 102-100 and Bridges' free throw made it 103-101.

A 45-point scoring output by Jerry West triggered Los Angeles' victory over Baltimore. The Lakers, leading 105-98 early in the fourth period, broke the game open and built margins of 115-103 and 124-109.

Bunker, who was on the disabled list last August, finished with a 10-6 record and a 4.28 earned run average. But he saved his best effort for the World Series, blanking the Dodgers 1-0 in the third game on six hits.

Bunker is believed to have signed for about $15,000, up about $2,000 over last year.

Griffith's Next Bout Uncertain

NEW YORK (AP) — Emile Griffith's co-managers want a little time before they make any commitment for their fighter's title defense against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden, March 22.

"We haven't had much time to breathe since Emile's win over Joey Archer last Monday night," said Gil Clancy, trainer and co-manager of the middleweight champion, after a visit to the Garden yesterday.

Benvenuti, meanwhile, was hoping to get permission from the Italian Boxing Federation and European Boxing Union to delay defense of his European middleweight crown.

The EBU has named Spain's Luis Folledo as the official challenger and wants Nino to fight him in the first week of March. The EBU usually doesn't take any nonsense about title defenses. If a champion doesn't defend every six months, he's dethroned.

WEEKEND KICKER FOR N.Y. GIANTS?

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pete Gogolak, believed to have prompted the merger of the National and American Football Leagues by forsaking Buffalo of the AFL for New York of the NFL, now is leaving the Giants — for the Army.

The Hungarian-born placekicker was inducted into military service yesterday at Fort Dix and apparently will be lost for the 1967 season. He could be available for weekend kicking if he stays at Fort Dix.

Gogolak, 24, failed his physical tests last summer because of a childhood spinal injury. The government, however, has since relaxed physical requirements, and Gogolak passed the second test.

Gogolak left the Bills of the then rival AFL at the end of the 1965 season. Many felt his departure brought to a head the struggle between the leagues by opening the possibility of player raids. The merger followed a short time later.

Gogolak, who attended Cornell, and his younger brother, Charley, who attended Princeton, first stepped into the national spotlight by setting collegiate field goal and extra point records with their revolutionary soccer-style kicking methods. Charley now plays for the Washington Redskins of the NFL.

Both fled with their parents from Hungary after the 1956 revolution put down by the Russians.

In his first year at Buffalo in 1964, Pete kicked 102 points and increased that to 115 in 1965. With the Giants, he kicked 16 of 28 field goal attempts and 29 of 31 extra point tries for 77 points.

The Giants said they knew Gogolak was likely to be drafted but added they have two good replacements on the squad.

"We have Chuck Mercein from Yale, who held all the Ivy League records before Gogolak came along," a Giant official said. "Then we have Wendell Harris from Louisiana State. He also is a very fine place kicker."

Class B Cagers In Midst Of Exciting League Race

By ROB HARVEY

Marin County Athletic League varsity cage teams cop the headlines, but the Class B hoop chase also shapes up as an exciting championship scramble.

Redwood and Terra Linda currently are tied for the loop lead with 4-1 records, while San Rafael is second at 4-2 and Drake and Marin Catholic are knotted with 3-2 won-lost marks.

Some of the reasons behind the teams' present status:

REDWOOD COACH Duncan MacSwain reports that his "Bees" are the best the school has had. The leading scorers are freshman Roger Smith (6-0), shooting at a 12.8 clip in MCAL play, and guard Skip Corsini, who's been rolling along at 12.2. Roger is the younger brother of former Redwood ace Russ Smith, and Russ is now doing his bit toward keeping the defending champion College of Marin Tars atop the Golden Valley Conference standings.

Additionally, Redwood has Bob Crossley, a 5-11 guard who played his first full game in Redwood's victory over Tamalpais. Crossley suffered a broken wrist in the first game of the season — against DeAnza High's Bees. Forward George Schafer (6-0) is the top rebounder, while Jim Kista has replaced center Andy McLeroy who broke his ankle and will be out of action until the last five games of the season. Kosta has sparkled with a 12-point average.

"It's a rough league but we'll certainly be in it," MacSwain conceded. "It's a wide open race."

TERRA LINDA — Paced by sophomore Pat Purcell (5-10) who is averaging 13 points per game in league scraps, the Trobabes are speedy and accurate. Their lone loss was to Redwood, though in that contest they trailed 21-45 at the half and rallied strong to bow by only 5.

Joe Brighenti's other top scorers are junior Randy Matson and sophomore Bob Nadell; the rebounding load is carried by center John Thibodeaux (6-½), 14 per game average, including 23 in a triumph over Drake. Sophomores Guy Franklin and Brian Carlisle round out the squad.

DRAKE — "It's the most consistent team in terms of their efforts. They simply put out 110 per cent," said mentor Richard De Conti.

Their No. 1 scorer is guard Curry Miller; and junior forward Dave Alvarado (5-10) is the defensive star. Drake's other stalwart is center Phil Reagen (5-11).

SAN RAFAEL — Like most other coaches, Milt Hain sees it as a three-way chase, with his own cagers looming as the dark horse threat.

San Rafael is the type of club that can press the other guys into a frenzy. And its marksmen connect consistently from the field.

Guards Phil Martino and Bruce Nave provide the scoring punch, while junior Mike Shipsey, 5-10 center, has "been doing a good job rebounding." A 2-2-1 press is part of the Bullpups' game. It's effective but it still has a lotto contend with before the issue is settled.

MARIN CATHOLIC — Five-ten forward Mike Murray and Dave D'Artney are both pointmakers for coach Jim Caranica But Murray, who dribbles and rebounds well, is wanted by the varsity (and after tomorrow's tilt with Terra Linda, that's where he may be).

Caranica thinks his troops have a chance to win the flag but readily admits that murray's absence is "not going to help us any." Marin Catholic last Tuesday nipped Drake 41-39.

TAMALPAIS — George Irvin's little Injuns have the nucleus of a good team. The hard inner core is Larry Powers, Mike Harris, Bill Schneider, Rob Nelson and Mal Sibbernsen, a 5-11 freshman center.

"The kids are progressing but there is no depth after the first five," Irvin offered. Hence the lack of experience and bench strength but yet the desire to win.

NOVATO — Like the Novato varsity, Novato's Bee squad is inexperienced and according to head coach Ken Anderson, must improve its marksmanship.

It'll take time. But it is no doubt Anderson is in for a very trying season.

The pacer of the scoring attack is guard Gene Barnes, perhaps the most polished of the quintet but like the rest, in need of work on fundamentals.

On the brighter side, Bob Ament has been reactivated after missing four week's action due to a knee injury. "We expect him to come around and help. "Maybe we can upset somebody," said Adnerson.

Celtics' Russell Fined: No Time For Commercial

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald said today that Boston Celtics' Player-Coach Bill Russell has been fined $50 by the National Basketball Assn. for failing to call a time out.

The newspaper said the fine was levied under a little-known NBA rule requiring each coach to call at least one time out per period to benefit radio and television sponsors.

The incident occurred during the Celtics-Philadelphia 76ers game at Philadelphia Tuesday night. The Celtics won 118-106.

In a dispatch from Detroit, where the Celtics beat the Pistons 112-105 last night, sports writer Joe Looney said Russell was 20 seconds late in calling the time out.

Looney said if a time out has not already been called, the home team coach must call one during the sixth minute of a quarter and the visiting coach during the 11th minute.

Philadelphia Coach Alex Hannum complied at 5:49 of the quarter, he said.

Russell called his time out at 11:20. He reportedly acknowledged he was aware of the rule, but the Herald quoted Arnold (Red) Auerbach, Celtics' general manager, as saying it was news to him.

"The tempo of the game was such that Russell just couldn't find the spot to stop the action," Looney wrote. "During the 11th minute, the Celtics were all over the court, blanking the 76ers and scoring twice on their own account in quick downcourt sequences."

Auerbach was to bring the matter up at the league's board of governor's meeting today in New York.

WEEKEND KICKER FOR N.Y. GIANTS?

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pete Gogolak, believed to have prompted the merger of the National and American Football Leagues by forsaking Buffalo of the AFL for New York of the NFL, now is leaving the Giants — for the Army.

The Hungarian-born place-kicker was inducted into military service yesterday at Fort Dix and apparently will be lost for the 1967 season. He could be available for weekend kicking if he stays at Fort Dix.

Gogolak, 24, failed his physical tests last summer because of a childhood spinal injury. The government, however, has since relaxed physical requirements, and Gogolak passed the second test.

Gogolak left the Bills of the then rival AFL at the end of the 1965 season. Many felt his departure brought to a head the struggle between the leagues by opening the possibility of player raids. The merger followed a short time later.

Gogolak, who attended Cornell, and his younger brother, Charley, who attended Princeton, first stepped into the national spotlight by setting collegiate field goal and extra point records with their revolutionary soccer-style kicking methods. Charley now plays for the Washington Redskins of the NFL.

Both fled with their parents from Hungary after the 1956 revolution put down by the Russians.

In his first year at Buffalo in 1964, Pete kicked 102 points and increased that to 115 in 1965. With the Giants, he kicked 16 of 28 field goal attempts and 29 of 31 extra point tries for 77 points.

The Giants said they knew Gogolak was likely to be drafted but added they have two good replacements on the squad.

"We have Chuck Mercein from Yale, who held all the Ivy League records before Gogolak came along," a Giant official said. "Then we have Wendell Harris from Louisiana State. He also is a very fine place kicker."

Class B Cagers In Midst Of Exciting League Race

Independent-Journal Sports
Jan. 26, 1967 35

By ROB HARVEY

Marin County Athletic League varsity cage teams cop the headlines, but the Class B hoop chase also shapes up as an exciting championship scramble.

Redwood and Terra Linda currently are tied for the loop lead with 4-1 records, while San Rafael is second at 4-2 and Drake and Marin Catholic are knotted with 3-2 won-lost marks.

Some of the reasons behind the teams' present status:

REDWOOD COACH Duncan MacSwain reports that his "Bees" are the best the school has had. The leading scorers are freshman Roger Smith (6-0), shooting at a 12.8 clip in MCAL play, and guard Skip Corsini, who's been rolling along at 12.2. Roger is the younger brother of former Redwood ace Russ Smith, and Russ is now doing his bit toward keeping the defending champion College of Marin Tars atop the Golden Valley Conference standings.

Additionally, Redwood has Bob Crossley, a 5-11 guard who played his first full game in Redwood's victory over Tamalpais. Crossley suffered a broken wrist in the first game of the season — against DeAnza High's Bees. Forward George Schafer (6-0) is the top rebounder, while Jim Kista has replaced center Andy McLeroy who broke his ankle and will be out of action until the last five games of the season. Kosta has sparkled with a 12-point average.

"It's a rough league but we'll certainly be in it," MacSwain conceded. "It's a wide open race."

TERRA LINDA — Paced by sophomore Pat Purcell (5-10) who is averaging 13 points per game in league scraps, the Trobabes are speedy and accurate. Their lone loss was to Redwood, though in that contest they trailed 21-45 at the half and rallied strong to bow by only 5.

Joe Brighenti's other top scorers are junior Randy Matson and sophomore Bob Nadell; the rebounding load is carried by center John Thibodeaux (6-½), 14 per game average, including 23 in a triumph over Drake. Sophomores Guy Franklin and Brian Carlisle round out the squad.

DRAKE — "It's the most consistent team in terms of their efforts. They simply put out 110 per cent," said mentor Richard De Conti.

Their No. 1 scorer is guard Curry Miller; and junior forward Dave Alvarado (5-10) is the defensive star. Drake's other stalwart is center Phil Reagen (5-11).

SAN RAFAEL — Like most other coaches, Milt Hain sees it as a three-way chase, with his own cagers looming as the dark horse threat.

San Rafael is the type of club that can press the other guys into a frenzy. And its marksmen connect consistently from the field.

Guards Phil Martino and Bruce Nave provide the scoring punch, while junior Mike Shipsey, 5-10 center, has "been doing a good job rebounding." A 2-2-1 press is part of the Bullpups' game. It's effective but it still has a lotto contend with before the issue is settled.

MARIN CATHOLIC — Five-ten forward Mike Murray and Dave D'Artney are both pointmakers for coach Jim Caranica But Murray, who dribbles and rebounds well, is wanted by the varsity (and after tomorrow's tilt with Terra Linda, that's where he may be).

Caranica thinks his troops have a chance to win the flag but readily admits that murray's absence is "not going to help us any." Marin Catholic last Tuesday nipped Drake 41-39.

Exit the top contenders; enter Tamalpais and Novato, both mired in the cellar at 0-5.

TAMALPAIS — George Irvin's little Injuns have the nucleus of a good team. The hard inner core is Larry Powers, Mike Harris, Bill Schneider, Rob Nelson and Mal Sibbernsen, a 5-11 freshman center.

"The kids are progressing but there is no depth after the first five," Irvin offered. Hence the lack of experience and bench strength but yet the desire to win.

NOVATO — Like the Novato varsity, Novato's Bee squad is inexperienced and according to head coach Ken Anderson, must improve its marksmanship.

It'll take time. But it is no doubt Anderson is in for a very trying season.

The pacer of the scoring attack is guard Gene Barnes, perhaps the most polished of the quintet but like the rest, in need of work on fundamentals.

On the brighter side, Bob Ament has been reactivated after missing four week's action due to a knee injury. "We expect him to come around and help. "Maybe we can upset somebody," said Adnerson.

Auckland Team Wins

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Auckland, New Zealand, University's touring rugby team won its fourth straight victory yesterday, routing the University of California at Santa Barbara 53-3.

Redwood Hosts Drake '5'

The atmosphere at the Redwood-Drake basketball game should be one of acute discomfort.

It ought to be like a father's waiting room in the maternity ward. If the players were wearing ties, they would gag.

For whoever loses this game at Redwood at 8:15 tonight is going to suffer something of a jolt.

If the Giants lose, it is going to be a death blow. Redwood has already lost twice and for the Giants to expect undefeated Tamalpais to lose three games in its next seven outings would be a case of foolish optimism.

The Giants must win to keep alive the faint flicker of a title hope.

Drake has lost once to Tamalpais, a situation that can at least be pushed aside with the thought of "getting them at our place." But another loss might put the Pirates with their backs to the wall, with no exit signs in sight.

Drake will definitely have the edge. The Pirates take pride in defense, something that has been only incidental for the Giants. They have Jerry Sprout, 6-6, 235 pounds worth of high-jumping, good-shooting center. And they have learned not to play with just one ace, as witnessed by Chet Carlisle's 20-point pick-up effort against Marin Catholic.

Man-for-man, the Giants are taller, with 6-6 Tom Seidenberg, 6-5 Jim Marc and a bench chock full of giants. But they are not beefy tall men, nor have they swept off the boards with thoroughness.

The key to the Giants is Andre Horn, 5-9, a guard who holds a 14-4 scoring average. The offense runs around Horn, and Jack Fitzhenry, a hard-driving forward. Al Fritz, only 6-4, has given the Giants a big lift on the boards and in scoring. And Barry Stockwell, a low-scoring guard, is the top Giant defensive player.

Class At Redwood

A free Piloting and Small Boat Handling class, sponsored by the Marin Power Squadron, will start tonight at 7:30 at Redwood High School' student center. An advertisement in Tuesday's Independent-Journal sports section incorrectly listed the class for Tamalpais High.

Stetson's 671 Series Tops Country Club Keg Scores

Lee Stetson, a 178 average bowler from San Rafael, did much better than that in the 905 Travel League—a 671 series—to headline the past week's scores from Country Club Bowl.

Stetson had games of 246, 212 and 213. Orlando Conti, owner of Conti Plumbing in San Rafael and a 172 average bowler, had games of 243, 200 and 212 for a 655 set in the 840 Scratch League.

Ray Kemp had a 247 line, top game of the week, in the 900 Classic League.

Shirley Campanella, a Novato school teacher, again led the women keglers, this time with a 224 game and 563 series in the Belles and Beaus League. Her series was highest among the gals, but her 224 game was one pin shy of Lillian Scotto's 225 in the Ladies 605 Classic League.

Redwood Hosts Drake '5'

The atmosphere at the Redwood-Drake basketball game should be one of acute discomfort.

It ought to be like a father's waiting room in the maternity ward. If the players were wearing ties, they would gag.

For whoever loses this game at Redwood at 8:15 tonight is going to suffer something of a jolt.

If the Giants lose, it is going to be a death blow. Redwood has already lost twice and for the Giants to expect undefeated Tamalpais to lose three games in its next seven outings would be a case of foolish optimism.

The Giants must win to keep alive the faint flicker of a title hope.

Drake has lost once to Tamalpais, a situation that can at least be pushed aside with the thought of "getting them at our place." But another loss might put the Pirates with their backs to the wall, with no exit signs in sight.

Drake will definitely have the edge. The Pirates take pride in defense, something that has been only incidental for the Giants. They have Jerry Sprout, 6-6, 235 pounds worth of high-jumping, good-shooting center. And they have learned not to play with just one ace, as witnessed by Chet Carlisle's 20-point pick-up effort against Marin Catholic.

Man-for-man, the Giants are taller, with 6-6 Tom Seidenberg, 6-5 Jim Marc and a bench chock full of giants. But they are not beefy tall men, nor have they swept off the boards with thoroughness.

The key to the Giants is Andre Horn, 5-9, a guard who holds a 14-4 scoring average. The offense runs around Horn, and Jack Fitzhenry, a hard-driving forward. Al Fritz, only 6-4, has given the Giants a big lift on the boards and in scoring. And Barry Stockwell, a low-scoring guard, is the top Giant defensive player.

Class At Redwood

A free Piloting and Small Boat Handling class, sponsored by the Marin Power Squadron, will start tonight at 7:30 at Redwood High School' student center. An advertisement in Tuesday's Independent-Journal sports section incorrectly listed the class for Tamalpais High.

Stocks Gain Following Brief Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher in heavy trading today after recovering from a sharp early decline.

The market sank at start in a resumption of the profit taking that finally stopped the 1967 avdance Wednesday. Prices rallied sharply at noon, however, when a big New York City bank announced a reduction in the basic interest rate.

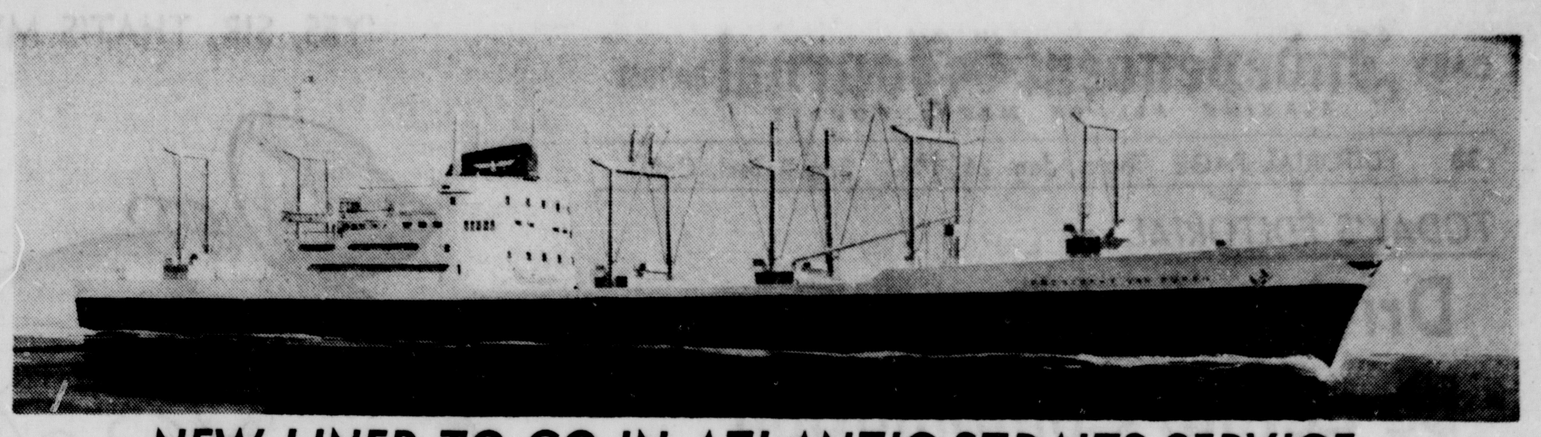
Responding to this new sign of easier money, the market erased all its losses within half an hour and began to climb. The rise halted in mid afternoon when prices backed away from their best, but stocks were generally higher as the session ended.

Glamor stocks among electronics, photographic issues, aerospace and airlines were especially strong.

The ticker tape ran as much as 8 minutes late as the market was rallying from a sharp decline in a continuation of yesterday's slide, the first clear-cut loss of 1967.

News of a cut in the British bank rate backgrounded the market at the start but stocks ignored this although bonds rose. About noon came news that Chase Manhattan Bank is cutting its prime interest rate on business loans to 5½ per cent from 6 per cent, effective Friday.

This additional proof that interest rates are softening and money is getting easier gave Wall Street "more of the same" which has helped fuel the big recovery drive this year.



NEW LINER TO GO IN ATLANTIC-STRAITS SERVICE

The President Van Buren, first of five cargo liners being constructed by Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp., Pascagoula, Miss., for American President Lines, was launched 70 per cent completed this month and is scheduled for delivery in July. She is 572 feet long, 82 feet wide, with a total cargo capacity of 845,020 cubic feet and will carry 12 passengers. The five sister ships will ply from east and west coast ports to southeast Asia but are adaptable to APL's trans-Pacific and round-the-world trade routes.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Low Priced Stocks Not Best For Profit

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a small investor and own some low-priced stocks: Alaska Airlines; Mclean Industries; Universal Controls. Alaska is down in price and the others are about holding their own. I am 59 years old. What do you think of these stocks?"—W. D.

A. I regret to say that I don't think much of them for a person like yourslef. It seems to me that you have succumbed to the common and all too human delusion that low-priced stocks are the best medium for profits. Money has been made in these issues, but it has been made usually by knowledgeable investors with a sense of timing and values.

The stocks you own are speculative rather than investment issues. McLean is a shipping company, subject to wide variation in earnings. The stock has been acting better, and I would hold for further recovery. I advise you to sell Alaska Airlines which had had a long record of deficits prior to 1966. I suggest also the sale of Universal Controls. A one-for-five reverse split has been porposed here, presumably to lift the shares out of the low-price category and improve the company's image.

I advise you in the future to disregard price levels and invest in high-grade stocks with clearly defined growth prospects, such as American Home Products and Gillette.

Q. "Do you think this a good time to buy tax-exempts? If so, could you suggest two high-grade ones?" — A. M.

A. High-grade municipals fluctuate on changing money rate conditions. They are not as cheap as they were six months ago when money was much tighter. Historically, they are still in a good buying range and I believe they are now headed higher in price. I recommend State of California 4.10s of 2002 offered at 103, rated double-A, and Pennsylvania 4s of 1984, also ratted AA selling to yield 3.85 per cent.

S.P. Reports Record Year For Income

SAN FRANCISCO — Southern Pacific has reported it transported an all-time record volume of freight in 1966 and increased earnings to a record $102.4 million.

Gross revenues from all operations exceeded $1 billion and capital improvements totaled more than $200 million for the second straight year.

Southern Pacific Chairman Donald J. Russell and President Benjamin F. Biaggini said the transportation company will have problems in 1967 in overcoming higher costs.

"Substantial wage increases have been negotiated with the railroad unions, we're paying higher prices for materials, and we face the likelihood of higher taxes," Biaggini said.

The average ton-mile charge to railroad shippers has been reduced by 15 per cent since 1958, Biaggini pointed out, as the rail industry trimmed freight rates for the eighth straight year in 1966.

S.P. reported 1966 revenues from railway operations of $930.5 million, an increase of $34 million, or about 4 per cent, over 1965.

Net income from all operations in 1966 was $102,372,379, or $3.77 a share, as compared with 1965's $97,795,748, or $3.60 a share.

Passenger revenues dropped from $21 million in 1965 to $20 million in 1966, and accounted for only 2 per cent of railway operating revenues.

" A recent Stanford Research Institute study showed that railroads cannot compete economically with other modes of passenger transport, and we see no hope of reversing the trend," Biaggini said.

Capital improvements in 1966 included big additions to SP's equipment fleet — 5,129 freight cars, costing more than $89 million, — 176 diesel locomotives, costing about $46 million, and 1,371 highway units, costing about $11 million.

"For 1967," Biaggini said, "we are going ahead with purchase of about 3,400 freight cars, costing approximately $61 million; 131 locomotives, costing about $34 million, and a substantial number of highway trucks and trailers.

Standard Oil Has Earnings Record

SAN FRANCISCO — Standard Oil Co. of California's estimated net earnings for 1966 total $424,000,000, up 8 per cent over 1965 and an all-time high, O. N. Miller, chairman of the board, reported.

This income was equivalent to $5.51 per share, compared with $5.08 a share for the preceding year.

Expenditures for capital and exploratory purposes and for acquisitions aggregated $555,000,000, with two-thirds of that figure allocated to oil exploration and development. Capital expenditures in 1967 are expected to exceed $600,000,000, Miller disclosed.

May Co. Changes

ST. LOUIS — Harry W. Loeb and Sanford J. Zimmerman have been appointed vice presidents of the May Department Stores Co. which operates 75 department stores in 13 metropolitan centers, including Southern California and the Meier & Frank Stores in Oregon.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Small Gamblers Liable To Get Hurt Most Easily

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A wise investor once said that if he made a list of 10 investment requirements and found a stock was deficient in just one, then he would decide against buying that stock.

Some analysts now say, in effect, that this maxim should be put to work. It has merits. It puts the investor on the side of the law of averages. It slows the inclination to hasty decisions.

CAUTION FORGOTTEN

Caution has again been abandoned by some traders. Despite great public enthusiasm to reinvest in the stock market, some analysts are advising clients to ponder along before commiting themselves.

The allure and illusions of the market again are charming amateur speculators to join a game they cannot even name. Prices are rising and volume is soaring and excitement blurs judgment.

Analysts say there are some solid reasons for the January advance. Primarily they note a tendency for interest rates to fall. Tight money, they reason, helped ruin last year's market.

NO CLEAR AIMS

Nevertheless, as always, many small investors now hurriedly gamble with no clear idea of their aims. Nor do they have a plan of action.

This ignorance probably accounts for that cynical, mothy and not totally accurate theory some professionals claim to follow, that the small investor usually forecasts turns in the market by doing what he shouldn't do.

Small investor activity picked up before the 1962 plunge, meaning the small investor was a poor forecaster. One year ago, just before the 1966 decline began, it rose again. And again, of course, the amateur was wrong.

This small investor activity is recorded by counting odd-lot transactions; that is, transactions of fewer than 100 shares. The professionals buy in units of 100.

The odd-lot preformance so far during the sharp January rise has been mixed. Until Jan. 10, buying was heavy, as it sometimes is early in the year's first month. A reversal then set in and the odd-lotter sold for a while.

DUMP AT BOTTOM

Distressing to some responsible market people is that the amateur gambler, without plan or knowledge, might become shocked by short-term dives in prices and dump his investments at the bottom.

Many quick-moving professional traders are at work and when they move they can cause great price changes if they are not careful.

Sharp dips and rises, then, characterize the "performance" market, a sympton of the Glamorous Sixties. It means, briefly, that some institutions which once stolidly rose with the tide now pick their waves like surf boarders.

These swinging professionals—some mutual funds particularly—know that the waves they ride might crash upon the rocks but, knowing the game, they are confident they can abandon the board before the splash.

Those who do not understand get drenched.

Redwood National Bank Joins California Bankcard Program

One of the most recent banks to join the California Bankcard Assn. is Redwood National Bank of San Rafael.

The credit card organization was started last October by Bank of California, Crocker-Citizens National Bank, United California Bank and Wells Fargo Bank. There are now 60 members throughout the state. Bank of Marin, by the way, is one of them.

Honoring of cards will be reciprocal among all member banks and credit cards are expected to be in the hands of a million customers by summer.

R. WICKHAM BAXTER of Kent Woodlands has been promoted to assistant vice president at Wells Fargo Bank's investment department in the San Francisco head office. He joined the bank as a credit analyst in 1954. Formerly an investment analyst, he began his career as a bank examiner for the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago and later became president and director of the Ravalli County Bank in Montana.

Stocks Gain Following Brief Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher in heavy trading today after recovering from a sharp early decline.

The market sank at start in a resumption of the profit taking that finally stopped the 1967 avdance Wednesday. Prices rallied sharply at noon, however, when a big New York City bank announced a reduction in the basic interest rate.

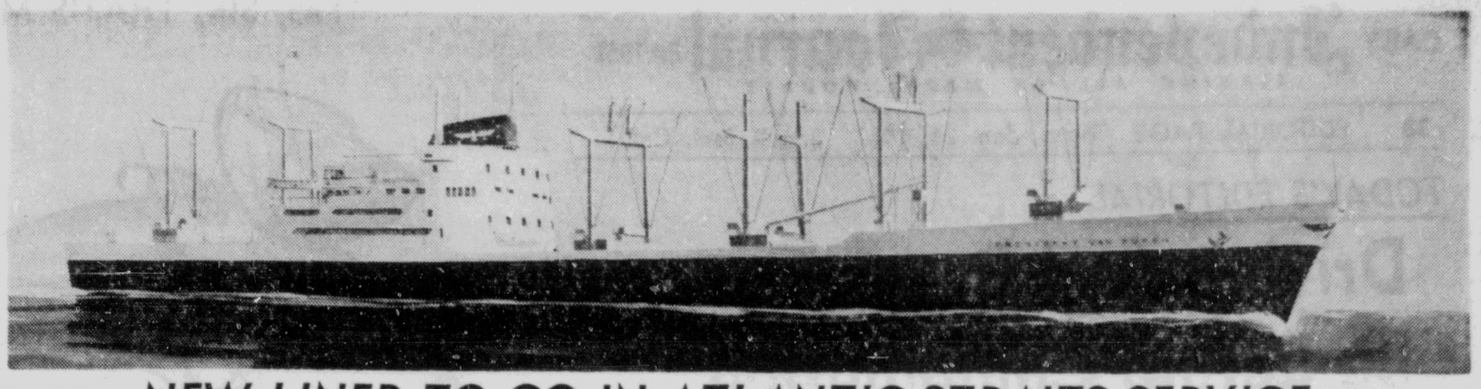
Responding to this new sign of easier money, the market erased all its losses within half an hour and began to climb. The rise halted in mid afternoon when prices backed away from their best, but stocks were generally higher as the session ended.

Glamor stocks among electronics, photographic issues, aerospace and airlines were especially strong.

The ticker tape ran as much as 8 minutes late as the market was rallying from a sharp decline in a continuation of yesterday's slide, the first clear-cut loss of 1967.

News of a cut in the British bank rate backgrounded the market at the start but stocks ignored this although bonds rose. About noon came news that Chase Manhattan Bank is cutting its prime interest rate on business loans to 5½ per cent from 6 per cent, effective Friday.

This additional proof that interest rates are softening and money is getting easier gave Wall Street "more of the same" which has helped fuel the big recovery drive this year.



NEW LINER TO GO IN ATLANTIC-STRAITS SERVICE

The President Van Buren, first of five cargo liners being constructed by Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp., Pascagoula, Miss., for American President Lines, was launched 70 per cent completed this month and is scheduled for delivery in July. She is 572 feet long, 82 feet wide, with a total cargo capacity of 845,020 cubic feet and will carry 12 passengers. The five sister ships will ply from east and west coast ports to southeast Asia but are adaptable to APL's trans-Pacific and round-the-world trade routes.

Low Priced Stocks Not Best For Profit

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a small investor and own some low-priced stocks: Alaska Airlines; Mclean Industries; Universal Controls. Alaska is down in price and the others are about holding their own. I am 59 years old. What do you think of these stocks?"—W. D.

A. I regret to say that I don't think much of them for a person like yourslef. It seems to me that you have succumbed to the common and all too human delusion that low-priced stocks are the best medium for profits. Money has been made in these issues, but it has been made usually by knowledgeable investors with a sense of timing and values.

The stocks you own are speculative rather than investment issues. McLean is a shipping company, subject to wide variation in earnings. The stock has been acting better, and I would hold for further recovery. I advise you to sell Alaska Airlines which had had a long record of deficits prior to 1966. I suggest also the sale of Universal Controls. A one-for-five reverse split has been porposed here, presumably to lift the shares out of the low-price category and improve the company's image.

I advise you in the future to disregard price levels and invest in high-grade stocks with clearly defined growth prospects, such as American Home Products and Gillette.

Q. "Do you think this a good time to buy tax-exempts? If so, could you suggest two high-grade ones?" — A. M.

A. High-grade municipals fluctuate on changing money rate conditions. They are not as cheap as they were six months ago when money was much tighter. Historically, they are still in a good buying range and I believe they are now headed higher in price. I recommend State of California 4.10s of 2002 offered at 103, rated double-A, and Pennsylvania 4s of 1984, also ratted AA selling to yield 3.85 per cent.

S.P. Reports Record Year For Income

SAN FRANCISCO — Southern Pacific has reported it transported an all-time record volume of freight in 1966 and increased earnings to a record $102.4 million.

Gross revenues from all operations exceeded $1 billion and capital improvements totaled more than $200 million for the second straight year.

Southern Pacific Chairman Donald J. Russell and President Benjamin F. Biaggini said the transportation company will have problems in 1967 in overcoming higher costs.

"Substantial wage increases have been negotiated with the railroad unions, we're paying higher prices for materials, and we face the likelihood of higher taxes," Biaggini said.

The average ton-mile charge to railroad shippers has been reduced by 15 per cent since 1958, Biaggini pointed out, as the rail industry trimmed freight rates for the eighth straight year in 1966.

S.P. reported 1966 revenues from railway operations of $930.5 million, an increase of $34 million, or about 4 per cent, over 1965.

Net income from all operations in 1966 was $102,372,379, or $3.77 a share, as compared with 1965's $97,795,748, or $3.60 a share.

Passenger revenues dropped from $21 million in 1965 to $20 million in 1966, and accounted for only 2 per cent of railway operating revenues.

"A recent Stanford Research Institute study showed that railroads cannot compete economically with other modes of passenger transport, and we see no hope of reversing the trend," Biaggini said.

Capital improvements in 1966 included big additions to SP's equipment fleet — 5,129 freight cars, costing more than $89 million, — 176 diesel locomotives, costing about $46 million, and 1,371 highway units, costing about $11 million.

"For 1967," Biaggini said, "we are going ahead with purchase of about 3,400 freight cars, costing approximately $61 million; 131 locomotives, costing about $34 million, and a substantial number of highway trucks and trailers.

Small Gamblers Liable To Get Hurt Most Easily

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A wise investor once said that if he made a list of 10 investment requirements and found a stock was deficient in just one, then he would decide against buying that stock.

Some analysts now say, in effect, that this maxim should be put to work. It has merits. It puts the investor on the side of the law of averages. It slows the inclination to hasty decisions.

CAUTION FORGOTTEN

Caution has again been abandoned by some traders. Despite great public enthusiasm to reinvest in the stock market, some analysts are advising clients to ponder along before commiting themselves.

The allure and illusions of the market again are charming amateur speculators to join a game they cannot even name. Prices are rising and volume is soaring and excitement blurs judgment.

Analysts say there are some solid reasons for the January advance. Primarily they note a tendency for interest rates to fall. Tight money, they reason, helped ruin last year's market.

NO CLEAR AIMS

Nevertheless, as always, many small investors now hurriedly gamble with no clear idea of their aims. Nor do they have a plan of action.

This ignorance probably accounts for that cynical, mothy and not totally accurate theory some professionals claim to follow, that the small investor usually forecasts turns in the market by doing what he shouldn't do.

Small investor activity picked up before the 1962 plunge, meaning the small investor was a poor forecaster. One year ago, just before the 1966 decline began, it rose again. And again, of course, the amateur was wrong.

This small investor activity is recorded by counting odd-lot transactions; that is, transactions of fewer than 100 shares. The professionals buy in units of 100.

The odd-lot preformance so far during the sharp January rise has been mixed. Until Jan. 10, buying was heavy, as it sometimes is early in the year's first month. A reversal then set in and the odd-lotter sold for a while.

DUMP AT BOTTOM

Distressing to some responsible market people is that the amateur gambler, without plan or knowledge, might become shocked by short-term dives in prices and dump his investments at the bottom.

Many quick-moving professional traders are at work and when they move they can cause great price changes if they are not careful.

Sharp dips and rises, then, characterize the "performance" market, a sympton of the Glamorous Sixties. It means, briefly, that some institutions which once stolidly rose with the tide now pick their waves like surf boarders.

These swinging professionals—some mutual funds particularly—know that the waves they ride might crash upon the rocks but, knowing the game, they are confident they can abandon the board before the splash.

Those who do not understand get drenched.

Driving And Drugs Can Be Lethal Combination

Alcoholic drinks have borne the brunt of the blame for accidents caused by "drunken drivers."

While it is true that alcohol is a major factor, another hazard that is growing with the public's increasing use of pills goes largely overlooked.

The concern over alcohol has overshadowed the dangers that lurk from mixing drugs with driving. This new threat to highway safety is discussed by author Evan McLeod Wylie in the new issue of Reader's Digest.

He quotes from doctors writing in the Journal of the American Medical Assn. to point out that drugs ranging from aspirin and antihistamines to tranquilizers and antibiotics may slow a driver's reaction time and impair his performance.

One drink or one type of pill may have little effect on driving ability, but a combination of two or more of these ingredients can have devastating effect, he points out.

"For example, a tranquilizing pill combined with only a slight amount of alcohol becomes a sleeping pill. Similarly, a sleeping pill of the barbiturate type can, when combined with alcohol, become a poison capable of causing dizziness, blackout, even death."

One physician asserts that one pill plus one drink may equal four drinks.

The potential effects of intermingling various drugs with alcohol are not fully predictable. Reactions may differ with different individuals. Many people innocently use several drugs at the same time. They may take a tranquilizer in the morning, swallow antihistamines or cough syrups for a cold, then top it off at night with a couple of cocktails.

Doctors, writing in the medical journal, describe such practices as "especially dangerous for motorists, because the multiple or antagonistic action of these combinations increases the difficulty of predicting the effects."

As the effects of these mixtures become better known, prescribed drugs will no doubt begin carrying labels warning of the potential hazard to driving.

In the meantime, it behooves the pill-popping generation to exercise as much caution in mixing their pills as in mixing their drinks.

As Wylie points out, the individual driver should be aware of the potential danger of certain drugs; if your doctor prescribes medicine for you, be sure to ask him whether it will affect your driving. Your life may depend on it.

De Gaulle's Anglophobe Stands On Common Market Look Odd

WASHINGTON—The constant theme of President Charles de Gaulle is that Britain must prove itself "independent" of America to be allowed into the European Common Market.

The truth is that a stronger and more united Western Europe—and therefore one more capable of independent action—is eminently welcome to the U. S.

RIGHT NOW Prime Minister Harold Wilson is making the rounds of European capitals to try to bring about such a Europe—with Britain a part of it.

The unanswered question is whether General de Gaulle will again thwart the wishes of every other western European member nation by using the French veto against Britain's entry into Europe.

It wasn't too hard for the General to do it the first time. It came suddenly in the midst of slow and uncertain negotiations. It had shock impact and de Gaulle could assure his European colleagues, even against their wishes, that he was protecting them from a Commonwealth oriented Britain in which only the Conservative Party favored the Common Market and which wasn't really adequately pro-Europe.

BUT TO DO IT a second time, three years later, and thereby to deliver a final and fateful blow to Britain's association with Europe will not be easy and de Gaulle may not find it prudent to do so.

There are reasons.

De Gaulle's attitude toward Britain has absolutely no support among the other Common Market governments.

In 1963 de Gaulle vetoed Britain without consultation with the other Europeans. He set out his thesis that Britain was not a "good European." The five other Common Market nations have examined this argument at length, have unanimously found it wanting—and are saying so.

JUST AS BRITAIN needs the competitive stimulus of the big European market, European industry urgently needs the technology which Britain can contribute. Mr. Wilson has stressed the value of "pooling technology" in order to reduce the technological gap with the U. S. and the Europeans know that this is needed.

Whether these factors will weigh appreciably with General de Gaulle is uncertain, but there is one argument which could weigh decisively.

There are, I think, few who doubt that General de Gaulle's real motive in vetoing Britain in 1963 was his hope and expectation that, with London at arm's length, France would become the unchallenged and preeminent leader of Western Europe and that European unity would emerge under French hegemony.

General de Gaulle must be quite aware that this hasn't happened and isn't going to happen. None of the European nations has accepted de Gaulle's hostility to NATO and none has followed his lead in wanting to weaken NATO. None has accepted de Gaulle's hostility to Britain and every other member wants Britain's presence in the Common Market and in the Councils of Europe.

DE GAULLE AVOWS that he wants a strong and more united Europe as the only way to get more equal alliance with the United States. Since he is not getting a united Europe under French dominance, the question General de Gaulle must now face is this: Does he prefer to have a weaker and disunited Europe by placing himself against the wishes of the other five or will he now accept Britain in order to bring about a stronger and more united Europe which he knows can't be dominated by France?

Prime Minister Wilson will have completed his trips to the Common Market capitals by late February and it should not be long afterward before General de Gaulle makes known his decision.

The second greatest source of strength of the Free World is Western Europe. Europe is going to become either more united and more independent or more disunited and therefore the prey of all the divisive forces of the cold war.

Isn't it about time that the builder and taxpayer are protected by the people we elect to office as councilmen?—the building inspectors and planning commissions?

Why are the known slide areas not marked off on the city and town maps—as such? Why are building permits not refused in these areas?

Are the permit fees of more importance? and another building on the tax list more desirable than complete honesty?

We who elect those in office, I am sure, want no part in a confidence game, and I am sure unsuspecting buyers from out of town who buy, or insure property in slide areas, feel they must have been taken! Sure we all know of the old admonition (Let the buyer beware!).

After seeing the new buildings on San Anselmo's "Red Hill' reduced to "scantlings" I am reminded of the slides on Forest Avenue in Fairfax a few years ago. The University Needs Support

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a resident of Ross and a student at the University of California, I would like to express my disappointment in those who are supposed to be acting in the interest of our education. The students at the University of California view the dismissal of President Kerr with mistrust and fear. We are afraid that the best university in the nation may be second-rate within a short time.

Already the deterioration is obvious. The principle of free education is under attack. The University budget is discussed in percentages rather than in terms of educational need. It is obvious to everyone that politics and personalities now determine university policy.

We are very much afraid that the Reagan administration has underestimated the humanistic and economic value of education in California. Because of this mistake, we have lost a great President, many good faculty members, and the respect and esteem of people around the world.

It took 20 years of dedicated service by President Kerr to build this university; it can be destroyed in 20 days. The flow of great faculty members to higher paying, freer institutions must be stopped. Clark Kerr must be reinstated; if this is not possible, at least, his fine philosophy of higher education cannot and must not be abandoned.

University Budget, Peril To Quality

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Jan. 21 on Governor Reagan's economy policy unfortunately suffered from the same lack of information which is hampering constructive discussions between our new Governor and the very conservative Board of Regents.

Fact number one is that U. C. budgets undergo a rigid "fat removal" process before they are presented to the Regents and the Legislature. This is not a new policy — it is traditional caution. At one campus with which I am familiar, the list of equipment requested each year for teaching our ever expanding classes is regularly cut in half by local administrators. Many faculty members have no office space of their own. The faculty, student ratio, and therefore the teaching load, is much worse than at comparable campuses in other states. The faculty salary scale is relatively low. These are facts, not suppositions, and they result from many years of economy budgets.

Fact number two regarding the current "reaction" to Governor Reagan's suggestions is that no large university with new and expanding campuses can recruit new faculty in a "dead serious" economy atmosphere. What out-of-state faculty recruit in his right mind would come to U. C. in the face of rumors of new economies? California has had the reputation of valuing its educational system and its children's futures ahead of tax cuts. This reputation was U.C.'s greatest asset. Unfortunately, this fragile and intangilbe reputation can be easily destroyed by even imagined threats. When coupled with persistent campaign attacks and the firing of President Clark Kerr, the Governor's "fat cutting" requests take on considerable importance for U. C., way beyond the effects of a single fiscal year.

I hope these facts will make the reactions of educators a little more comprehensible to you and I-J readers. As a taxpayer, I can well understand your and Governor Reagan's impatience with "fat" budgets. As a parent, however, I would prefer a tax increase to a long, painful decline of the University.

BANK OBJECTS TO ILLEGAL "BORROWING"

An Iowa bank chose a novel way to admonish a thief recently. It ran a newspaper ad directed to a "man in a straw hat" who took $1,500 from the bank's savings and service center. The ad said, "You forgot to sign a note."

The man in the straw hat not only "forgot" to sign a note, but he took the money after pointing a gun at the teller and saying: "This is a stick-up."

The ad explained that the bank felt that this was an abuse of their open-door policy.

"You have no need to use a gun to get a loan from us," the ad said. "As much as we're flattered by your choice (of banks) . . . we must insist that you not get the idea that we will condone this type of borrowing again."

Enduring a loss with good grace is no substitute for adequate prevention. But life has setbacks aplenty for most of us. So it makes sense for our own peace of mind to avoid "crying over spilt milk" and resolving with God's help to do better next time.

"He will faithfully bring forth justice. He will not fail or be discouraged."

Reagan Plans To Get Rid Of Old Gubernatorial Plane 'Grizzly'

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Announcement by Philip M. Battaglia, executive secretary to Gov. Ronald Reagan, that the state will sell the gubernatorial airplane known as "Grizzly II" marks almost the end of an era in the comings and goings of California governors.

The first "Grizzly" was an old army plane. The federal government made such planes available to the states following World War II, and California fell heir to the DC-3. Its name was given to it by former Gov. Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

IT WAS MAINTAINED and manned by the California National Guard, and was available to transport the Governor and his staff to any points in California where it could land.

The same plane was used by former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, and then by former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who was the first chief executive to put it to extensive use.

The old plane soon proved inadequate for the comings and goings of Brown. Faster transportation was desired as the jet age approached, and a deal was effected with Arthur Godfrey of television note, whereby the state purchased the private plane he used.

THIS WAS "the new" Grizzly. It had 19 seats, but seldom, unless newsmen were aboard, was the plane filled to capacity. It was used so much by Brown that it became known as his "second home."

Now there is an end to the "Grizzly" era, and Governor Reagan intends, said Battaglia, to travel both by commercial airline and by chartered jet when necessary.

THE NEW administration claims the "Grizzly" hauled an average of less than five passengers per trip, and that the cost of operating the plane, which is estimated at $2.25 per mile, was an obvious waste of the taxpayers' money.

He also says chartering a six passenger jet for the governor's use will save about $127,385 per year for the taxpayers, in addition to providing greatly reduced flying time for the governor. The jets travel at 480 miles per hour, compared to 265 for the Grizzly.

IN THE INTERESTS of time alone, travel by air for any governor of California is virtually a must. And the faster the plane travels, the more time is available for utilization by the governor. The Grizzly is something of a relic when the progress of aviation is considered. It is 15 years old.

Traveling by commercial flight and by chartered plane may provide a few inconveniences. It might almost be compared to traveling by bus rather than by private automobile. But if the savings effected in this manner add up to $127,000 a year, the administration feels the minor inconveniences are worth it to the taxpayers, albeit the amount involved is small in comparison with the total state expenditures.

IN ANY EVENT, California's chief executive will be traveling like other citizens with avoidance of fanfare, folderol, and extra high expenses.

New Brainwashing For Captive Pilots

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Captured U.S. pilots are undergoing an insidious new type of brainwashing.

Published reports about U.S. bombings by American writers permitted to visit North Vietnam are being used to exert pressure on U.S. prisoners to "confess" that they bombed civilians.

The pilots, none of whom has so far succumbed to the Communists' brainwashing efforts, are being forced to attend daily "lectures" and "educational" sessions to "discuss" the articles and their roles in bombing raids.

IN SEVERAL INSTANCES where the American prisoners flatly refused to take part in these "discussions" or were inattentive at "lectures," they were placed in solitary confinement.

Other pilots who denounced the published accounts as Communist propaganda were told they could be tried as "war criminals" if they didn't take a "more enlightened" attitude.

Information smuggled from a prisoner of war camp in the Hanoi area, including firsthand accounts of the treatment of captured fliers, makes clear that they are conducting themselves with extraordinary courage and fortitude.

Of the more than 50 Air Force and Navy pilots in this compound, some of them prisoners for more than a year, not one has yielded to Communist pressure to "confess" or deliver a propaganda broadcast for Hanoi.

ALSO AS PART of these brainwashing measures, the Communists are subjecting the U.S. prisoners to newsreels of anti-Vietnam demonstrations in U.S. cities and on college campuses.

Still another aspect of this persistent pressuring is lectures by Soviet bloc "correspondents" in Hanoi. Invariably, the theme of their propaganda line is the "hopelessness of the U.S. effort to win in Vietnam," coupled with broad intimations that the U.S. has "abandoned" the pilots and is doing nothing to secure their liberation.

On the world stage—Hanoi is intensifying its propaganda activities.

Latest maneuver is the production of a number of so-called documentary films, all designed to excoriate U.S. bombing in North Vietnam supplied free to any group that will display them.

One of these, broadcast Jan. 7 on the United Arab Republic television network, made much of American writers reporting on the alleged bombing of civilians in North Vietnam.

THE NASSER government, which has received hundreds of millions of dollars of surplus food from the U.S., flatly refused to use Vietnam policy material offered by the U.S. embassy in Cairo.

The next move is now up to Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., in the Ethics Committee's investigation of his political finances.

The committee has decided to probe his contributions and what he did with them, and the question is whether Dodd will resort to the court to block that.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

BANK OBJECTS TO ILLEGAL "BORROWING"

An Iowa bank chose a novel way to admonish a thief recently. It ran a newspaper ad directed to a "man in a straw hat" who took $1,500 from the bank's savings and service center. The ad said, "You forgot to sign a note."

The man in the straw hat not only "forgot" to sign a note, but he took the money after pointing a gun at the teller and saying: "This is a stick-up."

The ad explained that the bank felt that this was an abuse of their open-door policy.

"You have no need to use a gun to get a loan from us," the ad said. "As much as we're flattered by your choice (of banks) . . . we must insist that you not get the idea that we will condone this type of borrowing again."

Enduring a loss with good grace is no substitute for adequate prevention. But life has setbacks aplenty for most of us. So it makes sense for our own peace of mind to avoid "crying over spilt milk" and resolving with God's help to do better next time.

"He will faithfully bring forth justice. He will not fail or be discouraged."

Reagan Plans To Get Rid Of Old Gubernatorial Plane 'Grizzly'

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Announcement by Philip M. Battaglia, executive secretary to Gov. Ronald Reagan, that the state will sell the gubernatorial airplane known as "Grizzly II" marks almost the end of an era in the comings and goings of California governors.

The first "Grizzly" was an old army plane. The federal government made such planes available to the states following World War II, and California fell heir to the DC-3. Its name was given to it by former Gov. Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

IT WAS MAINTAINED and manned by the California National Guard, and was available to transport the Governor and his staff to any points in California where it could land.

The same plane was used by former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, and then by former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who was the first chief executive to put it to extensive use.

The old plane soon proved inadequate for the comings and goings of Brown. Faster transportation was desired as the jet age approached, and a deal was effected with Arthur Godfrey of television note, whereby the state purchased the private plane he used.

THIS WAS "the new" Grizzly. It had 19 seats, but seldom, unless newsmen were aboard, was the plane filled to capacity. It was used so much by Brown that it became known as his "second home."

Now there is an end to the "Grizzly" era, and Governor Reagan intends, said Battaglia, to travel both by commercial airline and by chartered jet when necessary.

THE NEW administration claims the "Grizzly" hauled an average of less than five passengers per trip, and that the cost of operating the plane, which is estimated at $2.25 per mile, was an obvious waste of the taxpayers' money.

He also says chartering a six passenger jet for the governor's use will save about $127,385 per year for the taxpayers, in addition to providing greatly reduced flying time for the governor. The jets travel at 480 miles per hour, compared to 265 for the Grizzly.

IN THE INTERESTS of time alone, travel by air for any governor of California is virtually a must. And the faster the plane travels, the more time is available for utilization by the governor. The Grizzly is something of a relic when the progress of aviation is considered. It is 15 years old.

Traveling by commercial flight and by chartered plane may provide a few inconveniences. It might almost be compared to traveling by bus rather than by private automobile. But if the savings effected in this manner add up to $127,000 a year, the administration feels the minor inconveniences are worth it to the taxpayers, albeit the amount involved is small in comparison with the total state expenditures.

IN ANY EVENT, California's chief executive will be traveling like other citizens with avoidance of fanfare, folderol, and extra high expenses.

TRY AND STOP ME

IN RODDY McDowall's extraordinary book of photographs of celebrities, "Double Exposure" (with accompanying texts by equally famous VIP's), George Axelrod tells how one rehearsal for a TV show with Boris Karloff changed all his preconceived notions of the true personality of this greatest of all portrayers of monsters and homicidal maniacs. Mr. Karloff frightened the life out of even hardened technicians on the set, waited for the director to announce, "That's all for the day," took a deep breath, smiled wistfully, and inquired of everybody present, "Isn't it extraordinary, what a middle-aged English gentleman will do for money?"

AN INTREPID and conscientious cop down New Mexico way hauled one of those topless dancers into court recently and charged her with indecent exposure. "Did you personally observe the young lady perpetrating this dastardly deed?" inquired His Honor. "I certainly did," maintained the cop. "And how long did you observe her?" His Honor wanted to know. "Two hours and fourteen minutes," answered the cop.

New Brainwashing For Captive Pilots

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Captured U.S. pilots are undergoing an insidious new type of brainwashing.

Published reports about U.S. bombings by American writers permitted to visit North Vietnam are being used to exert pressure on U.S. prisoners to "confess" that they bombed civilians.

The pilots, none of whom has so far succumbed to the Communists' brainwashing efforts, are being forced to attend daily "lectures" and "educational" sessions to "discuss" the articles and their roles in bombing raids.

IN SEVERAL INSTANCES where the American prisoners flatly refused to take part in these "discussions" or were inattentive at "lectures," they were placed in solitary confinement.

Other pilots who denounced the published accounts as Communist propaganda were told they could be tried as "war criminals" if they didn't take a "more enlightened" attitude.

Information smuggled from a prisoner of war camp in the Hanoi area, including first-hand accounts of the treatment of captured fliers, makes clear that they are conducting themselves with extraordinary courage and fortitude.

Of the more than 50 Air Force and Navy pilots in this compound, some of them prisoners for more than a year, not one has yielded to Communist pressure to "confess" or deliver a propaganda broadcast for Hanoi.

ALSO AS PART of these brainwashing measures, the Communists are subjecting the U.S. prisoners to newsreels of anti-Vietnam demonstrations in U.S. cities and on college campuses.

Still another aspect of this persistent pressuring is lectures by Soviet bloc "correspondents" in Hanoi. Invariably, the theme of their propaganda line is the "hopelessness of the U.S. effort to win in Vietnam," coupled with broad intimations that the U.S. has "abandoned" the pilots and is doing nothing to secure their liberation.

On the world stage—Hanoi is intensifying its propaganda activities.

Latest maneuver is the production of a number of so-called documentary films, all designed to excoriate U.S. bombing in North Vietnam supplied free to any group that will display them.

One of these, broadcast Jan. 7 on the United Arab Republic television network, made much of American writers reporting on the alleged bombing of civilians in North Vietnam.

THE NASSER government, which has received hundreds of millions of dollars of surplus food from the U.S., flatly refused to use Vietnam policy material offered by the U.S. embassy in Cairo.

The next move is now up to Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., in the Ethics Committee's investigation of his political finances.

The committee has decided to probe his contributions and what he did with them, and the question is whether Dodd will resort to the court to block that.

The Excitement Of Journalism: Catching Up On A Meeting. . .

Reporters have notoriously exciting jobs. The drama and suspense we live with daily was typified for me last week in the challenge of getting a report on a meeting of the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission.

MY APPROACH to in-depth, investigative reporting as it pertains to the recreation commission usually consists of a phone call to Recreation Director Andrew J. Snyder Jr. at the recreation office the days before and after each meeting.

Last week's tense drama began when Snyder's secretary told me he'd gone to the dentist and wouldn't be back until noon—deadline!

So I called the home of commission Chairman Paul Brand, and his wife told me he was giving a lecture on evolution at one of the local schools..

I called Commissioner Mrs. Brooks Pringle, and she told me politely that her son was sick, she was fixing his breakfast and would not have time to talk to me.

I called the home of Commissioner N. M. Murray Jr., and the line was busy, but I learned later that Murray was seriously ill and wasn't at the meeting anyway.

FINALLY I called Commissioner Walter J. Anderson's home. His wife gave me his office number at Hamilton Air Force Base and, lo, and behold! He was there.

But he had never been asked to report on a meeting before and was vague on some of the details, so I called the Recreation Department office back, hoping perhaps the secretary could find the missing details in the minutes of the meeting.

And Snyder answered the phone.

ANOTHER THING we reporters do is concern ourselves with cultural phenomena of the community. In that regard, I was thinking this week, as a box boy loaded sacks and sacks of groceries and a 25-pound box of dog food into my car, that tipping is a pretty arbitrary habit.

About the only place I tip regularly, when I remember, is in a restaurant. But box boys do a lot more than waitresses, and so does the service station attendant who, when I go into the station to buy 50 cents' worth of gas, washes the windows of my car, checks the water and oil and power steering fluid and transmission fluid and the air in my tires.

There are clerks in some stores I would be happy to tip if they would just leave me alone and let me look. The clerk who says: "No, that dress looks ridiculous on you" deserves a very large, grateful tip.

So, in the interests of justice, I guess I will quit tipping waitresses.

I RAN INTO an odd problem of tipping one Saturday when I was sent to cover a lunucheon meeting at a Sausalito restaurant. They called it tipping, but actually it was a mandatory 50-cent charge for parking your car, and you did not have the option of parking the car yourself. I did not have 50 cents. Nor did I have any blank checks, or a driver's license, or money in the bank.

Luckily, there was a public relations man there who seemed accustomed to solving such problems for reporters. Considering what my car looked like, I think the restaurant would, in the end, have given it back to me just to get it off their lot.

Easy-Going California Now Is Place That's Really Swinging

When I migrated to California from New York shortly before World War II, the Golden State was still a peaceful, sunny Arcadia made up of Los Angeles in the south, San Francisco in the north, and thousands of fragrant orange groves in between.

A DOLLAR HERE brought more in food, light and housing than $3 in Manhattan. The buildings were low-rise, and daylight gave you the welcome sight of Old Sol just as night gave you the millions of stars. The natives were friendly and, though almost everybody owned a car, nobody was ever in a rush and pedestrians were cheerfully granted the right-of-way.

But look at it now! From an easy-going, one-hoss Arcadia this has become—for better or for worse—the state where the action is. We really swing here, and I don't mean from a hammock between two trees.

We count that day lost which produces no demonstration — but such a day is as rare as one when the smog doesn't eclipse the sun. If you have no particular cause to march for, you can still demonstrate and make up a cause as you go along.

LIKE THE REST of the country, we have had something of a crime wave, but we handle such matters better. In other states, citizens usually ask for—demand is the better word—more police protection. But not here.

Thus, two policemen saw a man strolling the streets of Pasadena at 2 a.m. and, not unnaturally, asked whither he was bound and for some identification. We are used to that sort of thing in Beverly Hills, where some benighted souls even take pride in the fact that our unprogressive community has few robberies.

But this Pasadenan was made of sterner stuff. A member of the American Civil Liberties Union, he'd be danged if his God-given perambulatory rights were going to be questioned by some nasty old snoopers.

"I'M AN HONEST American citizen," he said—as indeed he was—"and I'm going to walk where I please at any time without answering any fool questions." And the Gestapo backed off. As a result, our hero got his picture in the paper and may wind up as Man of the Year. Except for the time of the occurrence, he might have been able to start a demonstration. The rebel had found his Cause.

I don't know what will happen to the cops, but an honest review board would probably have stripped them of their uniforms for their brutal invasion of his rights. Come to think of it, what were they doing out at that time of night?

Alas, not all our rebels have fared as well. We have another Dreyfus case in Mario Savio, who led the Free Speech Movement at Berkeley when an apartheid ruling limited the acreage of student and non-student activity and reserved some space for university matters.

Savio, currently working his way to a non-student degree by acting as bartender in his spare time—i.e., when not demonstrating — has, through some miscarriage of justice, finally been found guilty of being a nuisance in that famous protest. He is due for sentencing about the time this column appears, but the case will be appealed in the hope that the decision will be reversed by some non-judicial judges.

AT THE MOMENT, of course, the University, like some of the more interesting demonstrations it has hosted, is topless, since President Clark Kerr has just been ousted by the regents.

This action, many proclaim, spells the death of higher education in California, since every liberal professor will immediately flee the state. Such a course, however, would clog all our freeways, which are crowded now, and only goodness knows what the slaughter would be. Besides, I read that almost every Eastern university has many more qualified applicants for posts than it can fill.

The solution, I suggest, is to open a non-university where these professors may continue to teach non-students like Savio under now non-President Kerr. Here they can continue to stress non-discipline, non-resistance to Viet Cong aggression, and non-alienable rights accompanied by non-responsibility. And, in case of trouble, call in some non-cops.

I HAVE the name for the institution, too. How about Non-Sense U.?

Flood Control Action Sought

Twenty-five residents of Novato have petitioned for remedial action on flooding, sending their plea to both the Novato City Council and the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The signers, mostly on Arbor Circle, include Mrs. Louise Anderson, daughter of Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

The petition suggests widening of the creek which crosses Wilson Avenue and bends behind the Novato Presbyterian Church, widening of bridges and realignment where necessary.

Sailboat Strays

An eight-foot sailboat, belonging to James M. Denning of 4 Portofino Road, San Rafael, and used by his son, David 18, apparently broke loose from its mooring behind their home on San Rafael Creek during the weekend storm and drifted away, they told police.

School Workers Ask Pay Boost

A 5 per cent salary increase was requested Tuesday night for the 40 non-teaching employees of Mill Valley School District at a meeting of the salary study committee, Asst. Supt. Leo B. Edson reported.

The Mill Valley chapter of California School Employees Assn. also asked for a fourth week of vacation after 10 years of employment. The present maximum is three weeks after five years.

Edson said the committee will review the requests at its next meeting, Feb. 14 at 8 p.m. in the district office, 26 Miller Avenue.

Church Leader Urges Action On Causes

CLAREMONT (AP) — Christian churches should increase their support for ministry says the new president of the Southern California Council of Churches.

Dr. Carroll L. Shuster, speaking yesterday to a group of 350 ministers, urged strengthening the council as a vehicle of ecumenical action.

"I would rather see this council die standing for what is right than live standing for nothing," Shuster said.

He said an urban department within the council should be created to carry on the emergency work of the Commission on Church and Race, and to include both Protestant and Orthodox churches.

Shuster, a Presbyterian leader, also called on the council to give higher priority to the search for peace.

Even though the issue is unpopular, he said, "we dare not remain silent much longer."

Marinite Back On Viet Duty

Sp4 James Davis was wounded recently in action in Vietnam, but has returned to front line duty after treatment, his mother, Bernice Davis of San Rafael, has been informed by the American Red Cross.

Davis, 19, was shot in one arm and a thigh while driving troops and ammunition into action about 35 miles southeast of Saigon, it was reported.

Davis has been in Vietnam for about a month and has 11 more to go according to his mother, who lives at 39 Latham Street. Before serving in Vietnam with the engineer company of an infantry battalion, he was attached to an armored division in Germany.

Marinite On Special U.N. Tour To India

Louis F. Czufin of Sleepy Hollow, manager of advertising and public relations for the Chevron Chemical Co., San Francisco, is in India with a United Nations mission advising the government on increasing exports.

He is helping to identify Indian products with export potential, and recommending promotional methods.

Czufin, on leave from Chevron, departed for India Jan. 15. He expects to return late next month.

He lives at 35 Green Valley Court.

Church Leader Urges Action On Causes

CLAREMONT (AP) — Christian churches should increase their support for ministry says the new president of the Southern California Council of Churches.

Dr. Carroll L. Shuster, speaking yesterday to a group of 350 ministers, urged strengthening the council as a vehicle of ecumenical action.

"I would rather see this council die standing for what is right than live standing for nothing," Shuster said.

He said an urban department within the council should be created to carry on the emergency work of the Commission on Church and Race, and to include both Protestant and Orthodox churches.

Shuster, a Presbyterian leader, also called on the council to give higher priority to the search for peace.

Even though the issue is unpopular, he said, "we dare not remain silent much longer."

Marinite Back On Viet Duty

Sp4 James Davis was wounded recently in action in Vietnam, but has returned to front line duty after treatment, his mother, Bernice Davis of San Rafael, has been informed by the American Red Cross.

Davis, 19, was shot in one arm and a thigh while driving troops and ammunition into action about 35 miles southeast of Saigon, it was reported.

Davis has been in Vietnam for about a month and has 11 more to go according to his mother, who lives at 39 Latham Street. Before serving in Vietnam with the engineer company of an infantry battalion, he was attached to an armored division in Germany.
